REFORM HELD IMPERATIVE

Assess Procedure Overhaul Is Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Equalization today called for an overhaul of assessment procedures and said the assessors scandal makes reform imperative.

Some 15 suggestions on property tax legislation were sent to lawmakers. It followed the indictments of San Francisco's and Alameda Countys' assessors after investigations of their offices.

The board said enforcement agencies should inspect property tax records and county supervisors should receive Board of Equalization appraisals for comparisons of their county's assessments.

The board also suggested a law requiring county assessors to furnish each property owner with both the assessed and appraised market value of his property.

"The 15 suggestions we sent to the legislature and the governor are intended solely to obtain equality in property administration—a goal impossible to attain under present laws," said John W. Lynch, board chairman.

The board said "Events of the past nine months demonstrate an increasing need for changes in this important component of the state's revenue system ... The recent disclosure of irregularities in the offices of one or more assessors added to the sense of urgency that had already attached to the property tax 'reform' movement."

Pope Paul Says Peace Vital To The Survival Of Mankind

Talks To U.N., Sees LBJ, Visits Church

By LOUIS CASSELS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pope Paul VI, speaking to the United Nations General Assembly in the name of "all mankind," solemnly warned today that peace is no longer merely desirable but an indispensable condition of human survival.

In an unprecedented appearance before the parliament of nations, the gentle-voiced, sad-eyed pontiff made his own the words of the late President John F. Kennedy:

"Mankind must put an end to war, or war will put an end to mankind."

MESSAGE FOR ALL

The Pope, who arrived here earlier today on the first papal visit to America, told the world's statesmen that he came before them as "bearer of a message for all mankind."

"The peoples of the earth turn to the United Nations as the last hope of concord and peace," he said.

FULL OF WONDERS

The Pope expressed his delight at being in America, which he described as "a country so free, so strong, so industrious, so full of wonders."

Crowds officially estimated at more than 1 million persons gave the Pope a warm but orderly welcome when he drove through the city on a 24-mile motorcade following his 9:25 a.m. EDT arrival at Kennedy Airport.

An even larger turnout had been expected, but New Yorkers apparently heeded the repeated pleas of Police Commissioner Vincent Broderick to stay home and watch the motorcade on television.

BY JETLINER

The 68-year-old pontiff arrived at Kennedy International Airport aboard a DC8 jetliner at 9:25 a.m. EDT after a 4,335 mile flight from Rome that broke all records for papal voyages. Smiling shyly and waving his hand almost continually in gesture of benediction, he rode in a 24-mile motorcade through this melting-pot city of many races and creeds —a city which has more Catholics than Rome, more Jews than Jerusalem, more Greeks than Athens, more Irish than Dublin.

Police estimated that 630,000 people saw the Pope during the initial stage of the motorcade,

Russia Launches Lunar Station

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched a space rocket containing an automatic station toward the moon, a broadcast Tass dispatch said today.

The probe was designated as Luna 7. Tass said the launching was by a multistage rocket.

Tass said the station weighs 1,506 kilograms 3,313 pounds.

"The final stage had been put in advance on an intermediary orbit of a satellite of the earth and then in accordance with a present program put the automatic station into the trajectory of its movement toward the moon," Tass said.

Tass said the last stage of the rocket was put into a parking satellite orbit and then the automatic station was launched toward the moon.

"The automatic station Luna 7 is moving on a trajectory which is close to the prescribed one," Tass said.

The automatic station was equipped with telemetering, measuring and other scientific instruments.

The term automatic space station normally means the device is unmanned. It was expected the Russians again would try to make a soft landing on the moon with the station in a trial run for a manned moon flight.

It was the third Soviet moon shot this year. The other two were launched in the same way.

There was no immediate mention in the Tass account of an attempt for a soft lunar landing. The Russians apparently decided after Luna 5 crashed on the moon May 12 not to again announce in advance that a soft landing would be tried.

Luna 6 missed the moon in June.

If all goes well, Luna 7 would be expected to reach the moon Thursday night.

Reference to the satellite's trajectory being close to the prescribed one hinted that the space station may be slightly off course.

Builder Wins Approval— Or Does He?

By RICHARD LYTTLE

A triangular, half-acre parcel of land on Tiburon Boulevard, which the Marin County Planning Commission agreed was "tortured," went through further tortures before the commission today.

Developer L. B. Fleishman asked approval for three town houses and a duplex on the land, a total of five dwelling units, between Bay View Heights and Bel Aire Estates.

After one split vote and considerable discussion the commission approved four rather than five units, with condition that Fleishman negotiate with the Richardson Bay Sanitary District to see if egress could be combined with the access to an adjacent sewage pumping station.

The planning staff revealed during the discussion that the district has no use permit for its pumping station. The commission asked an investigation.

Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. moved that the permit be granted for four units with both access and egress onto Tiburon Boulevard. But only Commissioner Harry H. Heifetz joined in favoring this.

Commissioner Margaret Azevedo moved that the four units be approved with access through an easement at the rear of the property from Rancho Road and egress on the combined easement onto Tiburon Boulevard.

"Why put the applicant through added torture?" Fleishman asked. He said he planned to negotiate anyway with the district for the easement and the additional parking space, but he thought the commission action was putting him in the position of "errand boy."

When Fleishman asked for a full explanation of what was expected after Mrs. Azevedo's motion had passed, Wesley Wilkes of the planning staff told him the matter had been continued.

The commissioners corrected him saying they had voted approval of four units. However, plan for the four units was not before the commission. Fleishpan's plan showed five.

Red Grab For Power Feared In Indonesia

JAKARTA (UPI)—The powerful Indonesian Communist party was reported arming some of its three million members today, giving rise to fears of a guerrilla-type war against President Sukarno. Army troops loyal to Sukarno clamped a tight curfew on Jakarta.

("A major showdown between the army and the Communist is imminent," Radio Malaysia said in a broadcast heard in Singapore. The Malaysian radio, quoting reports from Jakarta, said there was fighting today in the Indonesian countryside.

("The army is said to be very angry over the brutal killing of several generals and determined for revenge," the Malaysian broadcast said. It reported that leaders of the Indonesian Communist party had gone underground.)

There has been no official report on casualties since the revolt erupted last Thursday.

A Jakarta radio broadcast monitored in Tokyo reported the bodies of six generals were found in an area of the capital city of Indonesia after loyal forces "silenced" the counter-revolutionaries.

The broadcast identified the generals as Pandjaitan, Sutojo, Janix, Harjoino, Parman and Suprapto. It gave no other details.)

Lt. Col. Untung, the pro-Communiss mastermind of last Thursday's anti-Sukarno rebellion, was reported by reliable sources to have fled Jakarta Saturday just hours after his attempt failed. Untung was said to be in central Java where pockets of his supporters were said to be assembling.

Sukarno went on the radio early today for a second time since the turmoil started to "remove uncertainties about his condition."

"I am well and safe and remain firmly in charge of the state and the leadership of the armed forces," Sukarno said. He said he had appointed Maj. Gen. Suharto "to restore security and order."

Troops and tanks patrolled the streets of a tense Jakarta and enforced a dusk to dawn curfew. Soldiers searched cars and passengers for the first time and issued a call to all civilians to turn in weapons.

Aquanaut Is Stung By Scorpion Fish

LA JOLLA (UPI)— Aquanaut Rick Grigg was recovering from severe scorpian fish stings today as America's 45-day "man-in-the sea" experiment, Sealab 2, entered its final week.

Medical officer Dr. George Bond said Grigg, who was stung three times on the hand and once on the foot while diving for biological samples yesterday appeared to be in satisfactory condition this morning.

Grand Jury Gets Report On Slaying

Marin County Grand Jury in special session today was hearing testimony in the holdup-killing last Labor Day at Mission Inn in San Rafael for possible murder indictments against two suspects.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales declined to say if he would also seek other indictments in the case in which Bartender Mario Ferrari died of gunshot wounds in the back.

Bales, who last Thursday filed murder charges against Jack R. Gorman, 36, and Marc Charles Osuna, 30, both now in San Quentin Prison as parole violators, is asking for murder indictments against the pair.

He said indictments will make possible the going to trial without revealing testimony in any preliminary hearing, a procedure which would be necessary on the earlier complaints, alone.

Thieves Loot Burned Shop

A San Rafael beauty shop closed by fire two weeks ago has been looted by thieves, police reported today.

Fawn Beauty Salon at 934 B Street was broken into sometime between Sept. 28 and yesterday by looters who pried away a board which had served to block the rear door since the Sept. 17 fire.

An undetermined amount of beauty preparations were stolen or thrown to the floor. Police said the entire shop was littered with debris.

No Berlin Passes

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany cut off special wall passes for West Berliners today. A West Berlin spokesman said the Reds also apparently had turned down an invitation to hold further talks on the issue of an extension to a now-lapsed general pass agreement.

Governor Arranges Briefing For Casady

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today he had arranged for Simon Casady, president of the California Democratic Council (CDC), to be briefed in Washington on the Viet Nam War siuation.

The Democratic governor, who had called for Casady's resignation as head of the volunteer Democratic group, made the announcement at a news conference.

"The State Department will tell him exactly why we're in Viet Nam," the governor said.

The governor sought Casady's resignation from the CDC post for speeches in which he criticized the President's tough policy in Viet Nam.

Brown told newsmen that he failed to convince Casady to resign at a Los Angeles meeting last week. "We simply disagree," Brown said.

Other comments at the governor's first Sacramento news conference since Sept. 7:

WATTS: He said that the McCone Commission hoped to meet a Jan. 1 target date on its report on the August riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles. He announced that the Ford Foundation had granted the commission $150,000 to meet part of the costs of its probe.

CONGRESS: The governor said he hoped to make an announcement Wednesday on an election to fill the 26th Congressional seat vacated by Rep. James Roosevelt, who resigned to accept a United Nations post. But he said he wanted state Sen. Thomas M. Rees, D-Los Angeles, to stay in his present position until after the 1966 budget session. Rees has announced his candidacy for the congressional post.

NIXON: He characterized a statement by former vice president Richard M. Nixon that left wing extremists were within the "fabric" of the Democratic party as "the same old song that he's been talking about during every Democratic administration." He called it "pure, unadulterated political propaganda."

POLITICS: The governor skirted a question on his own plans for a third term by saying it was "very interesting" to get advice from Republicans. Assemblyman William Bagley, R-San Rafael, said last week that Brown would not bid for another term.

Boy's Problem Is Caterpillars

Caterpillars can be a problem for a boy.

Yesterday afternoon, George S. Stroud, 10, was running to see if some caterpillars in his classroom at Mill Valley's Old Mill School had hatched yet. He tripped, his head striking and breaking a window.

Firemen gave George first aid and police took him to Marin General Hospital, where he was treated for a head cut. The boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Stroud of 1 Lincoln Avenue, Mill Valley.

The caterpillars still had not hatched today.

Eagle Shooting Trial On Nov. 8

Trial of rancher Leroy Martinelli of Point Reyes Station on charges of illegally shooting two eagles is scheduled for Nov. 8 in U.S. District Court, San Francisco.

Originally the trial was set for April 26 but attorney A. E. Bagshaw, reprsenting Martinelli, and Assist. U.S. Atty. Gerrold Lader asked for a postponement. The new date was set in court today.

Martinelli allegedly shot and killed two eagles in January. He claimed three of the birds killed seven of his lambs.

What surely must be the biggest and most beautiful Douglas fir in captivity zoops up and up and UP through both decks of an artfully remodeled house on a Fairfax hillside. Not for the kiddies, it's a 2-bedroom delight with lots of sliding glass doors, gorgeous view, luscious garden. Down the hill a ways, and included in the 5-lot parcel, is an equally attractive one-bedroom house which is always rented at a tidy sum. $36,900; Al Ripp, 924-2674, is the one to call evenings.

Castro 'Explains' Guevara

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro says Ernesto Guevara, one of the key leaders of his revolution, finished his work in Cuba six months ago and moved on to revolutionary activity elsewhere.

Castro

Castro talked about his former close associate in a speecch to a rally last night. He did not say where Guevara, a native of Argentina, had gone or where he was now.

Guevara's Cuban wife was in the audience, dressed in black. The crowd gave her an ovation when she entered. She appeared near tears.

Guevara had been minister of industries and in the first years of the revolution dominated the Cuban economy. He disappeared last spring, and since then there have been numerous conflicting rumors about his whereabouts.

Guevara

Castro read a letter which he said Guevara gave him April 1. It said "other lands in the world" needed his services.

"I have fulfilled the part of my duty that bound me to the revolution in your territory," the letter said.

"I formally resign from my post as major (the highest rank in the Cuban Army), as minister of industries, and my status as a Cuban (he was proclaimed a native Cuban citizens in 1959).

"My only mistake of any seriousness," the letter continued, "was not to have confided more in you since the first months of the Sierra Maestra (where Castro's revolution started), and not having sufficiently understood your qualities as director and as revolutionary."

There was no explanation of this apparent reference to differences between the two men. The letter added without explanation: "I liberate Cuba from any responsibility."

Castro said he was "confident this explains everything" about Guevara, 37.

LBJ Makes Offer To Castro's Cubans

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson set the gears of government and diplomacy in motion today to offer America's refuge to Cubans who seek to leave the Communist island of Fidel Castro.

"I declare to the people of Cuba that those who seek refuge here in America will find it," Johnson said yesterday in a wind-swept bill-signing ceremony at the Statue of Liberty.

"The dedication of America to our traditions as an asylum for the oppressed is going to be upheld."

Johnson thus took up the challenge posed by Castro's offer to let those of his people who wish leave their homeland and go to America.

But just hours after Johnson spoke, Castro laid down a new challenge in a Havana speech, telling the U.S. President to also open the doors to permit Americans to travel to Cuba if they wish.

"Let the United States permit any citizen to come freely to Cuba," Castro shouted to a cheering audience. "Let them permit any citizen to come freely to Cuba. . ."

Travel of Americans to Cuba and other Communist countries now is restricted by the State Department.

Of Johnson's proposal to permit Cubans to come to America, U.S. government sources believe 50,000 to 75,000 Cubans might seize the opportunity to leave their homeland and take up refuge in the United States.

Johnson stood at one historic port of entry — choppy, white-capped New York harbor — to open the gates of another, Miami. He said the Florida city will be "a temporary stopping place for refugees as they resettle in other parts of this country."

Johnson's dramatic announcement overshadowed his major mission on Liberty Island, the ceremony in which he signed a new immigration bill into law. It will erase the system of immigration quotas based on national origin. Johnson called the old system un-American.

Scores of government officials and hundreds of sight-seeing tourists thronged Liberty Island as Johnson signed the measure and passed out souvenir pens. Before the crush of pen-seekers was over, he passed out three cartons full, perhaps 300 pens.

Johnson said first priority in immigration to the United States will go to Cuban refugees who have relatives here, and to political prisoners.

State Department sources estimated 30,000 to 50,000 Cubans may be in those categories.

Reds Step Up Viet Warfare

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Fierce fighting broke out today between a Vietnamese army battalion and a strong Viet Cong force in Binh Dinh province, 275 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman said the battle was still raging late today. Government losses were described as heavy.

The Vietnamese battalion was protecting an engineer battalion rebuilding a bridge which had been destroyed in heavy fighting near Phu Cu last week.

A relief force was dispatched but it reportedly made little contact with the enemy.

U.S. casualties in the action were described as light. All were advisers with the Vietnamese units.

South of the Da Nang Air Base, an estimated 150 to 200 Viet Cong ambushed a U.S. Marine patrol of 13 men and killed or wounded 10 of them Sunday. Reinforcements sent to aid them also suffered some casualties, a Marine spokesman said.

Viet Cong guerrillas popped out of deep tunnels "like rats from holes," a military spokesman reported.

Three companies of Marines, backed by mobile artillery, swept the rice paddies and sugar cane fields 5 miles south of Da Nang but could not find the enemy force.

A U.S. Air Force A1E Skyraider crashed today near Tay Ninh, 60 miles north of Saigon, killing the pilot. The plane was on an escort mission, but the cause of the crash was not known. The pilot's body was recovered.

Glass Shatters And Two Land In County Jail

Two Stinson Beach men are scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow on charges arising from a glass-throwing spree at Elwood's Rest, Calle Del Arroyo and Shoreline Highway, Stinson Beach, Friday night.

Robert F. Owens, 28, faces charges of disturbing the peace and malicious mischief, and Robert D. Patterson, 21, faces charges of vagrancy and resisting a police officer in the discharge of his duties.

William Hall complained to sheriff's deputies that Owens threw a glass at him, and broke 21 glasses and a bottle of Scotch.

Hall said Owens also kicked in a glass panel in the front door after he was evicted from the premises.

Deputies reported Patterson interfered during the arrest of Owens.

Owens was released under $276 bail and Patterson, under $550 bail.

Driving Class Set

The second session of driver education in the San Rafael Adult Evening Program will begin Oct. 18 at San Rafael High School. Registration may be accomplished by sending a check for $22 to the district office, Box 390, San Rafael.

Legislature Starts Third Week; The Scorecard Is Still Blank

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature began the third week of a special session today with its scorecard still blank. But the lack of action doesn't worry the Brown administration yet.

There were signs of progress in the Assembly, but none in a Senate still bitter about court decisions that will give control of the rural-dominated house to populous Southern California.

Senate unhappiness even has threatened the expected smooth path of a resolution ratifying a U.S. constitutional amendment spelling out presidential succession.

Senate President Pro Tem Hugh Burns, D-Fresno, indicated senators might balk at voting for ratification if the U.S. Senate continues to hold up a proposal permitting states to nullify the U.S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" reapportionment decision.

The Assembly's Democratic leadership has just about wrapped up work on a bill creating new lower house districts that aim to satisfy the State Supreme Court's equal population standards.

"Our problems are 99 per cent solved," an Assembly source said. He said the Elections and Reapportionment Committee plans to hold a public hearing on the bill Tuesday and bring it to a floor vote by Thursday.

In the Senate, the Reapportionment Committee continues closed-door discussions of proposed new Senate districts, but there's no telling when a bill will emerge.

Cabin Cruiser Again Afloat Off San Rafael

A 35-foot cabin cruiser, Mary Beth, was finally pumped out and patched at 8 a.m. today—15 hours after she went aground at the mouth of the channel to Marin Yacht Club on San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

The Coast Guard reported the owner, Ronald Springer of El Cerrito, and another person were taken aboard another vessel as the Mary Beth began to settle in four feet of water.

Pumping operations by the Coast Guard had to be abandoned about three hours later because four holes in the side of the cruiser were too large, it was reported.

Workmen from Seaway Marine, San Rafael, worked through the night to patch the holes and the boat was brought in for permanent repairs early today.

"We're not panicking," said a spokesman for Gov. Brown. The governor has promised to use all the powers of his office to get agreement on reapportionment bills before the State Supreme Court's Dec. 9 deadline.

On Jan. 30, 1922, Marin County had the heaviest snow storm in its history. A mantle of snow on Mount Tamalpais was three to six inches at the summit.

District Director Denies High Fee For Designer

A Gallinas Village Community Services District director today denied that Santa Venetia nurseryman Robert M. Tanem will receive $3,500 for designing and supervising landscaping on two Gallinas Village parks.

Mrs. Joni Paulsen of 705 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, in a letter to the Independent-Journal, said Friday that it appeared Tanem would receive about $3,500.

She said a bill submitted by Tanem at last month's directors' meeting came to $1,200 and directors would not discuss it. She asked if an additional bill for $1,200 or more would be submitted when the work was done.

"That's ridiculous," said Mrs. Alys Durenberger, a director.

She said Tanem submitted the bill for $1,200 because he feared the board was not going to go ahead with the work. The board authorized payment of $250 of this. An additional $250 will be paid at the time bids are let and the balance when work is finished, she said. The $1,200 will be Tanem's total fee.

Tanem last week told the Independent-Journal that work on the Rosal and Adrian ways park and the Hacienda Way park could come to $27,000. With a fee of five per cent, he would receive $1,350 in that case.

No Permit Issued For House Building

No objections were filed by deadline time with the Army Corps of Engineers on a permit request of Donald G. Davis and James R. Coleman to build a house and floating dock on West Shore Road, Belvedere.

But no permit will be given, according to Alf Ekeland of the corps, until the San Francisco Bay Conservation Commission gives approval to the plans of Davis, of 133 Center Street, and Coleman, of 27 Racquet Club Drive, both of San Rafael.

Five Receive Minor Hurts In Accidents

Five people were treated and released from Marin General Hospital after receiving minor injuries in traffic accidents Friday.

Barbara Bolan, 25, of 16 Ridge Way, Mill Valley, was injured when her westbound car plunged down a steep 60 foot bank at the intersection of Highway 1 and the Panoramic Highway. The accident occurred at 8:30 p.m. Friday, reported the California Highway Patrol.

Miss Bolan said her 1965 Ford Mustang, on a curve of the Panoramic Highway just above Highway 1 left the road and rolled over several times.

Frank Sanchez, 41, of 145 Stadium Avenue, Mill Valley, was injured at 3:40 p.m. Friday when his northbound motorcycle skidded on gravel near the intersection of Stadium Avenue and Almonte Boulevard, patrolmen said.

William C. Price, 32, of Santa Rosa, was injured when his Volkswagen overturned in the southbound lane of Highway 101 at 8:05 p.m. Friday on the San Rafael Viaduct, the CHP reported.

Kathleen M. Grippi, 23, of 67 Maple Avenue, Fairfax, and Victor N. Rossoff, 39, of 760 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, were injured at 11:40 p.m. Friday in an accident on Highway 101 south of the Corte Madera overcrossing.

Both were riding in a car driven by Karin M. Plantz, 25, of 760 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo. Miss Plantz told the highway patrol she swerved to avoid another car. Her car smashed into a fence.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible to Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Dumped Desks Not From School District

Those school desks bulldozed into the county dump at Larkspur last Friday weren't from Tamalpais High School District after all.

Instead, they were surplus furniture from meeting rooms at the Montgomery Ward and Co. store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

High school business director Frank A. Cassou said today that when he saw pictures of the desks in Saturday's Independent-Journal, he was sure they did not come from the district, as Tam high district does not have desks of that type.

He went to the dump and had one of the desks dug up for comparison. Sure enough it was not a Tam district desk.

Cassou agreed the desks were in good condition and said the district would never scrap furniture that well preserved.

Investigation disclosed that 17 desks declared surplus by Tam district are still in the district's storage yard, and will be advertised for sale, Cassou said.

Cassou explained the district's policy for disposition of its surplus property:

An item may be sent to the district corporation yard if it is obsolete, worn out or surplus to the needs of the school.

Such equipment may be disposed of in one or six ways: Through reassignment to another district department, trade-in on new equipment, sale, salvaged for usable parts, sale as scrap, or destruction.

Items to be sold and valued at $200 or more are sold through public bid after legal advertisements are published, Cassou said. That's what will be done with the 17 desks.

Cassou said that he and Director of Maintenance Oliver Bonner confer and determine what items are beyond repair and should not be sold. On questionable matters, he said, the board is called in for inspection.

When 18 desks were found at the dump Friday, someone at the Tam district office assumed they were the district's surplus desks.

through the borough of Queens.

They clapped, cheered, waved flags and handkerchiefs as the Pope passed by in a bubble-top limousine. But they remained behind police barricades and did not try to storm the Pope's car or touch his person.

Johnson presented to the Pope his wife, Lady Bird, and their 17-year-old daughter Luci who became a convert to Catholicism three months ago. Mrs. Johnson and Luci did not remain in the room, however, during the conference. The only person present besides the two principals and their interpreters was White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers.

After the hour-long visit to the President's suite, the Pope's hectic schedule sent him to the private residence of Francis Cardinal Spellman adjoining St. Patrick's Cathederal for a bite of lunch and a brief rest prior to his 3:30 p.m. EDT speech at the U.N. General Assembly.

As he stepped from the big DC8 jetliner which brought him here from Rome, the smiling 68-year-old pontiff extended a warm paternal greeting to America's 45 million Roman Catholics.

"The first Pope to set foot upon your land blesses you with all his heart," he said.

Wearing a white cassock and a full-length red and white cape to ward off the cool breezes whipping through the airport, the slight, scholarly pontiff waved to the crowd of some 2,000 invited guests on the airport ramp, and then went down the official receiving line, smiling and shaking hands with United Nations Secretary General Thant, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The Pope warmly embraced his old friend and host, Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York.

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner kneeled and kissed the Pope's ring.

A.F. Hearing Judged Illegal

An ousted Air Force weatherman, once resident in Sausalito, has been ordered reinstated by a federal judge on grounds he was denied a chance to cross-examine five witnesses against him at his hearing.

Lt. Col. Leonard A. Gamage was separated in early 1963 on charges he ordered weather reports of his office falsified to impress inspectors.

Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled in Washington, D.C., that the hearing board acted illegally in taking evidence supplied by five former underlings of Gamage as given to Air Force investigators but not having the underlings present so Gamage's lawyer could question them.

Gamage resided in Sausalito for about six months following his ouster from the Air Force. Richard Christian, then editor of Marin News, wrote a series of articles about the ouster in that weekly.

Fair Condition

Mrs. Marie Fraser, 80, was reported in "fair condition" today at Marin General Hospital after she reportedly fell on the bathroom floor last night at her Sausalito home at 67 Cloud View Avenue, suffering a back injury.

Two Youths Arrested In Auto Theft

Two Marin City youths were arrested early today by sheriff's officers in the alleged theft of a 1962 Corvette in Tamalpais Valley.

Booked in county jail was Blaine Jarrard Walter, 19, who last June 28 was shot in the buttocks by a San Rafael policeman after Walter fired five shots near the Standard Service Station at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue. He was held today in lieu of $1,100 bail.

His companion, 16, remained in juvenile hall at noon today on a similar charge of car theft.

Sheriff's deputies said they spotted the pair and a third youth apparently working on the car—owned by Robert D. Tomei, 396 Pinehill Road, Tamalpais Valley—in the 400 block of Marin Avenue about 3:50 a.m.

They said the car allegedly had been taken from in front of Tomei's apartment.

The third youth, unidentified, fled into bushes on their approach and was not apprehended, officers said.

Walter, of 345 Drake Avenue, was certified to juvenile court last July 29 on charges of criminal conspiracy and assault with intent to commit murder in the service station shooting.

Airport Report Gains Support

The Marin County Development Assn., through Carroll A. Snyker, its executive vice president and manager, has generally concurred in the J.G. Percy report on Marin's airport needs.

Percy, director of aeronautics for Ventura County, recommended that the county develop its site at Novato and defer efforts for a parallel civilian strip at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Application for federal assistance for the Novato facilities was recently turned down for the second time. Snyker recommended seeking services of the California Aeronautics Commission in making another application.

Head Bruises

Thomas Tuttle, 20, of 325 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, was treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday for forehead bruises reportedly suffered in an accident in Daly City, the hospital reported.

Dumped Desks Not From School District

Those school desks bulldozed into the county dump at Larkspur last Friday weren't from Tamalpais High School District after all.

Instead, they were surplus furniture from meeting rooms at the Montgomery Ward and Co. store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

High school business director Frank A. Cassou said today that when he saw pictures of the desks in Saturday's Independent-Journal, he was sure they did not come from the district, as Tam high district does not have desks of that type.

He went to the dump and had one of the desks dug up for comparison. Sure enough it was not a Tam district desk.

Cassou agreed the desks were in good condition and said the district would never scrap furniture that well preserved.

Investigation disclosed that 17 desks declared surplus by Tam district are still in the district's storage yard, and will be advertised for sale, Cassou said.

Cassou explained the district's policy for disposition of its surplus property:

An item may be sent to the district corporation yard if it is obsolete, worn out or surplus to the needs of the school.

Such equipment may be disposed of in one or six ways: Through reassignment to another district department, trade-in on new equipment, sale, salvaged for usable parts, sale as scrap, or destruction.

Items to be sold and valued at $200 or more are sold through public bid after legal advertisements are published, Cassou said. That's what will be done with the 17 desks.

Cassou said that he and Director of Maintenance Oliver Bonner confer and determine what items are beyond repair and should not be sold. On questionable matters, he said, the board is called in for inspection.

When 18 desks were found at the dump Friday, someone at the Tam district office assumed they were the district's surplus desks.

through the borough of Queens.

They clapped, cheered, waved flags and handkerchiefs as the Pope passed by in a bubble-top limousine. But they remained behind police barricades and did not try to storm the Pope's car or touch his person.

Johnson presented to the Pope his wife, Lady Bird, and their 17-year-old daughter Luci who became a convert to Catholicism three months ago. Mrs. Johnson and Luci did not remain in the room, however, during the conference. The only person present besides the two principals and their interpreters was White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers.

After the hour-long visit to the President's suite, the Pope's hectic schedule sent him to the private residence of Francis Cardinal Spellman adjoining St. Patrick's Cathederal for a bite of lunch and a brief rest prior to his 3:30 p.m. EDT speech at the U.N. General Assembly.

As he stepped from the big DC8 jetliner which brought him here from Rome, the smiling 68-year-old pontiff extended a warm paternal greeting to America's 45 million Roman Catholics.

"The first Pope to set foot upon your land blesses you with all his heart," he said.

Wearing a white cassock and a full-length red and white cape to ward off the cool breezes whipping through the airport, the slight, scholarly pontiff waved to the crowd of some 2,000 invited guests on the airport ramp, and then went down the official receiving line, smiling and shaking hands with United Nations Secretary General Thant, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner kneeled and kissed the Pope's ring.

They said the car allegedly had been taken from in front of Tomei's apartment.

The third youth, unidentified, fled into bushes on their approach and was not apprehended, officers said.

Walter, of 345 Drake Avenue, was certified to juvenile court last July 29 on charges of criminal conspiracy and assault with intent to commit murder in the service station shooting.

Lt. Col. Leonard A. Gamage was separated in early 1963 on charges he ordered weather reports of his office falsified to impress inspectors.

Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled in Washington, D.C., that the hearing board acted illegally in taking evidence supplied by five former underlings of Gamage as given to Air Force investigators but not having the underlings present so Gamage's lawyer could question them.

Gamage resided in Sausalito for about six months following his ouster from the Air Force. Richard Christian, then editor of Marin News, wrote a series of articles about the ouster in that weekly.

Fair Condition

Mrs. Marie Fraser, 80, was reported in "fair condition" today at Marin General Hospital after she reportedly fell on the bathroom floor last night at her Sausalito home at 67 Cloud View Avenue, suffering a back injury.

Airport Report Gains Support

The Marin County Development Assn., through Carroll A. Snyker, its executive vice president and manager, has generally concurred in the J.G. Percy report on Marin's airport needs.

Percy, director of aeronautics for Ventura County, recommended that the county develop its site at Novato and defer efforts for a parallel civilian strip at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Application for federal assistance for the Novato facilities was recently turned down for the second time. Snyker recommended seeking services of the California Aeronautics Commission in making another application.

Head Bruises

Thomas Tuttle, 20, of 325 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, was treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday for forehead bruises reportedly suffered in an accident in Daly City, the hospital reported.

OBITUARIES

Silveira, 67, died Saturday in a local hospital, apparently of a heart attack. He had driven his cab on Friday.

Silveira was born in Walnut Creek, but at the age of three weeks was brought to the Mill Valley area where he lived the remainder of his life. His family first lived on Strawberry Point where Silveira's father ran a dairy. The cigar-smoking taxi driver first drove in San Rafael. He drove a taxi in Mill Valley starting in 1929 for Ray Wishrosky. Two years later he bought out Fred Roth's taxi in Mill Valley which he operated about 30 years, changing the name in recent years to Old Mill Cab Co. About seven months ago, Silveira took on an employee, Bob Fraser, intending to drive only part-time.

Silveira joined the Army in 1942 and was discharged in 1943 whereupon he went to work at Marinship in Sausalito. When the war ended, he returned to taxi driving.

He was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie 256, San Rafael; Mill Valley Post 284, American Legion, and Native Sons of the Golden West, Seapoint Parlor 158 of Sausalito.

Silveira is survived by three brothers, Armand G. of Hayward, Alexander A. of Petaluma and Peter P. Silveira of Mill Valley; two sisters, Angeline M. Silveira of Hayward and Mrs. Amelia J. Dias of Mill Valley.

Marinite Helps Brazil's Struggle Against Poverty

Personnel problems, poverty and the attitude of "Amanha" (tomorrow) are three weaknesses in the current Alliance For Progress program in the Brazilian state of Alagoas.

This is the belief of John A. De Becker, Mill Valley civil engineer, who has just returned from a three-month tour working on and observing one of the American aid projects.

General poverty of the Brazilians makes it difficult for them to provide certain requirements in the aid agreement to supply adequate office space, a bilingual secretary and proper transportation.

Just as important, the engineer feels, is the local attitude that time doesn't matter. The work can be done tomorrow.

Speaking of personnel, De Becker commented: "It is apparently difficult within the limits of the budget to obtain for long term assignment in Brazil American professional men with sufficient background and practical experience to handle such a big project."

De Becker is wholeheartedly in favor of assistance. "I think we have a moral obligation to help and it is certainly a political expedient. I don't mind being taxed for the purpose," he added.

"Any aid program is, of course, non-economical in the sense there is no immediate return from the point of view of the businessman. I'll accept this but I would stress with great emphasis that the administration and execution of an uneconomic giveaway program should be done with utmost efficiency."

The project is jointly administered in Alagoas by San Francisco State College, where De Becker is a parttime engineering professor, and the University of Alagoas, sponsored by the U.S. State Department.

De Becker works most of his time as consulting engineer for Gribaldo, Jacbs, Jones and Associates of Oakland and Mountain View.

He was mainly concerned with a cement plant and, for a short time, was deputy coordinator of all Alagaos projects while another man was on vacation. Other projects under consideration include gravel, coal processing and ceramics plants as well as a saw mill.

There were two other Marinites, both from the San Francisco State College staff, on the project.

Thomas J. Zilka of Mill Valley, head of the college's engineering department, was the American project director of Alagoas projects in San Francisco, was in Alagaos recently on a three-week inspection tour. Prof. Willard A. Brown of Corte Mader had a three-month tour in Alagaos this summer.

De Becker delated that a large percentage of the population in Alagoas, the second poorest Brazilian state, almost never eat meat. In the city of San Miguel, with a population of 10,000, only 25 per cent of the children live to the age of 10. Laborers for road building get 55 cents a day, American, and a haircut costs 35 cents.

De Becker was accompanied by his wife, Eva, and daughters, Veronica, 18, and Sally, 9. His way only was paid. Sally, said De Becker was bitten on the leg in Belem zoo by a semi-tame, 18 inch rodent called a Quati and had to have 14 rabies shots.

The De Beckers visited Inca ruins of Machu Picchu and Cozco en route home, their daugter, Veronica, flying from Brazil to England to attend school there.

Plan For Dias Ranch Filed With Commission

A master plan for development of the 160-acre Dias ranch, bounded by Shoreline Highway, Panoramic Boulevard and Homestead Boulevard, showing mostly cluster residential development, has been submitted to the Marin County Planning Department.

Developer of the land is Alfred J. Stern of Palo Alto.

His plan, prepared by architects Callister and Payne, shows 135 acres in open area and proposes the space be maintained by a management association.

There would be stables and a riding area plus trails. The plan also shows five acres set aside for commercial development with a hotel and shops.

There would be 10.28 acres devoted to residential use and 13.20 acres to roads.

There would be a total of 581 residential units with 156 rental units, 98 duplexes, 159 attached (cluster) single-family units and 168 non-attatched units.

Stern has asked a change from agricultural to planned community zoning. The planning commission today set hearing on that application for Oct. 18.

Man Charged With Battery On Roadway

San Anselmo police have disclosed the identity of a motorist who on Sept. 25 allegedly struck a Santa Clara man in the face following a driving dispute involving the latter's honking of his automobile horn.

The motorist, Robert Lee Edney, 22, of 21 Park Road, Fairfax, has been charged in Marin Municipal Court with battery and with malicious damage of property. However, he was admitted to San Rafael General Hospital later the same day—Sept. 25—for injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident on San Pedro Road near Margarita Drive, San Rafael.

Officers said the bench warrant for his arrest will be served upon his release from the hospital. Bail is $300.

According to police, George C. Jennings of Santa Clara gave a blast of his horn when another motorist crossed a double line and passed his car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near San Francisco Boulevard in San Anselmo.

Jennings said the man pulled his car back into the right lane, in front of Jenning's and stopped. He said the man walked back, opened Jenning's car door, struck him in the face and then kicked the car door twice before returning to his own auto and departing.

Kennedys March Only Ten Blocks

NEW YORK (AP)—For the second consecutive year, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D - N.Y., created a stir by marching in New York's Pulaski Day parade.

Last year, as a candidate for the Senate, Kennedy was accused by some of using the parade for political purposes.

He and his brother, Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., joined the line of march at 30th Street yesterday. They were asked to leave 10 blocks later by parade committee Chairman Francis J. Wazeter and join him in the reviewing stand, which they did.

Said Wazeter: "We don't run the parade for personal publicity."

Personal Belongings Are Stolen

Three burglaries, involving more than $200 in personal belongings and 47 blank checks, were reported to San Rafael police during the weekend.

Hugh Freeman Paine of San Francisco reported that someone entered a home he owns at 32 Las Casas Drive, between Sept. 26 and 4 p.m. Saturday. A sleeping bag, valued at $30, a portable typewriter, $50, and a lady's wristwatch, $45, were taken, Paine said. Police said entry was through an unlocked door.

Donald Bruce Gold of 32 Stevens Place reported someone broke into his office at DiWal Building Materials, 61 Jordan Street, between 11:30 p.m. Friday and 8:30 a.m. Saturday, and took 47 blank checks. Police said entry was by forcing an east window.

Robert C. Manning of 1330 Fourth Street reported that while he was moving from 38-C Jessup Street someone took his clock radio, transistor radio, cooking utensils, dishes and photographic equipment, with a total value of $62.

Demo Says Brown Seeks Re-Election

Assemblyman William T. Bagley's prediction that Gov. Edmund G. Brown would not seek re-election was described as "utter baloney" today by Robert L. Coate, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

"If there was ever any question in the governor's mind about running, the emergence of Ronald Reagan and the radical right has cast the die.

"Speculation about a major Democratic candidate filing against Glenn Anderson in the primary is pure nonsense. Anderson will run and be re-elected for the soundest of all reasons: nobody can beat him."

Bagley predicted Brown would not be a candidate in a speech to the Humboldt County Republican Women on Saturday.

Talks On Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith arrived in London today for critical discussions of independence for Rhodesia. When his visit was announced last week, a Rhodesian spokesman said the talks "must be final and conclusive."

Bay Fill Naming Held Symbolic

Marin's "victory" over appointments to the bay fill commission is only symbolic, at least for the time being, Warren Schmid, executive director of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, said today.

But William Jack Adams, Novato city councilman who introduced a resolution Friday asking for new appointments by the association to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, said he expects to see at least two of the three present representatives replaced soon.

The resolution, passed in a general assembly meeting of the association, called for new appointments based as much as possible on geography. Marin members objected the three persons named to the new commission were all from the South Bay area.

The resolution made all the present appointees temporary, but Schmid said today the appointees were temporary anyway, since the state law which set up the bay fill commission allows any of the 27 members to be removed by the agency making the appointment.

Objections at the meeting Friday were based on geography but Adams made it clear Marin representatives also feared the men appointed favored bay fill projects.

Named by the executive committee of the association earlier were Thomas J. Mellon of San Francisco, Mayor Wallace Benson of Belmont and Mayor Harland Oliver of Alviso. The committee is scheduled to meet Oct. 21 in Berkeley.

Schmid said association bylaws make no provision for method of appointments to such things as the bay fill commission. The procedure will have to be worked out Oct. 21 if new appointments are to be made, he said.

Adams said he has been assured by several committee members that there will be new appointments.

French Woman Now Just Writes Of French Women

"Now I just write about French women. I don't write about Americans anymore," said Janine Oriano, wife of the French cultural attache in San Francisco, after hearing of the latest complaint about her article on sexy games of Marin children.

The article by Mrs. Oriano, of 1 Arroyo Way, Kentfield, appeared in the French women's magazine, Marie-Claire, in April, and according to the writer, the repercussions were quick and have continued.

"Mon Dieu! Some American people were not happy because I told about some children," she said. She has four children of her own, two boys aged 10 and 8 and twin 3-year-old girls.

In the article, entitled "The Terrifying Testimony of Janine Oriano," she told of games where pre-teen children have a boy and girl go to an isolated room for seven minutes of kissing or fighting.

She also complained of girls under 10 years old with lipstick and mascara dressed up as showgirls or models. She found objectionable the fact her sons received Valentine cards decorated with hearts.

Asked if her opinions of the situation had changed since the article appeared in print, she said, "I don't want to talk about that any more."

Billions More For Highways?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The American Automobile Assn. says the U.S. Interstate highway system will need from $7 to $9 billion by 1972 to complete the federal highways.

The group's highway committee told delegates at the opening of its national convention in San Francisco yesterday that the federal government probably will determine in 1966 how to match funds with the expected costs.

The committee said several bills already had been introduced into Congress to provide financing for the federal highways. The highway program is now supported by federal taxes on highway users.

Evangelist Slated

Rev. John Leih of Hemet, a pastor and evangelist, will be the speaker at the Church of the Nazarene, 1509 Sir Francis Orake Boulevard, San Anselmo, each day from Wednesday through Oct. 17 at 7:30 p.m.

County Plans To Cancel All Credit Cards

All credit cards used by county employees will be cancelled and new ones issued under a brand new account, county officials announced today.

The Independent - Journal disclosed Friday that some cards assigned to employees with no expiration date and accounting procedures did not reveal who had them.

County auditor-controller Michael Mitchell today recommended that the current cards be cancelled. Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows said the department of public works concurs in the suggestion.

All Shell cards with no expiration date will be cancelled, Barrows said. The Chevron cards, which have expiration dates, will be called in when a new account is established with the oil company.

Mitchell also recommended that efforts be made to have employees fill the tanks of county cars at the garage rather than at the Standard Station at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael.

Purchasing at the station means the county misses the advantage of bulk rate purchases and pays 3 cents a gallon federal tax which is not charged in sale to public agencies by bulk purchase.

Purchases at the station have soared since the bulk tank at the courthouse was closed in June due to leaks.

Barrows said it did not seem economically sound to replace that tank, since the courthouse will go out of county use in a few more years.

Parenthood Forum

County Supervisor Peter Behr of Mill Valley, and Mrs. Albert W. Gatov of Kentfield, former U.S. treasurer, were among those who took part in the third western region's workshop of Planned Parenthood-World Population at San Francisco at the weekend. Mrs. Francois Leydt of Belvedere was a chairman of the organization committee.

66th Grape Festival Has Record Crowds

Record crowds were reported at the 66th annual Sunny Hills Grape Festival Saturday at Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax, with the event breaking all attendance and sales records.

When Mrs. Ernest Guy, Grape Festival chairman, officially opened the festival at 10 a.m., the roads to Fairfax were already jammed and hundreds of festival goers were invading the grounds of the colorful old fashioned country fair setting so familiar to Marinites for more than half a century.

Helium inflated balloons soared above the grounds marking the spot where over 10,000 people filled their shopping bags with thousands of handmade produces and homemade foods and canned goods.

The warm sunny day boosted the sales of snow cones to over 3,000, and soft ice cream cones topped the 1,000 mark. The Powder Puff Guild reported the sale of their milk shakes exceeded 1,000, and the apple booth manned by Terra Linda Guild 1 poured out more than 600 glasses of apple cider.

Mrs. Guy reported that almost all booths sold out, and some were forced to close before the official festival closing time of 5 p.m. "We are indebted to the people of Marin and all others who turned out with such overwhelming support of this 66th Grape Festival. This is the first year the Grape Festival has been conducted by the Sunny Hills Guilds Governing Council, and we are indeed proud that our first effort was so successful," she added. The Grape Festival has been conducted in the past by Sunny Hills board of directors.

Mrs. Guy pointed out that in addition to the more than 1,000 guild members who participated in the Grape Festival, many other individuals and community organizations contributed to the success of the event.

"Marin's Marines reservists provided a truck for transporting booths to the festival and Marin Council of Boy Scouts loaned us some of their booths, and Hamilton Air Force Base personnel transported them back to Camp Tamarancho."

Mrs. Guy expressed appreciation too to Fairfax Lions and San Anselmo Rotary clubs and to 52 Junior Volunteers of Sunny Hills who helped keep the grounds picked up.

No Objections Were Voiced

Frank O. O'Callahan of 3 Grand Court, San Rafael, said today neither he nor his wife objected to use of the old Coleman School building on Grand Avenue for a Halloween "haunted house" by the Children's Home Society.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hahn, volunteer director of the society, reported Friday that O'Callahan was among neighbors who had objected to the proposed use of the building, which has been the subject of a zoning dispute.

O'Callahan said this was incorrect, as he and Mrs. O'Callahan have no objection to use of the property for a "haunted house" fund-raising project, although they have opposed rezoning.

More Arrests In Georgia Bus Attempt

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Negro demonstrators tried to run past state police today to board a bus carrying white school children, and several of the Negroes were hurled to the ground. Two were dragged from the street and arrested when they went limp.

Georgia's grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, Calvin F. Craig of Atlanta, grabbed one of the Negro youths by the shoulder after a state trooper had blocked the demonstrator. Craig wrestled him to the ground.

Craig told newsmen afterward that the Klan will increase tension in this rural east Georgia town until the governor takes action to stop the integration attempt.

Twelve Negro pupils showed up at the spot where white children board buses for schools in surrounding counties. Negroes have been trying to integrate the buses since all the white pupils in Taliaferro County transferred following submission of a desegregation plan for their schools here.

Integration Group Seeks U.S. Funds

CHICAGO (AP) — An integration group has asked Mayor Richard J. Daley to intervene in the Chicago public school crisis involving $30 million in federal education funds.

The dispute arose Friday when the U.S. Office of Education ordered that $30 million in federal funds be withheld from Chicago public schools for failure to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, an organization of integration groups, appealed to Mayor Daley in a telegram yesterday:

"Because of an intransigent superintendent of schools and a school board hardly able to take the most feeble steps forward, segregation and inequality in Chicago's schools has brought on a crisis of catastrophic proportions with the withholding of federal funds.

"We now call upon you to enter this situation with vigor and determination to bring Chicago schools into compliance with the Civil Rights Act, and to encourage in every possible way the city's full cooperation with the U.S. Office of Education...."

School Supt. Benjamin C. Willis, 63, was rehired by the Chicago Board of Education in May to a four-year contract, with the stipulation that he retire on his 65th birthday in December 1966.

Integration groups contend Willis has maintained de facto segregation in the public schools.

The council, led by Albert Raby, appealed to Francis Keppel, U.S. commissioner of education, in July and asked that federal funds be withheld until the Chicago public schools are properly integrated.

The U.S. Office of Education in Washington said Friday that a preliminary investigation indicates some instances of failure in Chicago to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act. A federal spokesman added: "The Office of Education believes that the situation in these instances can, with the cooperation of Chicago school authorities, be resolved satisfactorily."

Family Squabble Brings Booking

San Rafael police booked Lawrence V. Jackson, 39, of 1364 Grand Avenue, on a charge of assault yesterday for allegedly hitting his brother-in-law, 17-year-old Benjamin Skippingday, during a family squabble at the Grand Avenue address.

Jackson was taken to the jail on a citizen's arrest by his wife, Mrs. Jennie Jeanne Jackson, of 1364 Grand Avenue. He was held in county jail under $110 bail.

Backers Sought For Tam Bonds

Mrs. Gale Bishell of 342 Linda Way, Mill Valley, will lead the current endorsement drive for the $5,750,000 Tamalpais Union High School District bond campaign. She is president of the Mill Valley Parent-Teacher Assn.

The citizen committee, headed by Mrs. Bishell, will seek endorsement by individuals and groups in the district for use in advertisements and campaign material, according to bond drive chairman Ken McDonald.

The voters will be asked Nov. 16 to approve the bonds for completion of Redwood High School in Larkspur and to build the first phase of a new school in San Gernonimo Valley.

Natchez Negroes Planning To Keep Up Demonstratons

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Charles Evers, state field secretary of the NAACP, said Negroes would demonstrate here again tonight despite the arrest of 409 civil rights workers in weekend demonstrations.

Police arrested 103 in the first of three attempted marches to the City Hall yesterday. Evers turned some 500 Negroes back after they ran into a police barricade the second and third times, both after dark.

The number jailed, including a few whites, reached 409 with 19 pickets arrested Friday, and 16 pickets and 271 marchers picked up Saturday.

Most of those arrested have been taken to the state prison farm at Parchman, 200 miles to the north. Police said those 12 years old and older would be held at Parchman to await trial.

The marchers were charged with parading without a permit. The pickets were charged with contempt of court.

Chancellor Curtis Collins last Thursday issued an order prohibiting both the NAACP and the Ku Klux Klan from any action that might increase racial tensions in Natchez. City officials asked for the order.

Evers said Negroes would continue marching until the city granted their demands, which included school desegregation and the hiring of Negro policemen.

Each of the marches started from the Beulah Baptist Church. None got farther than two blocks.

Police Chief J. T. Robinson met the first wave of yesterday's marchers two blocks from the church and asked them to disperse. He said "You're parading without a permit. No permit has been asked. No permit has been issued."

A Negro minister leading the group replied: "Chief, all we would like to do is go to jail and pray for our people you have. It's our constitutional right."

Then the marchers knelt for a prayer. When they got to their feet, Robinson said: "We think the place to pray is in church." He placed them under arrest.

City Councilmen Offered Old Pews

Two pews from what is now the Belvedere Community Center — formerly a Presbyterian church — will be returned to their former places if an offer by the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society is accepted.

The society has proposed to the Belvedere City Council — which meets in the Community Center—that the pews be placed there to note the historic use of the building. The council will rule on whether to accept the offer at its meeeting at 8 p.m. today.

There will be another request regarding the Community Center, too: The Girl Scouts want to use it for weekly meetings.

Nine Hurt In Reno Mystery Explosion

RENO (AP) — Firemen sifted through wreckage today, trying to find the cause of a mystery blast that leveled a bar and half a dozen downtown Reno buildings. Nine persons were hurt.

The explosion and resulting fire Sunday were a block southwest of Reno's main gambling district and a block north of an area destroyed in a 1957 explosion. Three persons were killed and 49 injured in the earlier tragedy.

Sierra Pacific Power Co. crews checked mains that serve the area but found no leak.

A street cleaner said someone was in one of the stores just before the blast, but firemen could find no evidence.

The Alley Kat Bar on Fulton Alley, where the explosion centered, had closed at 5 a.m.

The explosion was felt 15 miles away and plumes of black smoke from the fire were seen 50 miles away.

The fire was controlled within an hour.

Most of the injuries were minor cuts, the Washoe Medical Center reported. But Mrs. Clarice Shiffner, 53, broke both legs when she ran between two cars in the confusion.

About 35 businesses were damaged in a four-block area, with most of the damage being shattered glass. Most had new glass by evening or were boarded up to prevent looting.

Gas and electric lines in the area were shut off after the blast. Police also sealed off the block between Center and North Virginia streets where the blast was strongest.

Blaze Hits Dump; Another Is Closed

Dump trouble plagued Marin County during the weekend.

The county health department closed the Point Reyes Station dump because of frequent fires and heavy population of rats.

A fire which broke out at the San Quentin dump in San Rafael Saturday was blamed on smouldering ashes in a box of rubbish. It sent up heavy smoke, visible throughout much of Marin County.

The fire burned about one-eighth of an acre of trash. A dump bulldozer simply buried it, while a San Rafael Fire Department truck stood by.

County Sanitarian William Desmond ordered closing of the Point Reyes Station dump. He said efforts to have the land owner, Roland T. Monti, clean up the property had failed.

He said the dump permit is held by Dino Lucchesi of Point Reyes Station, who operates the Inverness Garbage Co.

Desmond said Lucchesi runs a good operation, but Monti, the property owner, has refused to remove trees adjacent to the dump. This has heightened the fire hazard, Desmond said. There were fires at the dump Friday and again yesterday.

Desmond said two other dump sites are being considered. Until one of them is established, scavengers will have to haul their refuse to the Burdell dump on the Sonoma County line north of Novato, he said.

Two-year-old Matthew Calloway, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Calloway of 2718 Las Gallinas Street, Marinwood, was bitten on the right arm by a dog in the Del Mar area of Tiburon about 3 p.m. yesterday.

The dog, a tan and white Asenji owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. MacFarlane of 110 Howard Drive, Tiburon was killed today.

How come 750,000 people in the Bay area are insured by Metropolitan Life?

Here and everywhere, more and more people are discovering that life insurance can be as wide-awake and forward-looking as their own plans for the future. These are the people who've learned about Metropolitan's exceptional range of up-to-date plans and policies. Here are two examples:

New cash-building policy for business owners

Perhaps you have insurance problems involving partnership, stock retirement, key man, split dollar, or deferred compensation factors. Then check on Metropolitan's new Executive Equity plan.

It's especially designed for business owners who want protection while maintaining assets through a rapid buildup of cash values from their insurance premium payments.

New $50,000-and-up policy at notable savings

Perhaps you have short-term needs to cover a large loan, to protect a partnership against death, for other business protection—or for substantial family protection.

In that case, Metropolitan's new 10-year convertible term policy fills the bill. Written only in amounts of $50,000 and more, written strictly for 10 years and non-renewable, this new policy offers large cost savings.

Your premium is remarkably low—especially for the first two years. And, assuming that dividends* continue at current rates and are applied to premiums, payments will be kept low for the full ten years.

At any time within the period you can convert to a permanent type of insurance up to the full face amount—without taking a physical examination.

These new policies are just part of the up-to-the-minute selection of life and health insurance plans you'd expect from America's leading life insurance company. Get the facts from your Metropolitan representative today.

*Dividends are not guaranteed.

Participants in the conference will analyze current problems and techniques in a field of private giving which generates an average total of more than $27 million a day in funds for the support of educational, welfare and other institutions of all sizes.

Principal speakers will be F. Emerson Andrews, president of the Foundation Library Center in New York, H. J. Haynes, president of Standard Oil Co. of California, Western Operations, Inc., and David S. Jacobson, secretary of Stanford University.

Theme of the conference is "Philanthrophy 1966." The program will include clinics on aid to education, united giving, evaluation of appeals and philanthropic policies and procedures.

Foot Entangled In Cycle Wheel

Kent B. McIver, 23, of Laurel Grove and Machin Drive, Ross, suffered a mangled left foot when his motorcycle went out of control on Goodhill Road, Kentfield, at 12:37 p.m. Saturday.

McIver was reported in "satisfactory" condition today at Marin General Hospital.

The sheriff's office reported McIver lost control after a near-collision with a car, and while his cycle was weaving, his foot became caught in one of the wheels.

Cat Is Cause Of Car Crash

Jayne S. Emis, 20, of Fairfax was taking her cat to a veterinarian yesterday and wound up in the hospital herself.

She was driving along Oak Manor Drive when the cat started to climb into the back seat, and she turned.

Her auto struck a parked car owned by John J. Coffey of 131 Oak Manor Drive, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Miss Emis was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises on chin and knee.

Blaze Hits Dump; Another Is Closed

Dump trouble plagued Marin County during the weekend.

The county health department closed the Point Reyes Station dump because of frequent fires and heavy population of rats.

A fire which broke out at the San Quentin dump in San Rafael Saturday was blamed on smouldering ashes in a box of rubbish. It sent up heavy smoke, visible throughout much of Marin County.

The fire burned about one-eighth of an acre of trash. A dump bulldozer simply buried it, while a San Rafael Fire Department truck stood by.

County Sanitarian William Desmond ordered closing of the Point Reyes Station dump. He said efforts to have the land owner, Roland T. Monti, clean up the property had failed.

He said the dump permit is held by Dino Lucchesi of Point Reyes Station, who operates the Inverness Garbage Co.

Desmond said Lucchesi runs a good operation, but Monti, the property owner, has refused to remove trees adjacent to the dump. This has heightened the fire hazard, Desmond said. There were fires at the dump Friday and again yesterday.

Desmond said two other dump sites are being considered. Until one of them is established, scavengers will have to haul their refuse to the Burdell dump on the Sonoma County line north of Novato, he said.

Dog Killed After It Bit Boy In Tiburon

Two-year-old Matthew Calloway, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Calloway of 2718 Las Gallinas Street, Marinwood, was bitten on the right arm by a dog in the Del Mar area of Tiburon about 3 p.m. yesterday.

The dog, a tan and white Asenji owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. MacFarlane of 110 Howard Drive, Tiburon was killed today.

How come 750,000 people in the Bay area are insured by Metropolitan Life?

Here and everywhere, more and more people are discovering that life insurance can be as wide-awake and forward-looking as their own plans for the future. These are the people who've learned about Metropolitan's exceptional range of up-to-date plans and policies. Here are two examples:

New cash-building policy for business owners

Perhaps you have insurance problems involving partnership, stock retirement, key man, split dollar, or deferred compensation factors. Then check on Metropolitan's new Executive Equity plan.

It's especially designed for business owners who want protection while maintaining assets through a rapid buildup of cash values from their insurance premium payments.

New $50,000-and-up policy at notable savings

Perhaps you have short-term needs to cover a large loan, to protect a partnership against death, for other business protection —or for substantial family protection.

In that case, Metropolitan's new 10-year convertible term policy fills the bill. Written only in amounts of $50,000 and more, written strictly for 10 years and non-renewable, this new policy offers large cost savings.

Your premium is remarkably low—especially for the first two years. And, assuming that dividends* continue at current rates and are applied to premiums, payments will be kept low for the full ten years.

At any time within the period you can convert to a permanent type of insurance up to the full face amount—without taking a physical examination.

These new policies are just part of the up-to-the-minute selection of life and health insurance plans you'd expect from America's leading life insurance company. Get the facts from your Metropolitan representative today.

*Dividends are not guaranteed.

More choose Metropolitan Life
millions more than any other company

There are many reasons why Metropolitan Life insures 45,000,000 people—more than any other company. One good reason is local, personal service from the Metropolitan advisers at your nearest office:

TEEN-AGERS TWIST FOR CHARITY

The Mill Valley Youth Council dance Friday night (below) found the teen-agers enjoying themselves and helping a bit with relief efforts for Chilean victims of the recent floods and earthquake. Many of the youngsters brought clothing and other donations for the crusade of which Mrs. Elizabeth Semolic (above) is Marin County chairman. In return, the dancers were treated to the guitar artistry of Chilean native Pablo Castro, (above) and met other Chilean representatives who expressed appreciation for the young people's help.

Los Angeles Displays Japan Art Treasures

LOS ANGELES (AP)—What experts say is one of the most valuable art collections ever assembled went on public view Saturday at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art.

A spokesman for the museum said approximately 2,000 persons toured the $4 million Japanese exhibit consisting of 127 paintings and sculptures including 22 items classified as national Japanese treasures.

The exhibit of paintings, remain on view in Los Angeles through Nov. 7. It then moves eastward to Detroit, Philadelphia and Toronto, Canada.

Approximately 15,000 members of the museum viewed the exhibit at a private showing earlier this week.

Officials said it was the first major exhibition to be presented by the Japanese government since 1953.

Among the more spectacular items—considered priceless by museum experts — was the "Yakushi Nyorai" from the Ganjo-ji in Nara, a ninth-century wooden sculpture of the Medicine Budda. Another was Seshu's "Ama no Hashidate," a 16th century ink landscape of one of the three most famous scenic spots in Japan.

The objects are on loan from museums, temples and private collections in Japan.

Marin Marine Corps Recruiter To Leave

Marine Corps 1st/Sgt. Robert F. Richmond, for three years and nine months principal recruiter of Marine reservists in Marin County, has been transferred to Camp Pendleton, south of Los Angeles.

Richmond is credited with recruiting some 200 men for the Marines during his tour of duty at 153 Madison Avenue, San Rafael. Before reporting to his new station Friday, he and his wife, Jean, and their two children lived at 68 Buena Vista, Novato.

Concert Slated For Tam Campus

The Marin Music Makers, 12 professional Marin musicians, will give a concert for Tamalpais High School students Oct. 14.

To be conducted by Mrs. Mabel Pittenger, school music teacher, it will feature a violin solo by Michael Gerling, a Tamalpais graduate and member of the San Francisco Symphony orchestra.

Music is provided by the cooperation of Local 6, American Federation of Musicians, AFL-CIO, through a grant from the recording industries trust fund.

Immunizations Set

College of Marin students will be offered immunization against smallpox, tetanus and influenza in Room 15 of Harlan Hall from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday. A small fee will be charged for the cost of medicine and syringes, according to Dr. Fred Adams, college physcian.

HE LIVES LIKE ROYALTY

Edward C. Schafer, 42, a St. Louis, Mo., public relations consultant, also has an heriditary regal title — Edward I, King of the Biffeche tribe in the Republic of Senegal. It all began three years ago when Schafer accepted chairmanship of a St. Louis committee to help the tiny, impoverished tribe. The tribesmen formally elected him king, and seriously ask his approval for community projects, declaration of holidays and other governmental matters, through the mails. Edward has never seen his domain, but sells their art objects to help tribal projects. (AP Wirephoto)

French Coed Pleased By San Rafael Campus

By TINA FRASIER

Born in Montbrison, France Odile Sourvies, San Rafael High School exchange student, lived there until the age of five. Since then, she has moved 14 times in France alone.

Her permanent home is now in Chalous sur Marne. Her father is a prominent judge and she has one brother, 13, and a sister, 19.

Odile has attended private, public and Catholic schools. She said she liked the public schools, because she did not have to wear uniforms. When asked the difference between San Rafael High School and the public schools in France, Odile replied:

"We go to school only to learn. We have no clubs, no football games and no cafeteria. Since we have no lockers, we have to carry our books. We even have to pay for our books, which is quite a disappointment."

She said, "I like San Rafael High School very much, not only for its clubs and activities, but for the atmosphere which is free and pleasant."

The only shortcomings, according to Odile, are the white socks the boys wear and the pushing of the crowds at lunch time.

For hobbies, Odile enjoys horses, skiing and swimming. Her biggest dream here is to buy and learn to play a guitar. She would also like to visit Disneyland and to see all of California.

Odile loves the Beatles, peanut butter, American cookies and Bermuda shorts. She plans after graduating this year to go to the University of Paris, majoring in either political science or publicity.

At present, Odile is staying with San Rafael High School senior Doreen Phelps and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Phelps, 57 Junipero Serra Avenue.

Airman Graduated

Airman Third Class Jack E. Mitchell Jr., a San Rafael High School graduate of 1140 Calle Paseo, Novato, has graduated from the technical training course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex. Mitchell is being assigned to Langley Air Force Base, Va., as a member of the Tactical Air Command.

Construction Changes Face Of San Rafael High School

By BILL GOLDEN and JEAN WASP

Since everyone at San Rafael High School seemingly is caught in the middle of falling debris and crumbling walls, one might wonder exactly what is happening with regard to the rebuilding program.

Bids will be let this month for remodeling and modernizing the interior of the old building somewhat along the lines of the new building.

The front stairs of the school will be changed. Instead of the present stairs-platform-stairs-platform arrangement, there will be a single large platform which presumably could be used for rallies.

The old gymnasium will be completely overhauled, the roof fixed to eliminate leaks and the basketball court standardized to fit modern regulations.

The nursery buildings and greenhouses by the auto shops will be completely torn down and the area evacuated used to improve parking facilities. Construction should be completed by Sept. 1966.

The new building is nearly finished. The library should be ready next month. Its features include:

Listening rooms for language tapes and records, typing booths, conference rooms for panel discussions and for taping and rehearsing plays and speeches, microfilm reading room making many more magazines available than could be stacked on shelves.

The new library will have a seating capacity of 150 students and space for 20,000 volumes.

In addition to all this there is a chance the music building will be redone, but nothing definite has been planned.

Driver To Speak

Racing car driver Duane Carter will speak on the importance and responsibility of holding a driver's license, at a Tamalpais High School assembly Oct. 20. Carter, who is widely known in Europe, South America and Australia, has been a racing driver 32 years and driven 13 times in the Indianapolis 500.

Supervisors To Hear Proposals For Airport

Marin County supervisors are expected to come to grips tomorrow with the future of the county airport at Novato.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Discussion of the airport is expected to come up at 2 p.m. or soon after when the board will take up the recommendations of J. G Percy, director of aeronautics in Ventura County, who made a study of Marin's airport needs.

Percy has recommended that the board proceed with the proposed Novato development and defer the suggested parallel strip at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Also up for discussion, however, will be the recommendation of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce that the board appoint an advisory committee of five persons who favor the idea of developing a public strip next to Hamilton.

Another problem that must be considered in tomorrow's discussion is the Federal Aviation Authority's turn-down of federal funds on the county project due to an existing lease that gives Harry Tollefson exclusive right to airport facilities on the property until 1972.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows will recommend to the board that an attempt be made to terminate the lease.

Also on tomorrow's agenda is the application for a use permit and variance from the Butte Gas and Oil Co. to continue its mercury mining operation seven miles east of Marshall. That is due to come up soon after 1:30 p.m.

Microfilming Asked In Bolinas

The Bolinas Public Utilities District must either microfilm its records—going back to 1926—or install costly additional fireproof storage space, district directors decided Friday.

The voluminous books of minutes and resolutions are presently stored in a 5x7x2-foot vault. An additional vault, according to Director James Dougan, would cost between $1,000 and $1,400, whereas for $700 the district can have all its records microfilmed and obtain a microfilmer and reader.

A demonstration of the proposed new equipment is scheduled for the district's next meeting.

What does the college problem add up to?

To a national problem, unless we take steps to correct it promptly.

The colleges educate most of our leaders. But they are hampered by shortages—in classrooms, facilities and qualified teachers.

Some colleges predict that they soon may have to turn away qualified high school graduates.

This will hurt us because we urgently need leaders to make wise use of our resources, our manpower and our human skills.

It adds up to jobs and opportunities, and high living standards, for all of us.

This is everybody's concern—give to the college of your choice.

College is America's best friend

HE LIVES LIKE ROYALTY

Edward C. Schafer, 42, a St. Louis, Mo., public relations consultant, also has an heriditary regal title — Edward I, King of the Biffeche tribe in the Republic of Senegal. It all began three years ago when Schafer accepted chairmanship of a St. Louis committee to help the tiny, impoverished tribe. The tribesmen formally elected him king, and seriously ask his approval for community projects, declaration of holidays and other governmental matters, through the mails. Edward has never seen his domain, but sells their art objects to help tribal projects. (AP Wirephoto)

French Coed Pleased By San Rafael Campus

By TINA FRASIER

Born in Montbrison, France Odile Sournies, San Rafael High School exchange student, lived there until the age of five. Since then, she has moved 14 times in France alone.

Her permanent home is now in Chalous sur Marne. Her father is a prominent judge and she has one brother, 13, and a sister, 19.

Odile has attended private, public and Catholic schools. She said she liked the public schools, because she did not have to wear uniforms. When asked the difference between San Rafael High School and the public schools in France, Odile replied:

"We go to school only to learn. We have no clubs, no football games and no cafeteria. Since we have no lockers, we have to carry our books. We even have to pay for our books, which is quite a disappointment."

She said, "I like San Rafael High School very much, not only for its clubs and activities, but for the atmosphere which is free and pleasant."

The only shortcomings, according to Odile, are the white socks the boys wear and the pushing of the crowds at lunch time.

For hobbies, Odile enjoys horses, skiing and swimming. Her biggest dream here is to buy and learn to play a guitar. She would also like to visit Disneyland and to see all of California.

Odile loves the Beatles, peanut butter, American cookies and Bermuda shorts. She plans after graduating this year to go to the University of Paris, majoring in either political science or publicity.

At present, Odile is staying with San Rafael High School senior Doreen Phelps and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Phelps, 57 Junipero Serra Avenue.

Airman Graduated

Airman Third Class Jack E. Mitchell Jr., a San Rafael High School graduate of 1140 Calle Paseo, Novato, has graduated from the technical training course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex. Mitchell is being assigned to Langley Air Force Base, Va., as a member of the Tactical Air Command.

Construction Changes Face Of San Rafael High School

By BILL GOLDEN and JEAN WASP

Since everyone at San Rafael High School seemingly is caught in the middle of falling debris and crumbling walls, one might wonder exactly what is happening with regard to the rebuilding program.

Bids will be let this month for remodeling and modernizing the interior of the old building somewhat along the lines of the new building.

The front stairs of the school will be changed. Instead of the present stairs-platform-stairs-platform arrangement, there will be a single large platform which presumably could be used for rallies.

The old gymnasium will be completely overhauled, the roof fixed to eliminate leaks and the basketball court standardized to fit modern regulations.

The nursery buildings and greenhouses by the auto shops will be completely torn down and the area evacuated used to improve parking facilities. Construction should be completed by Sept. 1966.

The new building is nearly finished. The library should be ready next month. Its features include:

Listening rooms for language tapes and records, typing booths, conference rooms for panel discussions and for taping and rehearsing plays and speeches, microfilm reading room making many more magazines available than could be stacked on shelves.

The new library will have a seating capacity of 150 students and space for 20,000 volumes.

In addition to all this there is a chance the music building will be redone, but nothing definite has been planned.

Driver To Speak

Racing car driver Duane Carter will speak on the importance and responsibility of holding a driver's license, at a Tamalpais High School assembly Oct. 20. Carter, who is widely known in Europe, South America and Australia, has been a racing driver 32 years and driven 13 times in the Indianapolis 500.

This "Town Landau" is one of two new Thunderbird cars for 1966 which contrast with the convertibles and sporty hardtops in their rooflines. This year's options for all Thunderbirds include a 428-inch engine, stereophonic tape player integrated with the radio and fingertip automatic highway speed control. Cars are now being shown in Marin at Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael; J and B Ford Sales, Corte Madera and L. J. Dervin Ford Co., Novato.

Mixed Market Shows Improvement

NEW YORK (AP)—A mixed stock market showed some improvement toward the close today.

Trading was much less active than last week and the list presented an uneven pattern of gains and losses.

Airlines and motors were higher throughout the day but their gains were moderate.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.7 million shares compared with 7.49 million Friday.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point were the general rule among key stocks.

The uneven action followed four straight days of decline. A selective recovery occurred among many high-flyers which fell victim to profit taking in recent sessions.

SCM Corp. was prominent in this list, rebounding vigorously for a rise exceeding 2.

Korvette took over as the most active issue, advancing about a point.

Chrysler and Ford were up close to a point each while other leading motor stocks gained fractions.

Gains by Eastern Airlines, United, American and Pan American were under a point each.

Up a point or so were IBM, Macy and National Aeronautical. Xerox tacked on 4, Polaroid and Boeing around 2 each.

Down around a point were General Electric, American Smelting and National Airlines.

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Juan Sebastian del Cano and 31 men brought home to Spain the only ship of five which started out on Ferdinand Magellan's first circumnavigation of the earth.

Check Cashing To Hit Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Californians are writing checks this year at a record 12-month rate of $210 billion to pay the butcher, the baker, the mortgage maker, and other dealers in goods and services.

The California Bankers Assn. announced a statewide survey shows that clearing house handling of checks on California banks wold reach the $210 billion total by Dec. 31.

The total will not include checks cashed and cleared in home banks without reaching clearing houses. These gather, sort and send checks to the banks on which they are drawn.

In 1927, it was estimated that the 400 travelling tent repertoire theatres in the United States had visited 16,000 communities and played before nearly 77 million customers during that year.

WHICH WAY'S COW PALACE?

Beverly Ver Steeg and her mount, Starlight Serenade, really aren't lost; they strayed on purpose into San Francisco's Civic Center Mall to point out that the Grand National livestock and horse show will be staged at the Cow Palace Oct. 29-Nov 7. Supervisors To Hear Proposals For Airport

Marin County supervisors are expected to come to grips tomorrow with the future of the county airport at Novato.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Discussion of the airport is expected to come up at 2 p.m. or soon after when the board will take up the recommendations of J. G Percy, director of aeronautics in Ventura County, who made a study of Marin's airport needs.

Percy has recommended that the board proceed with the proposed Novato development and defer the suggested parallel strip at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Also up for discussion, however, will be the recommendation of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce that the board appoint an advisory committee of five persons who favor the idea of developing a public strip next to Hamilton.

Another problem that must be considered in tomorrow's discussion is the Federal Aviation Authority's turn-down of federal funds on the county project due to an existing lease that gives Harry Tollefson exclusive right to airport facilities on the property until 1972.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows will recommend to the board that an attempt be made to terminate the lease.

Also on tomorrow's agenda is the application for a use permit and variance from the Butte Gas and Oil Co. to continue its mercury mining operation seven miles east of Marshall. That is due to come up soon after 1:30 p.m.

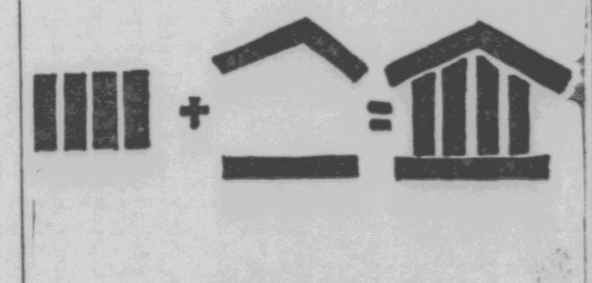
Microfilming Asked In Bolinas

The Bolinas Public Utilities District must either microfilm its records—going back to 1926—or install costly additional fireproof storage space, district directors decided Friday.

The voluminous books of minutes and resolutions are presently stored in a 5x7x2-foot vault. An additional vault, according to Director James Dougan, would cost between $1,000 and $1,400, whereas for $700 the district can have all its records microfilmed and obtain a microfilmer and reader.

A demonstration of the proposed new equipment is scheduled for the district's next meeting.

Snuff production consumes about 32 million pounds of tobacco a year.



What does the college problem add up to?

To a national problem, unless we take steps to correct it promptly.

The colleges educate most of our leaders. But they are hampered by shortages—in classrooms, facilities and qualified teachers.

Some colleges predict that they soon may have to turn away qualified high school graduates.

This will hurt us because we urgently need leaders to make wise use of our resources, our manpower and our human skills.

It adds up to jobs and opportunities, and high living standards, for all of us.

This is everybody's concern—give to the college of your choice.

College is America's best friend

It's Dodgers 'Drysdale Vs. Twins' Grant In Opener

By JOE REICHLER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale of Los Angeles, who has never lost a World Series game, and Mudcat Jim Grant of Minnesota, who has never appeared in one, will be the opposing pitchers in Wednesday's opener of the post season Series for the world championship.

Drysdale will be working with nearly a week's rest. His last effort was a 4-0 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves Thursday which extended the Dodgers' pennant winning streak to 13 straight. A 23-game winner with a 2.78 earned run average, big Don pitched 308 innings during the regular campaign. The total is second only to teammate Sandy Koufax' 335. He also hurled seven shutouts.

Grant, the Twins' leading pitcher with a 21-7 record, tuned up for the big one Saturday and was roughed up by California. The strong-armed right-hander was tagged for three runs in two innings and was charged with the loss.

Dodger Manager Walter Alston said before his team departed for Minnesota today that he would use only three starters in the Series regardless of how many games it lasted. He had Koufax, his 26-game winning southpaw, primed for the second game in Minnesota Thursday. Southpaw Claude Osteen, with a season 15-15 record will pitch the third game, Saturday, at Los Angeles.

Koufax clinched the pennant for L.A. Saturday by beating the Braves 3-1.

Manager Sam Mele of the Twins was expected to start Jim Kaat, a left-hander, in the second game and probably Camilo Pascual, the erstwhile right-handed ace, in the third game. He also has Jim Perry, a right-hander, and Jim Merritt, a southpaw, as possible starters.

Drysdale has appeared in three World Series games. He has never opened a Series, however. The 6-foot-6 right-hander pitched in relief against the New York Yankees in 1956 without a decision, started and defeated the Chicago White Sox in 1959 and shut out the Yankees 1-0 in 1963.

"Naturally, I'm looking forward to my first Series start," he said. "I don't think the long rest is going to hurt. I threw enough in the bullpen Sunday to keep me sharp.

"It was like this in 1963. I pitched the last game of the season on Sunday and did not get to pitch in the World Series until the third game the following Saturday. I threw a three-hitter."

Drysdale saw Metropolitan Stadium in Minnesota for the first time last July when he pitched to only one batter in the All-Star Game. He left with the impression that the park was somewhat like County Stadium in Milwaukee. Don has had good fortune through the years in the Milwaukee park.

"It's a nice park," he said. "I recall being summoned from the bullpen in the fifth inning to pitch to Rocky Colavito. The American League had two runners on base with two out.

"I must have made about four or five pitches. Colavito hit a grounder to second baseman Pete Rose and that was it for me."

Drysdale said, however, he was familiar with the Twins' hitters.

"I think I've pitched against all of them except Don Mincher and that new kid at second base, Frank Quilici. I'll try to learn as much as I can about them from our scouting reports."

Alston said he would start the same line-up he had used all season. The only changes will be in the batting order. Against a left-hander, he will move up Lou Johnson from fifth to fourth and drop Ron Fairly from fourth to seventh.

Fairly, in a batting slump, drove in his first run yesterday, against Milwaukee, since Aug. 28. He had gone to bat 82 times without driving in a run.

The Dodgers, whose principal attack consists of a walk, stolen base, error and wild pitch, will enter the Series with the lowest team batting average by a pennant winner in National League history. They finished with a team batting average of .245, yet won 15 of their last 16.

During that stretch, the Dodger pitchers allowed 17 runs in the last 16 games, which included eight shutouts. They closed the season with a 3-0 shutout against the Braves yesterday.

"We keep hearing about the club not scoring any runs," observed Alston. "I'm not so sure that we are so far behind in total runs scored between this year and our last pennant winning year of 1963.

"We may surprise somebody in the Series," Alston added. "We may score more runs than people think with our usual hit-and-run, sliding and stealing attack.

"Then again, we may change tactics. We might even hit a home run or two."

The Dodgers hit 78 home runs, to rank last in the majors. They hit only 26 at spacious Dodger Stadium.

The Twins, noted for their power, added a new dimension this year. Reports have come back to Alston that the Twins employed a diversified attack in 1965, relying more than ever on speed on the basepaths. He has been cautioned to pay special attention to speedsters Zoilo Versalles and Tony Oliva.

"We've got a pretty good report on them," he smiled. "If we're lucky, we'll pitch out at the right time. If we don't, we're in trouble."

TOUCHDOWN FOR NOVATO HORNETS

Novato High School Hornets end Everett Fritz (23) goes to the ground in the end zone after taking a four-yard pass from quarterback John Dolinsek Saturday afternoon against the Terra Linda Trojans. The tally came with only 37 seconds left in the first half and put the Hornets two touchdowns ahead of the Trojans. But Terra Linda came back in the second half with a pair of touchdowns to give the Hornets quite a scare. Final score was Novato 20, Terra Linda 19. See story on page 14. Candlestick: It's All Over But The Pouting

Independent-Journal Sports

Monday, Oct. 4, 1965 13

By RON BERGMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The winds whistled as usual through Candlestick Park today, bending the grass and sweeping through the empty aisles.

There were no other noises on the spit of land that jabs into San Francisco Bay. And the quiet would continue through this week.

Instead of the cheers of a capacity crowd this Saturday when the World Series moves into the National League city, there would be this stillness in a stadium bereft of the traditional bunting.

In the waning days of the 1965 season, the San Francisco Giants had spent a 4½-game lead and finished second, two games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers, who cinched it on the next-to-last day.

The Giants left the clubhouse for the final time this year yesterday as if leaving the scene of a tragedy. The biggest names on the roster—Herman Franks, Willie Mays, Juan Marichal, Willie McCovey—had left even before the final out.

Across the hall, the pre-season consensus choices to win the flag, the Cincinnati Reds, quickly removed their grey flannels. They had dropped to fourth by losing 6-3 to the Giants.

Franks was on the highway somewhere between San Francisco and his Salt Lake City home. Before leaving in the middle of the game, Franks offered a few observations about his team, which had made 21 errors in losing seven of their last dozen games.

"I don't think the kids panicked and collapsed," said Franks. "That club down south simply would not stop winning. The Dodgers won the pennant. They didn't back into it."

The Giants had avoided their traditional June swoon this season and had taken the lead for the first time Sept. 7 near the beginning of a 14-game winning streak. They won 20 games in September, but lost the lead for good Sept. 28, in the face of a 13-game victory streak by Los Angeles.

Mays hurt his left thumb and hit only four homers in the last 16 games, including No. 52 on Sunday that gave him the major league home run championship.

The fourth-inning blast that marked an all-time Giants' season high, was the last appearance for Mays. The dugout wanted their captain to get an ovation from the 39,489 Candlestick fans by taking the field momentarily for the fifth inning, but he vetoed the idea.

Instead, 19 - year - old rookie Ken Henderson started the inning in center and later contributed the key single in the three-run seventh inning rally that won the game and beat Billy McCool (10-11).

Bob Bolin, who pitched scoreless relief for 5 1-3 innings while surrendering only a solitary single, picked up his 14th victory in 20 decisions.

Jim Hart began the day at .296 and raised his average to .300 with three consecutive hits. But he was sent up to the plate after the runs scored in the seventh and flied out, lowering his average to .299492.

"If I'd known that, Jimmy," acting - manager Charley Fox told a distraught Hart, "I would have had you bunt."

With one out and men on base, this would have meant a sacrifice and no time at bat.

Right fielder Jesus Alou also mirrored unhappiness. His winter league plans in Puerto Rico were periled by a possibly broken bone near the knuckle below his left little finger.

But one-hundredth of a point and a little finger bone hardly summarizes the season. After all, the Giants were picked by most to finish sixth.

But Franks earned a second season as manager by using a little rest for Mays and two starting pitchers teamed with two rookie relievers to bring the club in second. Injured slugging star Orlando Cepeda hardly played.

Although relievers Frank Linzy and Masanori Murakami held up, the two-man front-line broke down.

Marichal won 22 games but failed to beat a first - division team after Aug. 10. His lick-with-the-stick incident with John Roseboro Aug. 22 cost him three starts.

Bob Shaw, the reliever converted into the second starter, pitched his last complete game Aug. 20 and failed to win after Sept. 11 in five tries.

Willie McCovey hit homer No. 39 on Sept. 26 and never got No. 40.

"The fans could have gotten on us something awful the way we played in the stretch," said Franks. "But there was very little anger in them."

BRODIE-PARKS COMBO HOT, BUT 49ERS MISS AN UPSET

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)— The San Francisco 49ers, who made the Western Division champion Baltimore Colts struggle to a 27-24 victory yesterday, try out their aerial bombs next at Green Bay.

The Packers (3-0), looking more like the champions of a couple of seasons back, defeated the Chicago Bears 23-14 while the 49ers were losing their first decision after two wins. Comparative scores don't mean a thing, but San Francisco walloped the Bears by 28 points three weeks ago.

After the 49ers lost the ball on an onside kick which opened Sunday's game, the Colts rolled up 24 points in the first half to one touchdown for San Francisco. But then John Brodie began hitting Dave Parks with his sharp passes and the pair came close to working one of the season's upsets.

A capacity crowd of 58,609 watched Parks score three times on long pass plays, connecting with Brodie for 53 and 45 yards and also taking a 45 yard TD toss from halfback John David Crow.

But it wasn't enough to offset Baltimore's early margin.

Lou Michaels helped to keep Baltimore ahead with a pair of field goals of 35 and 36 yards. He notched his first one after the 49ers' onside kick strategy backfired. His second came in the fourth period when it was desperately needed.

Lenny Moore scored two touchdowns and Bobby Boyd raced across with another on an intercepted pass to help Baltimore get off to a 17-point lead at the half.

Then Brodie dominated the game after intermission with a passing attack that culminated in 18 completions out of 36 tosses for 268 yards gained on the afternoon.

He found Parks with a 45 yard toss midway through the last period to move the Forty Niners to within three points of winers. Then Baltimore stopped another San Francisco drive and ran out the clock after getting the ball.

All told, Parks caught nine passes for 231 yards, a club record for yardages.

But, as the saying goes, it was too little and too late.

Golfer Of The Year? Player Is Favored

MADRID (AP) — Gary Player, 29-year-old South African, left Madrid today as the king of the golf links — the man who has won all the big ones.

Player won the individual title in the 37-team Canada Cup golf championship by three strokes over defending champion Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, whose iron play let him down yesterday over the 7,096-yard, par 36-36—72 Club de Campo course.

He has won the U.S. Open, Masters, PGA, the British Open, the World Series and now the Canada Cup.

Player' victory in the 72-hole individual competition and his triumph with Harold Henning for the team title made Player the favorite to win the award as the Golfer of the Year. He's already won the U.S. Open this year and the World Series.

Player dethroned Nicklaus with a four round total of 70-69-68-74—281. That was seven-under-par for the sun-baked course littered with little oaks and well watered to conquer the hot weather.

Nicklaus, winner of the individual title for the last two years, wound up in second place with a 71-72-71-70—284.

Nicklaus' teammate, Tony Lema of Oakland, Calif., was way down the field with a total of 76-76-71-75—298.

South Africa's team of Henning and Player won the team title — one held for the last two years by the United States—by eight strokes from Spain's Angel Miguel and Ramon Sota. South Africa totaled 571 and Spain 579. Lema and Nicklaus came third in the team competition with 582.

Yachtsman Is Repeat Winner

Scott Harris won the 19th annual Clipper Class yachting championships over the weekend on Richardson Bay, the second straight year he has captured the title.

Harris won both races Saturday and then was second Sunday in the final race that was waged with practically no wind. Bill Schultz was second overall, and Kevin Douglas and Tim McGowan tied for third.

Marin Ties Vallejo In Final Seconds

By BOB LAWSON

CORBUS FIELD, Vallejo — Halfback Tim Garvin returned a punt 61 yards for a touchdown with only 15 seconds remaining in the game Saturday night as coach Dick Read's College of Marin Tars tied Vallejo J.C., 14-14.

Marin's bid to win the game failed when quarterback Steve Spurling overthrew Bill Hall on the conversion attempt.

Many of the 1,300 spectators on hand were on their way to the exits when the 5-11, 165-pound Garvin took in Butch Dunkle's punt at the Marin 39. Garvin spun past four Falcon tacklers, broke loose at the 50, and had three blockers ahead of him to eliminate the last Vallejo defender with a chance to get him.

All other scoring took place in the second quarter.

After a scoreless first period, Vallejo took possession at the Marin 30 when safetyman Gary Harty recovered a fumble on a bad pitchout to Garvin.

The Falcons marched to paydirt in five plays, aided by a personal foul call against the Tars, with quarterback Jim Taylor going over for the touchdown from the one.

On the conversion attempt, Tar linebacker Dennis Camgros stopped a run by fullback Will Hardee.

Marin stormed right back with a 67-yard drive in just five plays. Quarterback Mike Kemp accounted for all the yardage in the drive, including three complete passes in as many attempts. Kemp hit halfback Tim Harr over the middle at the Vallejo five and he went in to score to complete a 14-yard play.

The Tars then took an 8-6 lead when Kemp passed to Garvin for two points.

Vallejo quickly struck back before halftime, with Taylor passing to left end Ralph Coronado for a 73-yard touchdown on the second play following Marin's score. Coronado was five yards behind the closest Tar safety when he took the ball in at the Marin 30.

On the extra point try, the Falcons faked a place kick, and Taylor passed to Jim Rowen for two points to give Vallejo a 14-8 halftime lead.

Taylor sat out the second half with a possible concussion, and the Vallejo offense was never able to penetrate further than the Marin 43 in the final two quarters.

In the second quarter, Marin drove 37 yards to the Vallejo one, where a fourth down run by Garvin was stopped short of the goal.

There was plenty of "foot" in the football game — the two teams punted a total of 19 times. Eight boots by Garvin averaged 40.3 yards, while Dunkle's 11 kicks averaged 35.3.

The Tars had an 11-6 edge in first downs, and a 242-220 advantage in total offense. Kemp and Spurling completed nine of 17 passes thrown, but also had three picked off by the Vallejo secondary.

Mixed Market Shows Improvement

NEW YORK (AP)—A mixed stock market showed some improvement toward the close today.

Trading was much less active than last week and the list presented an uneven pattern of gains and losses.

Airlines and motors were higher throughout the day but their gains were moderate.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.7 million shares compared with 7.49 million Friday.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point were the general rule among key stocks.

The uneven action followed four straight days of decline. A selective recovery occurred among many high-flyers which fell victim to profit taking in recent sessions.

SCM Corp. was prominent in this list, rebounding vigorously for a rise exceeding 2.

Korvette took over as the most active issue, advancing about a point.

Chrysler and Ford were up close to a point each while other leading motor stocks gained fractions.

Gains by Eastern Airlines, United, American and Pan American were under a point each.

Up a point or so were IBM, Macy and National Aeronautical. Xerox tacked on 4, Polaroid and Boeing around 2 each.

Down around a point were General Electric, American Smelting and National Airlines.

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Juan Sebastian del Cano and 31 men brought home to Spain the only ship of five which started out on Ferdinand Magellan's first circumnavigation of the earth.

Check Cashing To Hit Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Californians are writing checks this year at a record 12-month rate of $210 billion to pay the butcher, the baker, the mortgage maker, and other dealers in goods and services.

The California Bankers Assn. announced a statewide survey shows that clearing house handling of checks on California banks wold reach the $210 billion total by Dec. 31.

The total will not include checks cashed and cleared in home banks without reaching clearing houses. These gather, sort and send checks to the banks on which they are drawn.

In 1927, it was estimated that the 400 travelling tent repertoire theatres in the United States had visited 16,000 communities and played before nearly 77 million customers during that year.

Novato, Tam, Drake Win Marin League Grid Openers

Hornets Hang On, Nip Terra Linda, 20-19

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Novato High School Hornets have started the 1965 Marin Athletic League football campaign on the right side of the ledger, but it sure wasn't an easy matter.

The Hornets scored three first half touchdowns and then held on to edge the Terra Linda Trojans 20-19 Saturday afternoon before 3,500 shirtsleeved fans on the Novato field.

Novato scored on the game's first play from scrimmage, and it was a thing of beauty.

After Gary Dinkel returned the opening kickoff to the Hornets' 13, the Terra Linda defense dug in to stop Novato's running game and the Hornets' top ground gainer, Dick Otis. But Novato coach Harry Moore pulled a surprise.

With Terra Linda looking for a run, Otis took the handoff from quarterback John Dolinsek and started around the left side. He stopped and set, then threw a long pass to end Tom Corder who was several steps behind a Trojan defender. He hauled in the pass on about the midfield stripe and romped the remaining distance to the end zone, completing an 87-yard TD play. Bill Coots' kick added the extra paint and Novato had a quick 7-0 lead.

TERRA LINDA TD

As soon as Terra Linda got the ball, it put together a drive of five plays for 59 yards and a touchdown, with Trojan signal called Sid Norman running a keeper around his own left end for the final nine yards. The Trojans started the drive from their own 41 after a short kickoff. Jack Baken's kick for PAT made it 7-7, with only 3:31 gone in the game. It looked like it was going to be an all offense game after those early scores, and indeed it was.

Novato hung 13 more points on the scoreboard before the end of the first half and it appeared the Trojans would be out of the game, but this was not going to be the case as they gamely fought back.

OTIS SCORES

Otis scored Novato's second TD on a 11-yard burst through right guard, with 4:52 left in the half, and Coots added his second point-after kick. Then with only 37 seconds left on the clock in that same period, Dolinsek hit end Everett Fritz with a little four-yard pass for Novato's third touchdown, capping a drive of 52 yards on eight plays and a 15-yard penalty against Terra Linda. Coots' kick for the 21st point was blocked by Trojans tackle Larry Lima.

But then came the second half and Terra Linda completely dominated things. Terra Linda scored two touchdowns in the final quarter and almost made it three—for the win—before giving up possession.

Jim Paydo, running for the injured John Clifford, scored both Trojans fourth period touchdowns, the first one on a 14-yard run through the middle of Novato's line, and the second on a two-yard blast over left tackle on a fourth-and-one play with 2:07 left in the game.

KICK BLOCKED

After his first six-pointer, Baken tried to kick for the conversion but Novato's Jerry Gaeir blocked it. After Paydo's next touchdown, the conversion was for the tying point. The Trojans set up as if to kick, but instead, Paul Lee caught the snap from center and passed. Up went Novato's Corder and he got a hand on the ball to bat it down before it got more than three feet away from Lee's arm. Corder's move probably saved the triumph for Novato because Terra Linda's best receiver, John Forry, was all alone in the end zone waiting for the ball that never came.

But the Trojan's weren't through yet. Baken tried an onsides kick and it worked to perfection, with Trojan guard Jim Crisp falling on the ball on the 50-yard line. Terra Linda was back in business.

NORMAN STARS

Norman, who passed for 161 of Terra Linda's 306 yards, completed an aerial to Craig Hill for 27 yards and the Trojans had a first down on the Novato 26. Two plays later it was third and six on the 22, with only 29 seconds left in the game. The Terra Linda side of the field was going wild.

Norman hit Hill with a pass deep in the end zone and it looked like it was over for Novato, but an official who was right on top of the play ruled that one of Hill's feet was out of the end zone when he caught the ball. So it was just an incomplete pass, as a huge collective sigh of relief came from the Novato stands. On the next play Norman threw another strike, this time to Forry near the sidelines, but he juggled the ball and didn't have complete possession as he went out of bounds.

The ball went over to Novato and the Hornets ate up the remaining seconds on the clock.

St. Vincent's Wins

Quarteback Mike Fitzgerald passed for two touchdowns and ran another to lead the St. Vincent's School for Boys to a 20-19 triumph over Redwood frosh Friday. His TD passes were 70 yards to Herman Mahurin and 13 yards to Mike Spreou. It was the Eagles' second straight win.

Drake Punches Out 14-0 Win Over Spunky Wildcats

By MAURICE WEINGER

Drake wore down a spirited Marin Catholic team Saturday night to blank the Wildcats 14-0 at Kentfield in the opening Marin Athletic League game for both teams.

The Pirate win was overshadowed by the fine showing of the underdog Wildcats who played the defending MCAL champions even for almost three quarters. It was an inspirational Marin effort, but the Wildcats weakened in the third quarter as most of their players were playing both offense and defense.

For the first half, however, it was quite a defensive show. Wildcats Jim Ghiringhelli, Bruce Grove, Edd Lencioni, Rich Woodall, Gary Wittenmeir and Stan Hardeman kept the Drake team in complete check.

Hardeman was the unsung hero for Marin. This 5-9, 145-pounder not only played well on offense as he repeatedly got behind the Pirate secondary only to have the ball thrown to the wrong side, but the senior's defensive play was outstanding as he kept the aerial game of Drake shut out by knocking down many important passes.

BIG GUN

Big gun for Drake was halfback Dean Lazzarini. With the Marin team keying on him with every play, the senior sprinter took the challenge and found the right openings during the contest.

Lazzarini, while scoring both touchdowns, was the player who set up the scores with some great running—when he found daylight.

In the third quarter, a long punt by Bob Lombardi was taken by Lazz on his 33 and the senior brought it back to the Wildcat 43. Reserve Dave Simonini, taking Tony Iacopi's place teamed with Lazz and helped bring the ball down to the 23 where the great sprinter found a hole around right end, cut back and raced 20 more yards to the four.

Simonini tried the left side for two and Big Dean finished the drive with 43 seconds left in the quarter.

Some nifty ball exchanges helped stir Drake up prior to its second touchdown. An attempted punt by Lombardi was blocked by Doug Manuel, but the ball, in bouncing around, fell into the hands of Wildcat Mike Giamocini. The runner took off for a possible first down, but was stopped short on the Pirate 28.

DRAKE TROUBLED

Drake, still in trouble, was penalized another 15 yards on its first play, but Lazzarini started things moving in the right direction with three and then 31 over his left end. Simonini added another nine on two carries and a five-yard penalty against Marin gave Drake a first down on the opponents' 39.

Lazzarini, doing more running over defenders this year than in the previous two, ran through two Wildcats for 16 and Simonini added three when the defense was keyed to his teammate.

The play that broke the Wildcats' backs was the power sweep for Lazzarini. Taking the ball on the 20, the senior ran around left end, cut to the outside and picking up a great block by Don Alvarado, who came over from his right end spot to clean out the lane, leaving the way clear for the second score.

FOUR CHANCES

Marin had four chances to score, but each time its pass went incomplete. In the first quarter end Mike Stompel was in the end zone only to have the ball bounce off his fingers and the ensuing play also was incomplete on the exact pattern. Hardeman found it clear in the

TAM'S POWER UPSETS SAN RAFAEL BY 14-0

By MAURICE WEINGER

Showing the power that made Tamalpais a winner during his playing days, Coach Willie Hector unleashed his Indians for the second time on Marin turf to upset the San Rafael Bulldogs, 14-0, before 2,000 fans.

The Indians, who went into the game with a 2-0 record against non-league opposition, took charge on the College of Marin field last Saturday with scoring drives in the first and third quarters by using power plays and traps that completely broke the back of the Bulldogs in their Marin Athletic League opener.

Hector, who played his high school ball during the 1950s at the Mill Valley school, had his players controlling the game with a ground game that picked up 13 first downs and 136 yards rushing.

MANY HEROES

Heroes were many for Tamalpais. There were backs Kirk Sparks and Mike Fowler who couldn't and wouldn't be stopped when one and as many as three San Rafael players tackled them; there was quarterback Tom Lecy, a senior who played his freshman year at Tamalpais but moved to Chicago during his sophomore and junior year and came back this year to lead the signal calling, and finally the linemen, notibly Ken Blasingame, Ernie Bergman, Gary Stephens, Horace White and Gary Cotten.

Tamalpais' first score was completely ground out starting from its own 12 yard line. Fowler and Sparks carried the ball and made all the yardage. The bigger Sparks used the trap play over the middle for the greater amount of yards, the big one a 21-yarder to Tam's 38 followed by end runs by Fowler that moved the ball to the Bulldog 26.

ALL SPARKS

Sparks added another three to the 23 and Fowler gained four off right end. Then it was all Sparks as the junior runner just drove first for 12 and then for the final two and pay dirt.

The second scoring drive was almost a carbon copy of the first. Taking the second half kickoff, James Cook moved the ball nicely for 30 yards to his own 35-yard line. Again it was Fowler, the sophomore who has been the big factor in Tamalpais previous two victories. The shifty halfback carried four straight times gaining 11 yards followed by another 11-yard pass from Lecy to Fowler that put the ball to the San Rafael 43.

The big play in the drive was another pass from Lecy to Fred Hilton for 14 yards and Tamalpais was down to the Bulldog 22 with a first down.

Sparks drove for seven up the middle and Fowler followed with another four to the 11. Then Sparks, with three men hanging onto him, bulled his way to the one and it took three plays with Sparks capping the drive for the final yard.

Defensive halfback Dave Salaun saved an early touchdown attempt in the first quarter when the Bulldogs, who recovered a punt fumble, tried for a quick score from a pass by Bill Joost that the defender knocked down in the end zone.

It's Dodgers 'Drysdale Vs. Twins' Grant In Opener

By JOE REICHLER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale of Los Angeles, who has never lost a World Series game, and Mudcat Jim Grant of Minnesota, who has never appeared in one, will be the opposing pitchers in Wednesday's opener of the post season Series for the world championship.

Drysdale will be working with nearly a week's rest. His last effort was a 4-0 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves Thursday which extended the Dodgers' pennant winning streak to 13 straight. A 23-game winner with a 2.78 earned run average, big Don pitched 308 innings during the regular campaign. The total is second only to teammate Sandy Koufax' 335. He also hurled seven shutouts.

Grant, the Twins' leading pitcher with a 21-7 record, tuned up for the big one Saturday and was roughed up by California. The strong-armed right-hander was tagged for three runs in two innings and was charged with the loss.

Dodger Manager Walter Alston said before his team departed for Minnesota today that he would use only three starters in the Series regardless of how many games it lasted. He had Koufax, his 26-game winning southpaw, primed for the second game in Minnesota Thursday. Southpaw Claude Osteen, with a season 15-15 record will pitch the third game, Saturday, at Los Angeles.

Koufax clinched the pennant for L.A. Saturday by beating the Braves 3-1.

Manager Sam Mele of the Twins was expected to start Jim Kaat, a left-hander, in the second game and probably Camilo Pascual, the erstwhile right-handed ace, in the third game. He also has Jim Perry, a right-hander, and Jim Merritt, a southpaw, as possible starters.

Drysdale has appeared in three World Series games. He has never opened a Series, however. The 6-foot-6 right-hander pitched in relief against the New York Yankees in 1956 without a decision, started and defeated the Chicago White Sox in 1959 and shut out the Yankees 1-0 in 1963.

"Naturally, I'm looking forward to my first Series start," he said. "I don't think the long rest is going to hurt. I threw enough in the bullpen Sunday to keep me sharp.

"It was like this in 1963. I pitched the last game of the season on Sunday and did not get to pitch in the World Series until the third game the following Saturday. I threw a three-hitter."

Drysdale saw Metropolitan Stadium in Minnesota for the first time last July when he pitched to only one batter in the All-Star Game. He left with the impression that the park was somewhat like County Stadium in Milwaukee. Don has had good fortune through the years in the Milwaukee park.

"It's a nice park," he said. "I recall being summoned from the bullpen in the fifth inning to pitch to Rocky Colavito. The American League had two runners on base with two out.

"I must have made about four or five pitches. Colavito hit a grounder to second baseman Pete Rose and that was it for me."

Drysdale said, however, he was familiar with the Twins' hitters.

"I think I've pitched against all of them except Don Mincher and that new kid at second base, Frank Quilici. I'll try to learn as much as I can about them from our scouting reports."

Alston said he would start the same line-up he had used all season. The only changes will be in the batting order. Against a left-hander, he will move up Lou Johnson from fifth to fourth and drop Ron Fairly from fourth to seventh.

Fairly, in a batting slump, drove in his first run yesterday, against Milwaukee, since Aug. 28. He had gone to bat 82 times without driving in a run.

The Dodgers, whose principal attack consists of a walk, stolen base, error and wild pitch, will enter the Series with the lowest team batting average by a pennant winner in National League history. They finished with a team batting average of .245, yet won 15 of their last 16.

During that stretch, the Dodger pitchers allowed 17 runs in the last 16 games, which included eight shutouts. They closed the season with a 3-0 shutout against the Braves yesterday.

"We keep hearing about the club not scoring any runs," observed Alston. "I'm not so sure that we are so far behind in total runs scored between this year and our last pennant winning year of 1963.

"We may surprise somebody in the Series," Alston added. "We may score more runs than people think with our usual hit-and-run, sliding and stealing attack.

"Then again, we may change tactics. We might even hit a home run or two."

The Dodgers hit 78 home runs, to rank last in the majors. They hit only 26 at spacious Dodger Stadium.

The Twins, noted for their power, added a new dimension this year. Reports have come back to Alston that the Twins employed a diversified attack in 1965, relying more than ever on speed on the basepaths. He has been cautioned to pay special attention to speedsters Zoilo Versalles and Tony Oliva.

"We've got a pretty good report on them," he smiled. "If we're lucky, we'll pitch out at the right time. If we don't, we're in trouble."

TOUCHDOWN FOR NOVATO HORNETS

Novato High School Hornets end Everett Fritz (23) goes to the ground in the end zone after taking a four-yard pass from quarterback John Dolinsek Saturday afternoon against the Terra Linda Trojans. The tally came with only 37 seconds left in the first half and put the Hornets two touchdowns ahead of the Trojans. But Terra Linda came back in the second half with a pair of touchdowns to give the Hornets quite a scare. Final score was Novato 20, Terra Linda 19. See story on page 14. Candlestick: It's All Over But The Pouting

Independent-Journal Sports

Monday, Oct. 4, 1965 13

By RON BERGMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The winds whistled as usual through Candlestick Park today, bending the grass and sweeping through the empty aisles.

There were no other noises on the spit of land that jabs into San Francisco Bay. And the quiet would continue through this week.

Instead of the cheers of a capacity crowd this Saturday when the World Series moves into the National League city, there would be this stillness in a stadium bereft of the traditional bunting.

In the waning days of the 1965 season, the San Francisco Giants had spent a 4½-game lead and finished second, two games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers, who cinched it on the next-to-last day.

The Giants left the clubhouse for the final time this year yesterday as if leaving the scene of a tragedy. The biggest names on the roster—Herman Franks, Willie Mays, Juan Marichal, Willie McCovey—had left even before the final out.

Across the hall, the pre-season consensus choices to win the flag, the Cincinnati Reds, quickly removed their grey flannels. They had dropped to fourth by losing 6-3 to the Giants.

Franks was on the highway somewhere between San Francisco and his Salt Lake City home. Before leaving in the middle of the game, Franks offered a few observations about his team, which had made 21 errors in losing seven of their last dozen games.

"I don't think the kids panicked and collapsed," said Franks. "That club down south simply would not stop winning. The Dodgers won the pennant. They didn't back into it."

The Giants had avoided their traditional June swoon this season and had taken the lead for the first time Sept. 7 near the beginning of a 14-game winning streak. They won 20 games in September, but lost the lead for good Sept. 28, in the face of a 13-game victory streak by Los Angeles.

Mays hurt his left thumb and hit only four homers in the last 16 games, including No. 52 on Sunday that gave him the major league home run championship.

The fourth-inning blast that marked an all-time Giants' season high, was the last appearance for Mays. The dugout wanted their captain to get an ovation from the 39,489 Candlestick fans by taking the field momentarily for the fifth inning, but he vetoed the idea.

Instead, 19 - year - old rookie Ken Henderson started the inning in center and later contributed the key single in the three-run seventh inning rally that won the game and beat Billy McCool (10-11).

Bob Bolin, who pitched scoreless relief for 5 1-3 innings while surrendering only a solitary single, picked up his 14th victory in 20 decisions.

Jim Hart began the day at .296 and raised his average to .300 with three consecutive hits. But he was sent up to the plate after the runs scored in the seventh and flied out, lowering his average to .299492.

"If I'd known that, Jimmy," acting - manager Charley Fox told a distraught Hart, "I would have had you bunt."

With one out and men on base, this would have meant a sacrifice and no time at bat.

Right fielder Jesus Alou also mirrored unhappiness. His winter league plans in Puerto Rico were periled by a possibly broken bone near the knuckle below his left little finger.

But one-hundredth of a point and a little finger bone hardly summarizes the season. After all, the Giants were picked by most to finish sixth.

But Franks earned a second season as manager by using a little rest for Mays and two starting pitchers teamed with two rookie relievers to bring the club in second. Injured slugging star Orlando Cepeda hardly played.

Although relievers Frank Linzy and Masanori Murakami held up, the two-man front-line broke down.

Marichal won 22 games but failed to beat a first - division team after Aug. 10. His lick-with-the-stick incident with John Roseboro Aug. 22 cost him three starts.

Bob Shaw, the reliever converted into the second starter, pitched his last complete game Aug. 20 and failed to win after Sept. 11 in five tries.

Willie McCovey hit homer No. 39 on Sept. 26 and never got No. 40.

"The fans could have gotten on us something awful the way we played in the stretch," said Franks. "But there was very little anger in them."

BRODIE-PARKS COMBO HOT, BUT 49ERS MISS AN UPSET

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)— The San Francisco 49ers, who made the Western Division champion Baltimore Colts struggle to a 27-24 victory yesterday, try out their aerial bombs next at Green Bay.

The Packers (3-0), looking more like the champions of a couple of seasons back, defeated the Chicago Bears 23-14 while the 49ers were losing their first decision after two wins. Comparative scores don't mean a thing, but San Francisco walloped the Bears by 28 points three weeks ago.

After the 49ers lost the ball on an onside kick which opened Sunday's game, the Colts rolled up 24 points in the first half to one touchdown for San Francisco. But then John Brodie began hitting Dave Parks with his sharp passes and the pair came close to working one of the season's upsets.

A capacity crowd of 58,609 watched Parks score three times on long pass plays, connecting with Brodie for 53 and 45 yards and also taking a 45 yard TD toss from halfback John David Crow.

But it wasn't enough to offset Baltimore's early margin.

Lou Michaels helped to keep Baltimore ahead with a pair of field goals of 35 and 36 yards. He notched his first one after the 49ers' onside kick strategy backfired. His second came in the fourth period when it was desperately needed.

Lenny Moore scored two touchdowns and Bobby Boyd raced across with another on an intercepted pass to help Baltimore get off to a 17-point lead at the half.

Then Brodie dominated the game after intermission with a passing attack that culminated in 18 completions out of 36 tosses for 268 yards gained on the afternoon.

He found Parks with a 45 yard toss midway through the last period to move the Forty Niners to within three points of winers. Then Baltimore stopped another San Francisco drive and ran out the clock after getting the ball.

All told, Parks caught nine passes for 231 yards, a club record for yardages.

But, as the saying goes, it was too little and too late.

Marin Ties Vallejo In Final Seconds

By BOB LAWSON

CORBUS FIELD, Vallejo — Halfback Tim Garvin returned a punt 61 yards for a touchdown with only 15 seconds remaining in the game Saturday night as coach Dick Read's College of Marin Tars tied Vallejo J.C., 14-14.

Marin's bid to win the game failed when quarterback Steve Spurling overthrew Bill Hall on the conversion attempt.

Many of the 1,300 spectators on hand were on their way to the exits when the 5-11, 165-pound Garvin took in Butch Dunkle's punt at the Marin 39. Garvin spun past four Falcon tacklers, broke loose at the 50, and had three blockers ahead of him to eliminate the last Vallejo defender with a chance to get him.

All other scoring took place in the second quarter.

After a scoreless first period, Vallejo took possession at the Marin 30 when safetyman Gary Harty recovered a fumble on a bad pitchout to Garvin.

The Falcons marched to paydirt in five plays, aided by a personal foul call against the Tars, with quarterback Jim Taylor going over for the touchdown from the one.

On the conversion attempt, Tar linebacker Dennis Camgros stopped a run by fullback Will Hardee.

Marin stormed right back with a 67-yard drive in just five plays. Quarterback Mike Kemp accounted for all the yardage in the drive, including three complete passes in as many attempts. Kemp hit halfback Tim Harr over the middle at the Vallejo five and he went in to score to complete a 14-yard play.

The Tars then took an 8-6 lead when Kemp passed to Garvin for two points.

Vallejo quickly struck back before halftime, with Taylor passing to left end Ralph Coronado for a 73-yard touchdown on the second play following Marin's score. Coronado was five yards behind the closest Tar safety when he took the ball in at the Marin 30.

On the extra point try, the Falcons faked a place kick, and Taylor passed to Jim Rowen for two points to give Vallejo a 14-8 halftime lead.

Taylor sat out the second half with a possible concussion, and the Vallejo offense was never able to penetrate further than the Marin 43 in the final two quarters.

In the second quarter, Marin drove 37 yards to the Vallejo one, where a fourth down run by Garvin was stopped short of the goal.

There was plenty of "foot" in the football game — the two teams punted a total of 19 times. Eight boots by Garvin averaged 40.3 yards, while Dunkle's 11 kicks averaged 35.3.

The Tars had an 11-6 edge in first downs, and a 242-220 advantage in total offense. Kemp and Spurling completed nine of 17 passes thrown, but also had three picked off by the Vallejo secondary.

Golfer Of The Year? Player Is Favored

MADRID (AP) — Gary Player, 29-year-old South African, left Madrid today as the king of the golf links — the man who has won all the big ones.

Player won the individual title in the 37-team Canada Cup golf championship by three strokes over defending champion Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, whose iron play let him down yesterday over the 7,096-yard, par 36-36—72 Club de Campo course.

He has won the U.S. Open, Masters, PGA, the British Open, the World Series and now the Canada Cup.

Player' victory in the 72-hole individual competition and his triumph with Harold Henning for the team title made Player the favorite to win the award as the Golfer of the Year. He's already won the U.S. Open this year and the World Series.

Player dethroned Nicklaus with a four round total of 70-69-68-74—281. That was seven-under-par for the sun-baked course littered with little oaks and well watered to conquer the hot weather.

Nicklaus, winner of the individual title for the last two years, wound up in second place with a 71-72-71-70—284.

Nicklaus' teammate, Tony Lema of Oakland, Calif., was way down the field with a total of 76-76-71-75—298.

South Africa's team of Henning and Player won the team title — one held for the last two years by the United States—by eight strokes from Spain's Angel Miguel and Ramon Sota. South Africa totaled 571 and Spain 579. Lema and Nicklaus came third in the team competition with 582.

Yachtsman Is Repeat Winner

Scott Harris won the 19th annual Clipper Class yachting championships over the weekend on Richardson Bay, the second straight year he has captured the title.

Harris won both races Saturday and then was second Sunday in the final race that was waged with practically no wind. Bill Schultz was second overall, and Kevin Douglas and Tim McGowan tied for third.

Cal's Joy May Be Brief As Bears Face Air Force Next

BERKELEY (AP) — California's Hay Willsey might find his enjoyment short lived.

For his Bears, after winning their first game, travel to Colorado Springs this week to face the Air Force Academy Falcons who came within 18 seconds of up setting the Stanford Indians.

They finally fell 17-16 on Terry DeSylvia's field goal.

California, meanwhile, was handing the Kansas Jayhawks their first whitewash since 1958, a span of 68 games, as an alert defense fashioned a 17-0 victory.

"I think I'm going to enjoy being a winner," commented Coach Willsey whose forces had lost to both Notre Dame and Michigan. "This is the type of football game we are trying to play at Cal.

"It might be dull, but when you win, it's never too dull. I think we played excellent defense. The defensive team gave the offense the chances to score."

The defensive team also held Kansas to just 97 yards net, recovered two Jayhawk fumbles and intercepted a pass.

"The best thing was that when the breaks came, we were able to capitalize on them," the coach continued. "It was a better overall effort than at Michigan (7-10)."

Dan Sinclair kicked a 19-yard field goal in the second period after a poor pass from center on a Kansas punt attempt. When Bill Lynch couldn't field the snap, Steve Radich grabbed him and Cal had possession at the 25.

Fullback Ron Minamide got the first California touchdown on a one-yard smash, the seventh play after Dick Bacon fumbled and Bob Smith recovered for the Bears at the KU 28.

In the fourth period, California drove 51 yards in 15 plays for the final score—another one-yard smash, this time by reserve fullback Frank Lynch. Sinclair booted both conversions.

Kansas Coach Jack Mitchell gave California full credit, saying, "They kept us from rolling. I thought the defense looked awfully good, but of course, our mistakes hurt us. Tom Relles is a fine runner, one of the better backs we've seen."

Newsmen voted Relles the outstanding back of the game. Lineman honors went to defensive tackle John Cantlon of the Bears.

RALSTON IS UPSET

Riessen Surprises In Pacific Tennis

BERKELEY (AP) — The best U.S. and South African players are trying today to forget Martin Riessen's performance in the Pacific Coast International Tennis Championships.

Riessen of Evanston, Ill., ranked 10th in the United States, upset top-ranked Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, 5-7, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, 8-6 yesterday and won the singles championship.

Riessen and Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio then defeated South African champion Cliff Drysdale and Roger Taylor of Great Britain 0-6, 6-4, -6, for the doubles crown.

On Saturday, Riessen knocked Drysdale out of the singles, 3-6, Drysdale, who also holds Germany's championship, had been runnerup to Manuel Santana of Spain in the U. S. National Tennis Championships at Forest Hills, N. Y.

Riessen, a Davis Cup team member, leaves today for a four-month tour that will include all Australian tournaments.

Judy Tegart of Australia won the women's singles with a 6-4, 3-6, 7-5 victory over Rosemary Casals of San Francisco. Miss Tegart also won the Pacific Coast championship last year.

In the women's doubles finals, Miss Tegart and Mrs. Carol Graebner, wife of Clark Graebner, defeated Miss Casals and Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Tegart and Jim McManus of Berkeley won the mixed doubles championship from Lynne Abbes of Orinda, Calif. and Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md. 6-2, 6-1.

Nash, Koper Dropped By Warriors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Assn. cut second-year players Cotton Nash and Bud Koper yesterday and announced their co-top draft choice, Fred Hetzel of Davidson, would miss the first month of the regular season because of a severed tendon in the little finger of his left hand.

Hetzel was scheduled for surgerey this morning in San Francisco. Although he could play with a protective splint, doctors feared permanent deformity.

The cuts and the injury to the All America Hetzel means the Warriors were down to 10 players, two under the NBA limit.

Nash was an All America at Kentucky and the No. 1 draft choice of the Los Angeles Lakers last season before being cut and picked up by the Warriors. Koper was the 1964 No. 3 draft choice of the Warriors after a high-scoring career at Oklahoma City.

Heap Worry For Stanford Tribe

STANFORD (AP)—Undefeated but tied and worried, the Stanford Indians battle the unbeaten Oregon Ducks this Saturday to determine the dark horse in the Rose Bowl race.

Tied by Navy in their second game of the season, the Indians nearly were shot down by the Air Force on Saturday before Terry DeSylvia gunned a field goal with just 18 seconds remaining for a 17-16 triumph at Colorado Springs.

Returning to their home grounds, the Indians now go against a hard running Oregon crew that already has beaten Pittsburgh, Utah and Brigham Young.

The pre-season analysis pointed to Southern California and Washington, who battle this week in Seattle, as the top choices in he Pacific Atthletic Conference, with Stanford and Oregon next in line.

Stanford downed San Jose State 26-6 in the opener and then as held to a 7-7 deadlock by underdog Navy.

The Air Force took aim quickly and built a 9-0 lead on Dan Radtke's 35-yard field goal, and a disputed touchdown.

From the Stanford five, quarterback Paul Stein passed to end Guy Hogel in the end zone. The ball jolted out of Hogel's hands and out of bounds but officials ruled it a touchdown.

Held scoreless in the first half, Stanford marched 84 yards in 12 plays to score in the third as Ray Handley pounded over from the two.

Bob Barnes of the Falcons promptly ran back the kickoff 97 yards and it was 16-7.

Stanford roared back to move 92 yards in 16 plays for its second touchdown with Bob Blunt taking a pitchout from Dave Lewis to race around left end for the score. DeSylvia added his second conversion.

The Air Force came deep into Stanford territory only to have Radtke miss a field goal from 25 yards out.

Late in the game, Stanford marched back from its 21. Lewis finally hit end Mike Connelly at the Air Force 14.

Lewis threw out of bounds to stop the clock and in came the 151-pound DeSylvia, who started his collegiate career at Oregon, and he split the uprights on a 28-yard kick.

The victory proved costly for the start of the Indians' PAC campaign. Blunt suffered torn knee ligaments and coach John Ralston said he'll apparently need surgery that would keep him out all season. Also hurt and sidelined for at least the Oregon game was Glenn Myers, the starting linebacker who suffered a dislocated shoulder.

An Easier Job For Raiders Next Week

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—After four tough games, which they split, the Oakland Raiders figure to have it easier next Sunday when they tangle with the winless Boston Patriots in the second game of their three-game eastern swing.

The Raiders got the maximum mileage out of a sputtering attack against the toughest defense in the American Football League yesterday but it wasn't enough as they bowed to the Buffalo Bills, 17-12.

They gained only 93 yards rushing and 64 passing. Alan Miller scored Oakland's only touchdown on a five-yard pass from Tom Flores. The other points came as a result of a 33-yard field goal by Gene Mingo and a safety.

Buffalo, meanwhile, boasting one of the league's best quarterbacks in Jack Kemp and three top pass receivers in flanker Elbert Dubenion, spread end Glenn Bass and tight end Ernie Warlick, rolled for 140 yards on the ground and 123 in the air to gain its fourth victory of the season.

Buffalo scored on a 20-yard field goal by Pete Gogolak, a one-yard dash by Billy Joe and a three-yard pass from Kemp to Warlick.

The Bills moved on top 10-0 but the Raiders fought back for a halftime tie. Then Buffalo scored on the Kemp to Warlick pass in the third period and as things turned out, those were the winning points.

The Raiders made one final move to score seven minutes into the fourth period, driving to the Bills' 20-yard line. There, the Bills stopped the Raiders cold and Mingo missed a field goal from the 26.

Oakland got its only TD on a 77-yard seven play march. The safety came in the third period when the Oakland defenders chased Kemp through the end zone from the Buffalo four.

The Raiders will remain east until they have concluded their swing. After the Patriots game, they go to New York to play the Jets.

Novato, Tam, Drake Win Marin League Grid Openers

Hornets Hang On, Nip Terra Linda, 20-19

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Novato High School Hornets have started the 1965 Marin Athletic League football campaign on the right side of the ledger, but it sure wasn't an easy matter.

The Hornets scored three first half touchdowns and then held on to edge the Terra Linda Trojans 20-19 Saturday afternoon before 3,500 shirtsleeved fans on the Novato field.

Novato scored on the game's first play from scrimmage, and it was a thing of beauty.

After Gary Dinkel returned the opening kickoff to the Hornets' 13, the Terra Linda defense dug in to stop Novato's running game and the Hornets' top ground gainer, Dick Otis. But Novato coach Harry Moore pulled a surprise.

With Terra Linda looking for a run, Otis took the handoff from quarterback John Dolinsek and started around the left side. He stopped and set, then threw a long pass to end Tom Corder who was several steps behind a Trojan defender. He hauled in the pass on about the midfield stripe and romped the remaining distance to the end zone, completing an 87-yard TD play. Bill Coots' kick added the extra paint and Novato had a quick 7-0 lead.

TERRA LINDA TD

As soon as Terra Linda got the ball, it put together a drive of five plays for 59 yards and a touchdown, with Trojan signal called Sid Norman running a keeper around his own left end for the final nine yards. The Trojans started the drive from their own 41 after a short kickoff. Jack Baken's kick for PAT made it 7-7, with only 3:31 gone in the game. It looked like it was going to be an all offense game after those early scores, and indeed it was.

Novato hung 13 more points on the scoreboard before the end of the first half and it appeared the Trojans would be out of the game, but this was not going to be the case as they gamely fought back.

OTIS SCORES

Otis scored Novato's second TD on a 11-yard burst through right guard, with 4:52 left in the half, and Coots added his second point-after kick. Then with only 37 seconds left on the clock in that same period, Dolinsek hit end Everett Fritz with a little four-yard pass for Novato's third touchdown, capping a drive of 52 yards on eight plays and a 15-yard penalty against Terra Linda. Coots' kick for the 21st point was blocked by Trojans tackle Larry Lima.

But then came the second half and Terra Linda completely dominated things. Terra Linda scored two touchdowns in the final quarter and almost made it three—for the win—before giving up possession.

Jim Paydo, running for the injured John Clifford, scored both Trojans fourth period touchdowns, the first one on a 14-yard run through the middle of Novato's line, and the second on a two-yard blast over left tackle on a fourth-and-one play with 2:07 left in the game.

KICK BLOCKED

After his first six-pointer, Baken tried to kick for the conversion but Novato's Jerry Gaeir blocked it. After Paydo's next touchdown, the conversion was for the tying point. The Trojans set up as if to kick, but instead, Paul Lee caught the snap from center and passed. Up went Novato's Corder and he got a hand on the ball to bat it down before it got more than three feet away from Lee's arm. Corder's move probably saved the triumph for Novato because Terra Linda's best receiver, John Forry, was all alone in the end zone waiting for the ball that never came.

But the Trojan's weren't through yet. Baken tried an onsides kick and it worked to perfection, with Trojan guard Jim Crisp falling on the ball on the 50-yard line. Terra Linda was back in business.

NORMAN STARS

Norman, who passed for 161 of Terra Linda's 306 yards, completed an aerial to Craig Hill for 27 yards and the Trojans had a first down on the Novato 26. Two plays later it was third and six on the 22, with only 29 seconds left in the game. The Terra Linda side of the field was going wild.

Norman hit Hill with a pass deep in the end zone and it looked like it was over for Novato, but an official who was right on top of the play ruled that one of Hill's feet was out of the end zone when he caught the ball. So it was just an incomplete pass, as a huge collective sigh of relief came from the Novato stands. On the next play Norman threw another strike, this time to Forry near the sidelines, but he juggled the ball and didn't have complete possession as he went out of bounds.

The ball went over to Novato and the Hornets ate up the remaining seconds on the clock.

St. Vincent's Wins

Quarteback Mike Fitzgerald passed for two touchdowns and ran another to lead the St. Vincent's School for Boys to a 20-19 triumph over Redwood frosh Friday. His TD passes were 70 yards to Herman Mahurin and 13 yards to Mike Spreou. It was the Eagles' second straight win.

Drake Punches Out 14-0 Win Over Spunky Wildcats

By MAURICE WEINGER

Drake wore down a spirited Marin Catholic team Saturday night to blank the Wildcats 14-0 at Kentfield in the opening Marin Athletic League game for both teams.

The Pirate win was overshadowed by the fine showing of the underdog Wildcats who played the defending MCAL champions even for almost three quarters. It was an inspirational Marin effort, but the Wildcats weakened in the third quarter as most of their players were playing both offense and defense.

For the first half, however, it was quite a defensive show. Wildcats Jim Ghiringhelli, Bruce Grove, Edd Lencioni, Rich Woodall, Gary Wittenmeir and Stan Hardeman kept the Drake team in complete check.

Hardeman was the unsung hero for Marin. This 5-9, 145-pounder not only played well on offense as he repeatedly got behind the Pirate secondary only to have the ball thrown to the wrong side, but the senior's defensive play was outstanding as he kept the aerial game of Drake shut out by knocking down many important passes.

BIG GUN

Big gun for Drake was halfback Dean Lazzarini. With the Marin team keying on him with every play, the senior sprinter took the challenge and found the right openings during the contest.

Lazzarini, while scoring both touchdowns, was the player who set up the scores with some great running—when he found daylight.

In the third quarter, a long punt by Bob Lombardi was taken by Lazz on his 33 and the senior brought it back to the Wildcat 43. Reserve Dave Simonini, taking Tony Iacopi's place teamed with Lazz and helped bring the ball down to the 23 where the great sprinter found a hole around right end, cut back and raced 20 more yards to the four.

Simonini tried the left side for two and Big Dean finished the drive with 43 seconds left in the quarter.

Some nifty ball exchanges helped stir Drake up prior to its second touchdown. An attempted punt by Lombardi was blocked by Doug Manuel, but the ball, in bouncing around, fell into the hands of Wildcat Mike Giamocini. The runner took off for a possible first down, but was stopped short on the Pirate 28.

DRAKE TROUBLED

Drake, still in trouble, was penalized another 15 yards on its first play, but Lazzarini started things moving in the right direction with three and then 31 over his left end. Simonini added another nine on two carries and a five-yard penalty against Marin gave Drake a first down on the opponents' 39.

Lazzarini, doing more running over defenders this year than in the previous two, ran through two Wildcats for 16 and Simonini added three when the defense was keyed to his teammate.

The play that broke the Wildcats' backs was the power sweep for Lazzarini. Taking the ball on the 20, the senior ran around left end, cut to the outside and picking up a great block by Don Alvarado, who came over from his right end spot to clean out the lane, leaving the way clear for the second score.

FOUR CHANCES

Marin had four chances to score, but each time its pass went incomplete. In the first quarter end Mike Stompel was in the end zone only to have the ball bounce off his fingers and the ensuing play also was incomplete on the exact pattern. Hardeman found it clear in the

TAM'S POWER UPSETS SAN RAFAEL BY 14-0

By MAURICE WEINGER

Showing the power that made Tamalpais a winner during his playing days, Coach Willie Hector unleashed his Indians for the second time on Marin turf to upset the San Rafael Bulldogs, 14-0, before 2,000 fans.

The Indians, who went into the game with a 2-0 record against non-league opposition, took charge on the College of Marin field last Saturday with scoring drives in the first and third quarters by using power plays and traps that completely broke the back of the Bulldogs in their Marin Athletic League opener.

Hector, who played his high school ball during the 1950s at the Mill Valley school, had his players controlling the game with a ground game that picked up 13 first downs and 136 yards rushing.

MANY HEROES

Heroes were many for Tamalpais. There were backs Kirk Sparks and Mike Fowler who couldn't and wouldn't be stopped when one and as many as three San Rafael players tackled them; there was quarterback Tom Lecy, a senior who played his freshman year at Tamalpais but moved to Chicago during his sophomore and junior year and came back this year to lead the signal calling, and finally the linemen, notibly Ken Blasingame, Ernie Bergman, Gary Stephens, Horace White and Gary Cotten.

Tamalpais' first score was completely ground out starting from its own 12 yard line. Fowler and Sparks carried the ball and made all the yardage. The bigger Sparks used the trap play over the middle for the greater amount of yards, the big one a 21-yarder to Tam's 38 followed by end runs by Fowler that moved the ball to the Bulldog 26.

ALL SPARKS

Sparks added another three to the 23 and Fowler gained four off right end. Then it was all Sparks as the junior runner just drove first for 12 and then for the final two and pay dirt.

The second scoring drive was almost a carbon copy of the first. Taking the second half kickoff, James Cook moved the ball nicely for 30 yards to his own 35-yard line. Again it was Fowler, the sophomore who has been the big factor in Tamalpais previous two victories. The shifty halfback carried four straight times gaining 11 yards followed by another 11-yard pass from Lecy to Fowler that put the ball to the San Rafael 43.

The big play in the drive was another pass from Lecy to Fred Hilton for 14 yards and Tamalpais was down to the Bulldog 22 with a first down.

Sparks drove for seven up the middle and Fowler followed with another four to the 11. Then Sparks, with three men hanging onto him, bulled his way to the one and it took three plays with Sparks capping the drive for the final yard.

Defensive halfback Dave Salaun saved an early touchdown attempt in the first quarter when the Bulldogs, who recovered a punt fumble, tried for a quick score from a pass by Bill Joost that the defender knocked down in the end zone.

AN UNDERWATER HUNT—These men, diving at 65 feet, are hunting marine life off Grand Cayman Island in the British West Indies. Their weapons, however, are cameras, not spearguns. In the foreground with camera and floodlights is Leroy French of San Anselmo. Other diver is Bruce Robertson of San Rafael. The photo was taken by one of their three other companions on the summer photo expedition, Bill Kane of San Rafael.

Divers Play Ball With Odd Fish

By STEPHEN COOK

Below 40 feet of water in the British West Indies, two Marin County men played a game of catch last month, tossing back and forth a frightened "puffer fish"—a variety of fish which blows itself up like a basketball when excited.

This was just one of the scenes captured on film by five Marin men on a photographic expedition into the underwater world off those islands.

Heading the expedition was Leroy French of San Anselmo, co-owner of the Bamboo Reef, a San Rafael store specializing in skin diving equipment.

With him were George Krohn, Bruce Robertson and Bill Kane of San Rafael and Jim Robinson of Mill Valley.

The men went first to Freeport in the Grand Bahamas for a convention of the Underwater Society of America.

Their first serious diving came at Little Cayman Island in the British West Indies.

French reports they spent a week on that island, which has a population of 12 persons, diving on old Spanish galleons sunk nearby and photographing the marine life.

The water was at a temperature of 88 degrees, he said, and clear. Visibility under water was 100 feet.

At Grand Cayman Island, where they stayed three weeks, the photographic sessions underwater began in earnest. French took both still shots and movies.

He and his crew took most of their films and photos at night, assuming that was the time when they would be able to see the more unusual varieties of marine life.

French reports they dived about three hours each night, beginning at midnight. He used large floodlights mounted on the sides of his cameras for illumination.

Along with the underwater game of catch, French says one of his more unusual shots is of a "basket star fish" known as Gorgon's Head, a variety which is visible only at night because of its talents at camouflage.

The first showing of French's film will be at the international underwater film festival at Santa Monica early next year.

French says that when the film, 16-millimeter and in color, is edited and reprinted, it will be available for use by schools and clubs in the area.

First Grade Pupil Gets Lots Of Reading Material

A first grade pupil in the San Rafael Elementary School District can go through $167 worth of reading material in a year, according to Asst. Supt. William C. Jordan of San Rafael City Schools.

He cited the costs of books as one of the financial burdens which has resulted in the district calling an election Oct. 12 for a 50-cent increase in its general operating tax limit from $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation to $2.25. (Over-ride taxes and bond redemption are in addition to this limitation.)

First graders have access to $167 worth of reading, arithmetic, science, health and music books, Jordan said.

Schools must re-order each year as books wear out or are replaced by newly-adopted books, he said.

The textbooks used by a fifth grader, covering reading, spelling, arithmetic, language, science, health, handwriting, music, history and geography, cost $141, he said.

Fifth graders need less materials in the class room because they can use a library and spend a greater portion of their time in research, Jordan explained.

Because of increasing costs of books, furniture, supplies, equipment land and construction, the district has been forced to curtail repairs and maintenance.

There is evidence to show that pupils achieve better in small classes, and "the students of San Rafael should have the same educational advantages of other school systems," Jordan said.

Vendetta Murders Decrease In Egypt

ASSIUT, U.A.R. (UPI)—Vendetta killings, for which this "Sicily of Egypt" has held the country's uncontested lead, have dropped by 25 per cent over the last 10 years.

Biannual figures on crime in the province, published by the weekly Sabah El-Khair, showed 324 vendetta murders were committed in 1963, against 442 in 1953.

If the trend continues, 1965 is expected to have an all - time low record of less than 300 such murders in the province.

The Assiut province in southern Egypt is famed for family fueds which continue for generations. In some villages traditions require that a slain man's family remain in mourning until his death is avenged and "the disgrace is wiped away."

A vendetta murder is sometimes suspended for scores of years until the original killer serves his prison term and is released from jail, or until the victim's son grows old enough to kill.

The government has launched a drive aimed at bringing peace between feuding families through the mediation of village councils, social service workers and local officials and digni-

Cal's Joy May Be Brief As Bears Face Air Force Next

BERKELEY (AP) — California's Hay Willsey might find his enjoyment short lived.

For his Bears, after winning their first game, travel to Colorado Springs this week to face the Air Force Academy Falcons who came within 18 seconds of up setting the Stanford Indians.

They finally fell 17-16 on Terry DeSylvia's field goal.

California, meanwhile, was handing the Kansas Jayhawks their first whitewash since 1958, a span of 68 games, as an alert defense fashioned a 17-0 victory.

"I think I'm going to enjoy being a winner," commented Coach Willsey whose forces had lost to both Notre Dame and Michigan. "This is the type of football game we are trying to play at Cal.

"It might be dull, but when you win, it's never too dull. I think we played excellent defense. The defensive team gave the offense the chances to score."

The defensive team also held Kansas to just 97 yards net, recovered two Jayhawk fumbles and intercepted a pass.

"The best thing was that when the breaks came, we were able to capitalize on them," the coach continued. "It was a better overall effort than at Michigan (7-10)."

Dan Sinclair kicked a 19-yard field goal in the second period after a poor pass from center on a Kansas punt attempt. When Bill Lynch couldn't field the snap, Steve Radich grabbed him and Cal had possession at the 25.

Fullback Ron Minamide got the first California touchdown on a one-yard smash, the seventh play after Dick Bacon fumbled and Bob Smith recovered for the Bears at the KU 28.

In the fourth period, California drove 51 yards in 15 plays for the final score—another one-yard smash, this time by reserve fullback Frank Lynch. Sinclair booted both conversions.

Kansas Coach Jack Mitchell gave California full credit, saying, "They kept us from rolling. I thought the defense looked awfully good, but of course, our mistakes hurt us. Tom Relles is a fine runner, one of the better backs we've seen."

Newsmen voted Relles the outstanding back of the game. Lineman honors went to defensive tackle John Cantlon of the Bears.

Heap Worry For Stanford Tribe

STANFORD (AP)—Undefeated but tied and worried, the Stanford Indians battle the unbeaten Oregon Ducks this Saturday to determine the dark horse in the Rose Bowl race.

Tied by Navy in their second game of the season, the Indians nearly were shot down by the Air Force on Saturday before Terry DeSylvia gunned a field goal with just 18 seconds remaining for a 17-16 triumph at Colorado Springs.

Returning to their home grounds, the Indians now go against a hard running Oregon crew that already has beaten Pittsburgh, Utah and Brigham Young.

The pre-season analysis pointed to Southern California and Washington, who battle this week in Seattle, as the top choices in he Pacific Atthletic Conference, with Stanford and Oregon next in line.

Stanford downed San Jose State 26-6 in the opener and then as held to a 7-7 deadlock by underdog Navy.

The Air Force took aim quickly and built a 9-0 lead on Dan Radtke's 35-yard field goal, and a disputed touchdown.

From the Stanford five, quarterback Paul Stein passed to end Guy Hogel in the end zone. The ball jolted out of Hogel's hands and out of bounds but officials ruled it a touchdown.

Held scoreless in the first half, Stanford marched 84 yards in 12 plays to score in the third as Ray Handley pounded over from the two.

Bob Barnes of the Falcons promptly ran back the kickoff 97 yards and it was 16-7.

Stanford roared back to move 92 yards in 16 plays for its second touchdown with Bob Blunt taking a pitchout from Dave Lewis to race around left end for the score. DeSylvia added his second conversion.

The Air Force came deep into Stanford territory only to have Radtke miss a field goal from 25 yards out.

Late in the game, Stanford marched back from its 21. Lewis finally hit end Mike Connelly at the Air Force 14.

Lewis threw out of bounds to stop the clock and in came the 151-pound DeSylvia, who started his collegiate career at Oregon, and he split the uprights on a 28-yard kick.

The victory proved costly for the start of the Indians' PAC campaign. Blunt suffered torn knee ligaments and coach John Ralston said he'll apparently need surgery that would keep him out all season. Also hurt and sidelined for at least the Oregon game was Glenn Myers, the starting linebacker who suffered a dislocated shoulder.

An Easier Job For Raiders Next Week

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—After four tough games, which they split, the Oakland Raiders figure to have it easier next Sunday when they tangle with the winless Boston Patriots in the second game of their three-game eastern swing.

The Raiders got the maximum mileage out of a sputtering attack against the toughest defense in the American Football League yesterday but it wasn't enough as they bowed to the Buffalo Bills, 17-12.

They gained only 93 yards rushing and 64 passing. Alan Miller scored Oakland's only touchdown on a five-yard pass from Tom Flores. The other points came as a result of a 33-yard field goal by Gene Mingo and a safety.

Buffalo, meanwhile, boasting one of the league's best quarterbacks in Jack Kemp and three top pass receivers in flanker Elbert Dubenion, spread end Glenn Bass and tight end Ernie Warlick, rolled for 140 yards on the ground and 123 in the air to gain its fourth victory of the season.

Buffalo scored on a 20-yard field goal by Pete Gogolak, a one-yard dash by Billy Joe and a three-yard pass from Kemp to Warlick.

The Bills moved on top 10-0 but the Raiders fought back for a halftime tie. Then Buffalo scored on the Kemp to Warlick pass in the third period and as things turned out those were the winning points.

The Raiders made one final move to score seven minutes into the fourth period, driving to the Bills' 20-yard line. There, the Bills stopped the Raiders cold and Mingo missed a field goal from the 26.

Oakland got its only TD on a 77-yard seven play march. The safety came in the third period when the Oakland defenders chased Kemp through the end zone from the Buffalo four.

The Raiders will remain east until they have concluded their swing. After the Patriots game, they go to New York to play the Jets.

RALSTON IS UPSET

Riessen Surprises In Pacific Tennis

BERKELEY (AP) — The best U.S. and South African players are trying today to forget Martin Riessen's performance in the Pacific Coast International Tennis Championships.

Riessen of Evanston, Ill., ranked 10th in the United States, upset top-ranked Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, 5-7, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, 8-6 yesterday and won the singles championship.

Riessen and Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio then defeated South African champion Cliff Drysdale and Roger Taylor of Great Britain 0-6, 6-4, -6, for the doubles crown.

On Saturday, Riessen knocked Drysdale out of the singles, 3-6, Drysdale, who also holds Germany's championship, had been runnerup to Manuel Santana of Spain in the U. S. National Tennis Championships at Forest Hills, N. Y.

Riessen, a Davis Cup team member, leaves today for a four-month tour that will include all Australian tournaments.

Judy Tegart of Australia won the women's singles with a 6-4, 3-6, 7-5 victory over Rosemary Casals of San Francisco. Miss Tegart also won the Pacific Coast championship last year.

In the women's doubles finals, Miss Tegart and Mrs. Carol Graebner, wife of Clark Graebner, defeated Miss Casals and Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Tegart and Jim McManus of Berkeley won the mixed doubles championship from Lynne Abbes of Orinda, Calif. and Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md. 6-2, 6-1.

Nash, Koper Dropped By Warriors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Assn. cut second-year players Cotton Nash and Bud Koper yesterday and announced their co-top draft choice, Fred Hetzel of Davidson, would miss the first month of the regular season because of a severed tendon in the little finger of his left hand.

Hetzel was scheduled for surgerey this morning in San Francisco. Although he could play with a protective splint, doctors feared permanent deformity.

The cuts and the injury to the All America Hetzel means the Warriors were down to 10 players, two under the NBA limit.

Nash was an All America at Kentucky and the No. 1 draft choice of the Los Angeles Lakers last season before being cut and picked up by the Warriors. Koper was the 1964 No. 3 draft choice of the Warriors after a high-scoring career at Oklahoma City.

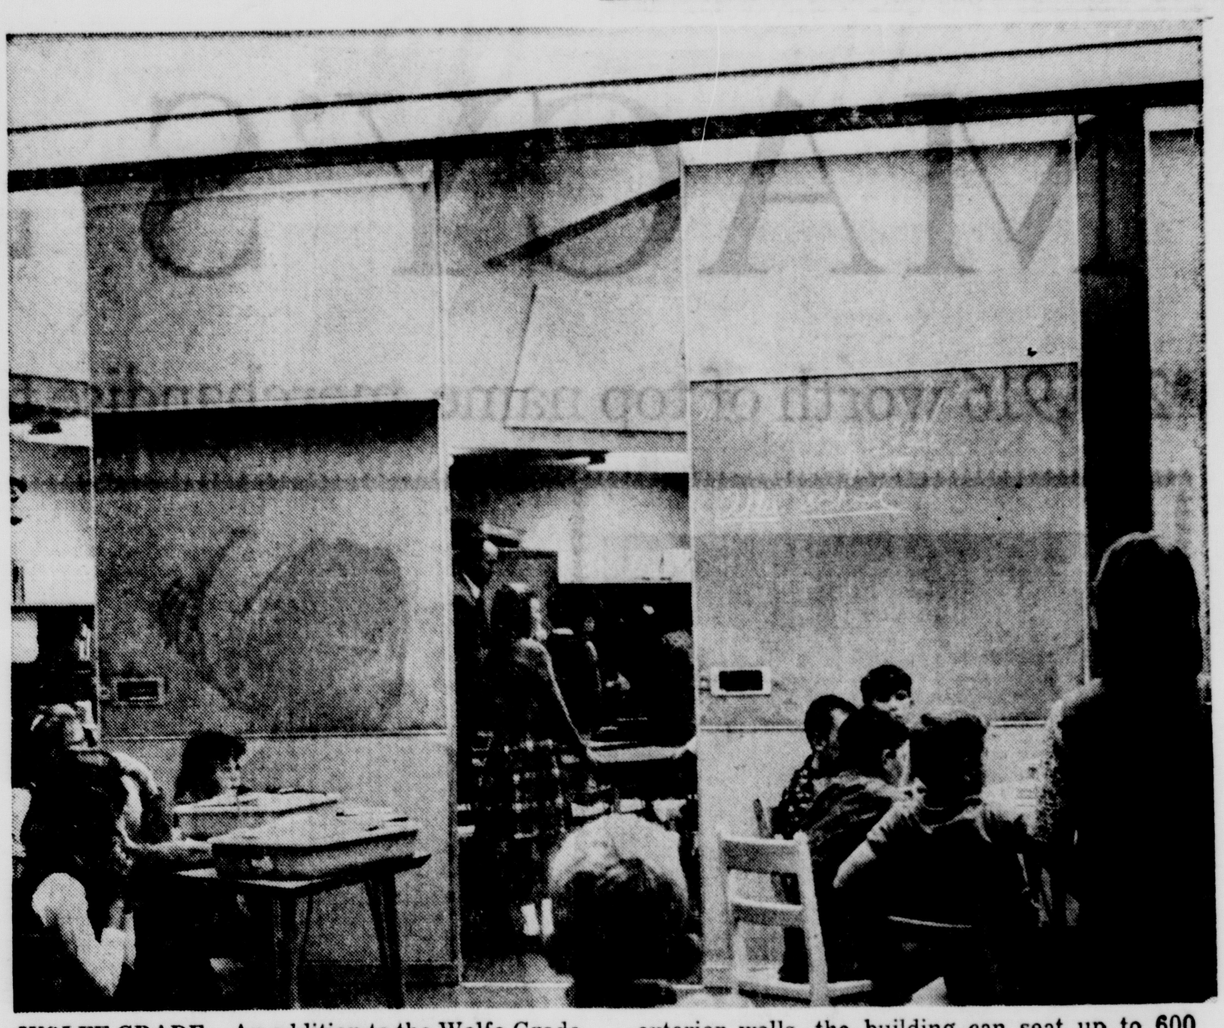
PLEASANT VALLEY—The new Pleasant Valley Valley School in Novato is air conditioned to shield youngsters from the hot North Marin spring and fall sun. Walls of many rooms fold back, making the interior corridor into part of the classroom. Hills stretch away to the horizon in this direction, but on the other side, beyond the camera's range, the suburbs are closing in.



WOLFE GRADE—An addition to the Wolfe Grade School in the Kentfield School District is built with sliding-panel walls between rooms. The structure is built in the shape of a duo-decagon. If all panels are pushed into their slots within the exterior walls, the building can seat up to 600 persons. Teachers were sliding the walls closed in this photo, after having opened them so that all of the six classes in the building could listen to a science-history lecture.

Marin Races To Build Classrooms

The architecture in most cases is not great, but youngsters this fall have returned to more new classrooms as school districts throughout Marin try to keep up with the burdgeoning suburban population.

Some districts, such as Mill Valley, have new portable classrooms. Some school buildings, such as the library portion of the San Rafael High School addition, still have workmen instead of students in them.

Different ideas abound, such as the Reed district team teaching room now being built, which has one huge room for more than 100 students, and a one-way glass observation cage for visitors to see how team teaching works.

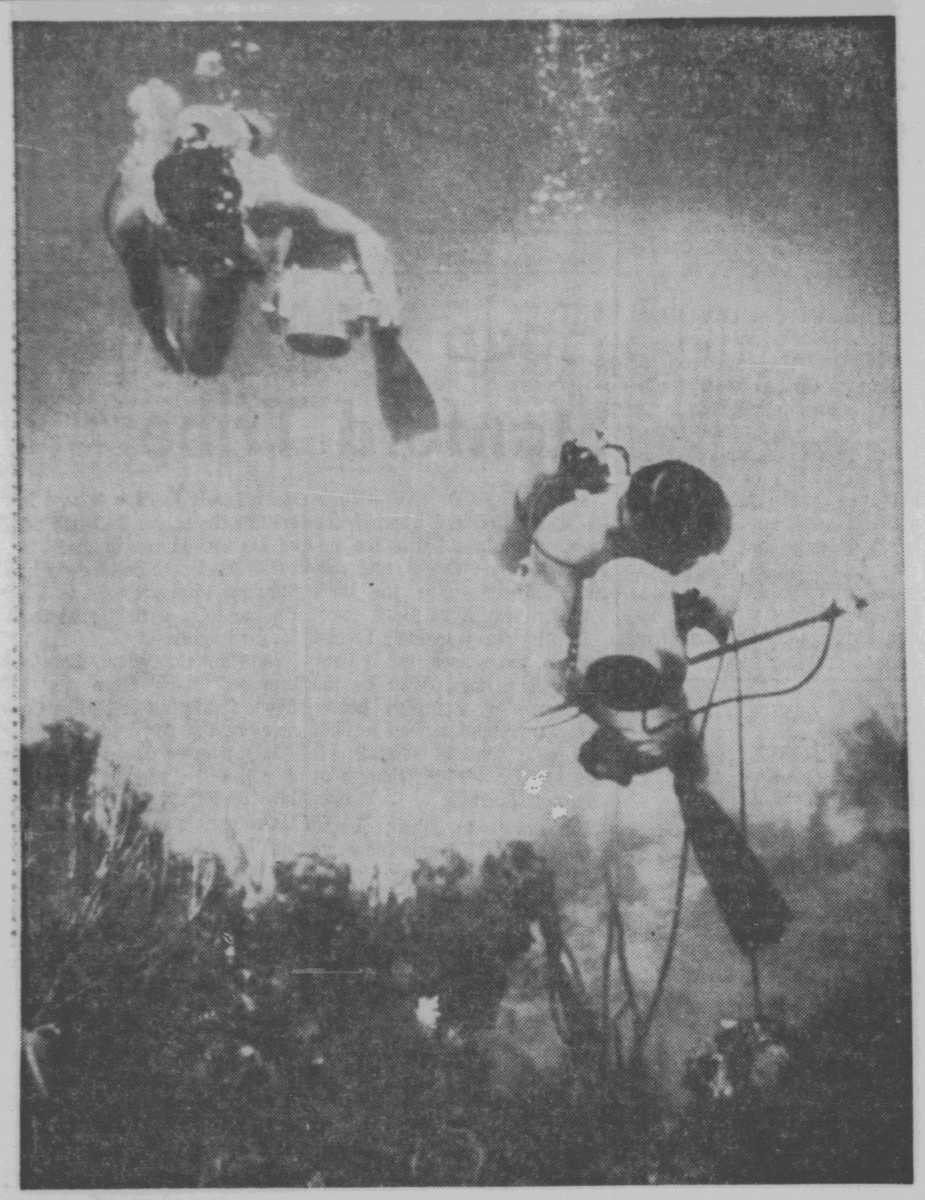
Taxpayers continually feel the bite of new construction necessitated by those who move to Marin with young families. The county is young, compared to old, settled districts in which all space has been filled with homes for years.

The average elementary school population in Marin public schools last year was 28,111, compared to 26,186 two years before that. And 10 years ago, the elementary age population numbered only 14,642.

The end to the school population growth is not yet in sight.

GOING UP — The Dixie School off Lucas Valley Road in Marinwood is under construction. The separate buildings with redwood exteriors and sloping roof lines fit in with the semi-country atmosphere.

SCHOOL LIBRARIES — In years past, school libraries were known for having collections of insipid books in a room set aside only because it was too small or ugly for a class room. Today schools are vying with each other in building big, bright libraries and are competing with statistics on how many books per pupil in each district. Carpeting is a usual furnishing in new libraries with school officials saying makes a quieter room, is conductive to browsing, is easier to maintain and is longer lasting than hard floors. Tracy Sleight, seventh grader at Richardson Bay School in Sausalito, in the photo at left, checks the book shelves of the bright, refurbished library made of two class rooms. At top, Richard Olson, a sixth grader at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur reads a book and uses the carpet to best advantage. The school decided to open its new library, though tables and chairs have not arrived. At right is the new library at San Rafael High School. It's interior, still to be completed, will be bright with hanging lights and colored glass window panels as seen in the detail photo in the center. (Independent-Journal photos by Ellen Bry)



AN UNDERWATER HUNT—These men, diving at 65 feet, are hunting marine life off Grand Cayman Island in the British West Indies. Their weapons, however, are cameras, not spearguns. In the foreground with camera and floodlights is Leroy French of San Anselmo. Other diver is Bruce Robertson of San Rafael. The photo was taken by one of their three other companions on the summer photo expedition, Bill Kane of San Rafael.

Divers Play Ball With Odd Fish

By STEPHEN COOK

Below 40 feet of water in the British West Indies, two Marin County men played a game of catch last month, tossing back and forth a frightened "puffer fish"—a variety of fish which blows itself up like a basketball when excited.

This was just one of the scenes captured on film by five Marin men on a photographic expedition into the underwater world off those islands.

Heading the expedition was Leroy French of San Anselmo, co-owner of the Bamboo Reef, a San Rafael store specializing in skin diving equipment.

With him were George Krohn, Bruce Robertson and Bill Kane of San Rafael and Jim Robinson of Mill Valley.

The men went first to Freeport in the Grand Bahamas for a convention of the Underwater Society of America.

Their first serious diving came at Little Cayman Island in the British West Indies.

French reports they spent a week on that island, which has a population of 12 persons, diving on old Spanish galleons sunk nearby and photographing the marine life.

The water was at a temperature of 88 degrees, he said, and clear. Visibility under water was 100 feet.

At Grand Cayman Island, where they stayed three weeks, the photographic sessions underwater began in earnest. French took both still shots and movies.

He and his crew took most of their films and photos at night, assuming that was the time when they would be able to see the more unusual varieties of marine life.

French reports they dived about three hours each night, beginning at midnight. He used large floodlights mounted on the sides of his cameras for illumination.

Along with the underwater game of catch, French says one of his more unusual shots is of a "basket star fish" known as Gorgon's Head, a variety which is visible only at night because of its talents at camouflage.

The first showing of French's film will be at the international underwater film festival at Santa Monica early next year.

French says that when the film, 16-millimeter and in color, is edited and reprinted, it will be available for use by schools and clubs in the area.

First Grade Pupil Gets Lots Of Reading Material

A first grade pupil in the San Rafael Elementary School District can go through $167 worth of reading material in a year, according to Asst. Supt. William C. Jordan of San Rafael City Schools.

He cited the costs of books as one of the financial burdens which has resulted in the district calling an election Oct. 12 for a 50-cent increase in its general operating tax limit from $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation to $2.25. (Over-ride taxes and bond redemption are in addition to this limitation.)

First graders have access to $167 worth of reading, arithmetic, science, health and music books, Jordan said.

Schools must re-order each year as books wear out or are replaced by newly-adopted books, he said.

The textbooks used by a fifth grader, covering reading, spelling, arithmetic, language, science, health, handwriting, music, history and geography, cost $141, he said.

Fifth graders need less materials in the class room because they can use a library and spend a greater portion of their time in research, Jordan explained.

Because of increasing costs of books, furniture, supplies, equipment land and construction, the district has been forced to curtail repairs and maintenance.

There is evidence to show that pupils achieve better in small classes, and "the students of San Rafael should have the same educational advantages of other school systems," Jordan said.

Vendetta Murders Decrease In Egypt

ASSIUT, U.A.R. (UPI)—Vendetta killings, for which this "Sicily of Egypt" has held the country's uncontested lead, have dropped by 25 per cent over the last 10 years.

Biannual figures on crime in the province, published by the weekly Sabah El-Khair, showed 324 vendetta murders were committed in 1963, against 442 in 1953.

If the trend continues, 1965 is expected to have an all - time low record of less than 300 such murders in the province.

The Assiut province in southern Egypt is famed for family fueds which continue for generations. In some villages traditions require that a slain man's family remain in mourning until his death is avenged and "the disgrace is wiped away."

A vendetta murder is sometimes suspended for scores of years until the original killer serves his prison term and is released from jail, or until the victim's son grows old enough to kill.

The government has launched a drive aimed at bringing peace between feuding families through the mediation of village councils, social service workers and local officials and digni-

SCHOOL LIBRARIES — In years past, school libraries were known for having collections of insipid books in a room set aside only because it was too small or ugly for a class room. Today schools are vying with each other in building big, bright libraries and are competing with statistics on how many books per pupil in each district. Carpeting is a usual furnishing in new libraries with school officials saying makes a quieter room, is conductive to browsing, is easier to maintain and is longer lasting than hard floors. Tracy Sleight, seventh grader at Richardson Bay School in Sausalito, in the photo at left, checks the book shelves of the bright, refurbished library made of two class rooms. At top, Richard Olson, a sixth grader at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur reads a book and uses the carpet to best advantage. The school decided to open its new library, though tables and chairs have not arrived. At right is the new library at San Rafael High School. It's interior, still to be completed, will be bright with hanging lights and colored glass window panels as seen in the detail photo in the center. (Independent-Journal photos by Ellen Bry)

'Individuality Lost In Hungary'—Artist

By BETTY FROST

"Poor Hungarians who used to be so individual, have had to give up their individuality," observed vivacious Mrs. Alexander G. Tarics, who had lived in Hungary under the pre-war regime, and recently was able to visit what she calls "the other side of the world."

After an absence of 21 years, the Belvedere woman returned to her native Hungary for a month-long stay with her grandmother, Mrs. Eugene Kovach-Kvassay, and aunt, Mrs. Bela Szabo in Budapest.

Nelcy Tarics, who fled Hungary with her parents during World War II, made plans for the long-awaited visit when restrictions on travel to Hungary were relaxed two years ago. Now Hungary invites the tourist trade.

"AT FIRST," she said "the changes don't hit you. The city has been beautifully rebuilt since the so-called 'liberation' of Hungary by Russia in World War II." The exteriors of the structures, except for some remaining damage from the street fights during the revolt of 1965, have been repainted. "Then," said Nelcy, her hazel eyes serious, you begin to notice the big red star everywhere and communist party slogans on the buildings. It is hard to understand that everything belongs to the state, and that everything is state organized."

In most cases, the interiors of the buildings have not been maintained since World War II. The living standard is so minimum that few can afford to buy a can of paint and do the work themselves. The state is everybody's landlord, so for such services the citizen must apply to the state and be prepared for long delays.

HUNGARIANS, who dwell in a beautiful fertile valley with picturesque waterways, surrounded by mountains, have had their land invaded again and again throughout history. Military defeats in World War I took away their holdings in Transylvania, Croatia and Slovakia. The people, says Mrs. Tarics, have kept their language and national character through centuries of unrest and now they are trying to take the present order in their stride.

Because of their inability to own anything, aside from small personal possessions, like clothes and furniture, and the low income level, they seek some pleasures in life to enjoy. Restaurants are filled, gypsy bands play, food and wine is plentiful and cheap. An excelient dinner with wine in a top restaurant costs about 90 cents. Delicious pastries, beautifully decorated, are served at sidewalk cafes for four cents.

Friendly, interested in everything, and of course, fluent in Hungarian, Nelcy talked to many people in all walks of life —workmen, policemen, family friends and heard the universal complaint, "We are not well paid." The Belvedere woman found people eager for news from the West. She suddenly found that she was expected to be an authority on all the vital issues of the day. "I tried to be a good ambassador," she said, seriously.

ON THE PLUS SIDE, Mrs. Tarics felt the cultural aspects were superb. Museums housing art treasures have been repaired and rebuilt, there are more than 20 theaters offering a variety of dramatic presentations, the opera is open all year, and the world's outstanding musicians are engaged to perform with the symphony.

She found the city full of flowers and admired well tended parks and trees. A custom that surprised the visitor was the use of placards noting that a certain plot of flowers in a park was given and maintained by workers in a particular industry or factory.

Alex and Nelcy Tarics, although cut off from their native land for so many years, have maintained such ties as they could. Dr. Tarics, who has architectural offices in San Francisco, left Hungary in 1948 to come to this country as a professor of engineering, first at Indiana University, then at the University of California. He holds a doctorate in architecture from the Hungarian Technical University. He had been a member of the 1936 gold-medal winning Hungarian Olympic water polo team. (When Mrs. Tarics was in Budapest, she visited the sports arena, where the medallion marking the team's victory at Berlin, and giving the names of Alex and his fellow players was still on display.)

IN 1956 AFTER the Hungarian revolt against the Soviet regime, more than one hundred refugees came to the Tarics home in Belvedere seeking help. Among them were the Hungarian athletes who had taken part in the Olympic games in Melbourne that year. The Belvedere architect helped many of these young men find jobs in the Bay Area. Mr. and Mrs. Tibor Szilas and their twin daughters, Tony and Judy, stayed in the Tarics home until they could get settled. They now live in Corte Madera.

THE TARICS' older daughter, Esther, became the bride of Richard Scull Stauffer Jr., of York, Pa. on Sept. 18, and handembroidered linens from Budapest, the work of Esther's great aunt, were among her most treasured wedding gifts. Bobbie, 11, attends Marin Country Day School, and Linda, 9, is a student at Dominican Convent Lower School. The family has lived in Belvedere for 13 years.

Nelcy Tarics is a talented artist, whose water colors and acrilics are frequently displayed in Marin County. She is a member of the Marin Society of Artists. She regretted that she could not spare the time to paint some of the Hungarian scenes during her visit.

Now that the Iron Curtain has opened a little, Nelcy bubbles with optimistic plans. She is eagerly looking forward to the arrival of her 86-year-old grandmother for a family Christmas celebration in Belvedere, and contemplating a trip to Hungary for the whole family in the future.

BACK IN HER BELVEDERE HOME, Mrs. Alexander G. Tarics reminisces about her recent sojourn in Hungary, her native land. Mrs. Tarics displays an apron, embellished with the typical bright Hungarian embroidery, and an antique shepherd's water jug which has been in her family for 125 years.

"AUTUMN ENCHANTMENT" will be this year's theme, featuring "Daybreak," "Morning Haze," "High Noon," "Eventide," "Our Winged Friends," and "Lazy Autumn" as titles of the arrangement sections, and "Ghosts" and "Halloween Mood" for juniors. An "invitational" section, not to be judged, calls for a prayer for peace in the Oriental style as well as American style. Another section calls for two table settings in "Committee Meets for Luncheon" and "After the Football Game."

Mrs. Neal Van Horn of Larkspur, chairman, design division, will mail the schedule upon request, and registration will be prior to Oct. 10. Late entries will be exhibited, but not judged.

Olmsted-Bruner Ceremony Performed In Mill Valley

Mrs. Helen E. Bruner and Dr. Charles S. Olmsted of Pasadena were married Saturday evening in a 7 o'clock ceremony in the chapel of the Mill Valley Community Church.

The bride, who taught English one year at Tamalpais High School and for 16 years at Park School in Mill Valley, is the daughter of Mrs. Charles K. Harper of Mill Valley and the late Mr. Harper, longtime Mill Valley residents.

For the single ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Gordon L. Foster she wore a blue faille dinner suit with black accessories. Matron of honor was Mrs. Howard Inman of Hidden Valley, her former roommate at Stanford University, who wore a red silk suit.

Best man was the bride's son by a previous marriage, David Robertson, a student at Stanford. She has another son, Alex Robertson, a student at the University of Oregon, and a daughter, Mrs. Donald Davidson of Honolulu, the former Ann Robertson. She surprised her mother by bringing flowers for the wedding from Hawaii, where the couple met when both were on vacation.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Mill Valley home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rowe. The couple will have a delayed honeymoon in Mexico during the holidays.

The new Mrs. Olmsted is a graduate of Drew School in San Francisco and Stanford University with major in English. Her husband was graduated from Occidental College and the University of Southern California and has a dental practice in Pasadena. They will live in Arcadia.

The bridegroom has two sons by a previous marriage, Richard Olmsted, a student at the University of Oregon, and Charles Olmsted, who is serving as a lieutenance with the U.S. Navy in Viet Nam.

'Individuality Lost In Hungary'—Artist

By BETTY FROST

"Poor Hungarians who used to be so individual, have had to give up their individuality," observed vivacious Mrs. Alexander G. Tarics, who had lived in Hungary under the pre-war regime, and recently was able to visit what she calls "the other side of the world."

After an absence of 21 years, the Belvedere woman returned to her native Hungary for a month-long stay with her grandmother, Mrs. Eugene Kovach-Kvassay, and aunt, Mrs. Bela Szabo in Budapest.

Nelcy Tarics, who fled Hungary with her parents during World War II, made plans for the long-awaited visit when restrictions on travel to Hungary were relaxed two years ago. Now Hungary invites the tourist trade.

"AT FIRST," she said "the changes don't hit you. The city has been beautifully rebuilt since the so-called 'liberation' of Hungary by Russia in World War II." The exteriors of the structures, except for some remaining damage from the street fights during the revolt of 1965, have been repainted. "Then," said Nelcy, her hazel eyes serious, you begin to notice the big red star everywhere and communist party slogans on the buildings. It is hard to understand that everything belongs to the state, and that everything is state organized."

In most cases, the interiors of the buildings have not been maintained since World War II. The living standard is so minimum that few can afford to buy a can of paint and do the work themselves. The state is everybody's landlord, so for such services the citizen must apply to the state and be prepared for long delays.

HUNGARIANS, who dwell in a beautiful fertile valley with picturesque waterways, surrounded by mountains, have had their land invaded again and again throughout history. Military defeats in World War I took away their holdings in Transylvania, Croatia and Slovakia. The people, says Mrs. Tarics, have kept their language and national character through centuries of unrest and now they are trying to take the present order in their stride.

Because of their inability to own anything, aside from small personal possessions, like clothes and furniture, and the low income level, they seek some pleasures in life to enjoy. Restaurants are filled, gypsy bands play, food and wine is plentiful and cheap. An excellent dinner with wine in a top restaurant costs about 90 cents. Delicious pastries, beautifully decorated, are served at sidewalk cafes for four cents.

Friendly, interested in everything, and of course, fluent in Hungarian, Nelcy talked to many people in all walks of life —workmen, policemen, family friends and heard the universal complaint, "We are not well paid." The Belvedere woman found people eager for news from the West. She suddenly found that she was expected to be an authority on all the vital issues of the day. "I tried to be a good ambassador," she said, seriously.

ON THE PLUS SIDE, Mrs. Tarics felt the cultural aspects were superb. Museums housing art treasures have been repaired and rebuilt, there are more than 20 theaters offering a variety of dramatic presentations, the opera is open all year, and the world's outstanding musicians are engaged to perform with the symphony.

She found the city full of flowers and admired well tended parks and trees. A custom that surprised the visitor was the use of placards noting that a certain plot of flowers in a park was given and maintained by workers in a particular industry or factory.

Alex and Nelcy Tarics, although cut off from their native land for so many years, have maintained such ties as they could. Dr. Tarics, who has architectural offices in San Francisco, left Hungary in 1948 to come to this country as a professor of engineering, first at Indiana University, then at the University of California. He holds a doctorate in architecture from the Hungarian Technical University. He had been a member of the 1936 gold-medal winning Hungarian Olympic water polo team. (When Mrs. Tarics was in Budapest, she visited the sports arena, where the medallion marking the team's victory at Berlin, and giving the names of Alex and his fellow players was still on display.)

IN 1956 AFTER the Hungarian revolt against the Soviet regime, more than one hundred refugees came to the Tarics home in Belvedere seeking help. Among them were the Hungarian athletes who had taken part in the Olympic games in Melbourne that year. The Belvedere architect helped many of these young men find jobs in the Bay Area. Mr. and Mrs. Tibor Szilas and their twin daughters, Tony and Judy, stayed in the Tarics home until they could get settled. They now live in Corte Madera.

THE TARICS' older daughter, Esther, became the bride of Richard Scull Stauffer Jr., of York, Pa. on Sept. 18, and hand-embroidered linens from Budapest, the work of Esther's great aunt, were among her most treasured wedding gifts. Bobbie, 11, attends Marin Country Day School, and Linda, 9, is a student at Dominican Convent Lower School. The family has lived in Belvedere for 13 years.

Nelcy Tarics is a talented artist, whose water colors and acrilics are frequently displayed in Marin County. She is a member of the Marin Society of Artists. She regretted that she could not spare the time to paint some of the Hungarian scenes during her visit.

Now that the Iron Curtain has opened a little, Nelcy bubbles with optimistic plans. She is eagerly looking forward to the arrival of her 86-year-old grandmother for a family Christmas celebration in Belvedere, and contemplating a trip to Hungary for the whole family in the future.

BACK IN HER BELVEDERE HOME, Mrs. Alexander G. Tarics reminisces about her recent sojourn in Hungary, her native land. Mrs. Tarics displays an apron, embellished with the typical bright Hungarian embroidery, and an antique shepherd's water jug which has been in her family for 125 years.

Olmsted-Bruner Ceremony Performed In Mill Valley

The bride, who taught English one year at Tamalpais High School and for 16 years at Park School in Mill Valley, is the daughter of Mrs. Charles K. Harper of Mill Valley and the late Mr. Harper, longtime Mill Valley residents.

For the single ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Gordon L. Foster she wore a blue faille dinner suit with black accessories. Matron of honor was Mrs. Howard Inman of Hidden Valley, her former roommate at Stanford University, who wore a red silk suit.

It's Leather

Leather is hitting the separates market in a big way for fall. It's leather unlimited in new jackets, tops, skirts, pants, stoles and jumpers. That classic companion to skirts, pants and dresses—the leather jacket—shows more color and style this season than ever. Casual, tailored or dressy, the leather jacket is a wardrobe wonder.

Switch Linens

Rotate pastel-colored linens as you would white. Stripes and solids go well together and go with a variety of colors. Switch them around in use to give sheets and pillow cases a "rest."

Don't Play With Fire, Check Blaze Hazards

During the summer vacation period, parents have been warning children not to play with fire.

Now it's time to turn our attention to grown-ups who play with fire.

Many tragedies that strike the home during autumn and winter months will be due to the failings of adults, not youngsters.

We, who laugh at the proverbial joke about the fellow who struck a match to see if his gasoline tank were empty, proceed to strike a match or lighter to grope our way into a dark attic or closet.

We sometimes overload our electrical circuits and leave a trail of burning cigarettes balanced on ash trays or on table tops. We use our heating units without a second thought for defects, and sometimes turn on gas heaters without adequate ventilation.

Fire last year killed an estimated 11,900 persons in the United States. That would be like wiping out every living person in the entire community of Mill Valley or San Anselmo.

This is Fire Prevention Week. Let's take a tip from the list of reminders issued by the National Fire Protection Assn.

Never toss lighted matches away. Blow out the flame and hold the match to be sure it's out. Don't drop a used match in a wastebasket. Never smoke in bed.

Keep electrical appliances in good repair. When electrical cords become frayed, have them checked and replaced. Don't overload electrical circuits.

Have heating units checked by a qualified serviceman. Don't take the chance of having a unit conk out on a cold night.

Never use matches, lighters or candles to search dark attics or basements where combustibles are kept.

Get rid of old newspapers and accumulated rubbish.

Be careful of flammable clothing and curtains. Filmy nets, gauzes and ruffles, and some sweaters are more prone to catch fire than others.

And don't leave little children at home alone.

This is the time to remove hazards, reform careless habits, and plan for a warm and safe autumn and winter.

Marin's 'Canary'—The Goldfinch

Canaries are natives of Europe but Marin has its little yellow-green answer to Hartz Mountain or the Canary Isles or wherever canaries came from. The goldfinch is the closest in appearance to his caged cousin of any Marin bird.

Rather shy and on the flighty side, the goldfinch is not the sustained singer the canary is. But now and then it will warble a few cadenzas very prettily.

The goldfinch is a busy bird, nervously flying hither and yon, adding its bit of color to one tree, then another. Truly, a little beauty.

Signs Of Early Autumn

Marin's autumnal tide appears to be advancing early this year, according to some sources. These forecasters cite the early fall of the birch leaves and the uncommonly gray days of Labor Day weekend as signs.

We are a bit skeptical of signs. It is as though a birch or the geese or the wooly bear caterpillars had some innate knowledge for predicting the weather which man does not.

We will rely on the U.S. Weather Bureau. At least, they are known to be fallible.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Legislators Still Must Face Conflict Of Interest Problem

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The matter of "conflict of interest" in the state Legislature continues to crop up every so often, and no doubt will so continue for some time to come, unless the solons lay down specific rules and regulations governing the conduct of members, especially attorneys.

One of the latest instances of what might be regarded as such a conflict of interest is the filing of a complaint by Assemblyman Edwin I. Z'Berg, D-Sacramento, on behalf of the Sacramento Typographical Union No. 46, which seeks settlement of a dispute between the union and state printing plant.

The printers, in selecting Z'Berg as their attorney, have a representative before the law who actually is involved in making the law through the vote he can cast on issues. Or, if he should choose, the legislator could introduce legislation to invalidate the law, should the case go against his clients.

THE ISSUE in the case is inconsequential, being whether state printing plant employees are covered under holiday and vacations of the state's government code, or under the collective bargaining agreement which affects private industry printers in Sacramento. One of the items is whether the state printers get Oct. 12, Columbus Day, as a holiday.

The principle involved reaches somewhat further than the matter of the state holidays and printers who work for the state and enjoy some of the benefits of civil service employees.

THE PRINCIPLE is whether a state legislator, elected by the people and dedicated supposedly to serve all the people, has the moral privilege of taking money from one segment of the population, such as the union, to pursue a course which might be detrimental in the long run to the interests of all the people.

The representation at the present time is perfectly legal, as there are no fixed rules or laws on legislative conflict of interests. But many observers question the moral justification for legislator-attorneys to take accounts involving state departments and agencies, upon whose budgets they act and upon whose laws they cast a vote.

EARLIER, Sen. James A. Cobey, D-Merced, became involved in a suit pertaining to the state department of water resources, which has raised some questions along the same line. Senator Cobey is widely known as an authority on water litigation, but he has a powerful vote on matters affecting the department of water resources, as well as on budgetary and other laws pertaining to the department.

Legislators intervene at times before administration and appeals bodies of state departments. It cannot be said they receive special consideration, or that their clients are able to fix cases by working through the legislators, yet the feeling is somehow present that an elected representative has an "edge" in such cases.

The problem of conflict of interest is a knotty one, which cannot be easily solved, if it can be solved at all. It usually comes up when there is some outstanding abuse, but even when there isn't, the problem still is with the Legislature.

Conquered Nations Taking U.S. Torch?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Shortly before his visit to the U.S., Nikita Khrushchev said: "We cannot expect the Americans to jump from capitalism to communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of socialism, until they suddenly awake to find they have communism." (Small doses?)

While we lose our freedoms, the USSR finds it necessary to offer free-enterprise incentives to increase their production!

America's greatest benefit to the world has been, not the billions of borrowed money given to foreign governments, which has caused inflation and waste, here and abroad. America's greatest gift has been the example of what can be accomplished by free-enterprise capitalism with a heart, the freedom to work and to enjoy the fruits of one's labors, freedom to invent and progress, freedom of education and religion, freedom to choose what charities and missions one wishes to support.

Must we now pass the torch of freedom to Germany or Japan? It is reported that Germany has a million jobs unfilled. Chancellor Erhard attributes their phenomenal progress to "individual citizens voluntarily working for the common good as well as for themselves, a society in which responsibility is the corollary of freedom."

U.S. Constitution And Right Of Arms

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: Sept. 24 editorial on handgun restrictions.

The U.S. Constitution states "the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

Webster says "infringed means—to encroach, invade, intrude, contravene, break, transgress." The editor says "the Constitutional right to keep and bear arms is therefore not all-encompassing." What could be more encompassing than this law as stated by our Founding Fathers? According to the Constitution, the restrictions which have already been placed on firearms are unconstitutional, no matter how wise any one may consider them to be. There are proper means for altering the Constitution, which to my knowledge have not been observed in this regard. Only the vote of the people can do this.

Or is the editor one of our modern "liberals" who believe that the Constitution is outmoded? As to "barring a breakdown in law and order", what does the editor consider the present state of affairs to be? With all the increased crime, including sit-ins, lay-ins, teach-ins, ad nauseum. Does he by any chance think these people are just playing games? Is this the reason that he appears to blow all these demonstrations up, clear out of proportion? If our officials have the situation well in hand, why do we not see a stop put to all this disregard for law and order? When the First Amendment to the Constitution was written, our Founding Fathers could not foresee the day, when American citizens would work so diligently, to promote a foreign cause, all in the name of "freedom of assembly."

Marin Help Sought For Mississippi Girl

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Can someone help my friend, Lula Mae?

Lula Mae Evans and her family live in Maben, Miss. Lula Mae is 10 years old and she has nine brothers, from 1 to 18 years of age.

Last year, Mr. Evans lost his job as a pulpwood worker because he testified to the Mississippi Challenge lawyers. The Marin to Mississippi project heard about this family and our junior high group of the Unitarian Church of Marin sent down boxes of clothes, food, paper, etc. When the truck from Marin families went to Mississippi last Easter, Mrs. Evans was working as a housecleaner, but she lost her job soon after the shipment arrived. During the summer they worked in the fields when they could.

The Evans house consists of two rooms which are made of any wood they could find. There is a big stove in one of the rooms for heat.

In the Spring and Summer of this year, Lula Mae and I have written many letters. Her mother wrote too, and said she was going to have a baby in September. In the beginning of September, I wrote Lula Mae and asked her if her mother had had the baby yet. Her reply was " . . . Mother had a little girl but mother and the baby died so I don't have no mother . . . I stay with father and my brothers now. I will be a nice girl and go to school . . . "

If anyone can help the Evans family, their address is:

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

THE NEW safety devices being installed in 1966 models by the major automobile builders really are something. One of the most appealing is designed for taking care of wives who are inveterate back-seat drivers. You press a button, a trap door opens, and she is deposited right out onto the thruway.

PUZZLERS from Charlie Rice:

1. An ardent college senior was trying his darndest to persuade a girl he had met that evening to give him her telephone number. Finally she yielded, and told him, "It's QUentin 5-3407." That's when he realized he had struck out on three pitched balls. How did he know? Because no exchange can begin with the call letters "QU"; there is no "Q" on the telephone dial.

2. A big talker, who claimed he had wandered all through the continent of Australia, boasted "The surfing and sun bathing in Melbourne are at their best in August." That's when his audience tabbed him as an utter phony. Why? Because, in Australia, the month of August is in the middle of winter.

3. A subscriber to a library service swore he had left a twenty-dollar bill between pages 181 and 182 of a book he had returned that morning, and demanded recompense. The librarian laughed in his face. Why? Because, in every printed book, even-numbered pages are on the left, and odd-numbered pages on the right. Therefore, pages 181 and 182 are invariably back to back—and no bill could be tucked between them.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

British, Johnson Agree That Hanoi Stalls Viet Nam Peace

LONDON — If there is one point on which British official opinion and British public opinion are especially at one with the U.S., it is that the Hanoi Communists are solely to blame for not allowing the war in Viet Nam to go to the conference table.

President Lyndon B. Johnson may be having a hard time persuading playwright Arthur Miller that he has responded to Hanoi's stated conditions for a peace settlement, but Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart has done an extraordinary job showing the British people that the U.S.—and Britain—have been rebuffed in all their efforts to get the Communists to negotiate under any conditions.

Mr. Stewart is clearly the most plain-spoken, no-nonsense foreign secretary since Ernest Bevin. When it comes to expounding the issues in Viet Nam, he comes very near to being a Bundy, Rusk, and LBJ all rolled into one.

Stewart spurns the gobbledygook of diplomatic talk. He speaks bluntly and directly, whether he is addressing an Oxford teach-in or the Communist press in Belgrade. Too bad Miller wasn't around to get the facts.

"THE ONLY proposals that have come from North Viet Nam and her allies," he says, "is that, first, before any discussion, all U.S. troops shall leave, and secondly, that the affairs of Viet Nam shall be settled in accordance with the principles of the Communists and the Communists only. Now, that's the only proposal for solving the problem there is to the Communist side, that the Americans leave at once and that the Communists alone should determine the future of Viet Nam."

When Miller reached for the headlines by writing his letter to President Johnson, snubbing the White House invitation to attend the signing of the administration's aid for the arts bill, he gave as his reason the contention that the president has not "answered" these Communist proposals for ending the war.

HE HAS. The U.S. has stated that, even if these conditions are unacceptable, we will join in stopping the fighting and go to the conference table to see if other conditions cannot be worked out.

We have said yes to any conference Hanoi will attend.

Hanoi has said no to any conference that has been proposed.

Johnson said yes to Stewart's proposal of last March, that the Geneva Conference, which divided Viet Nam, be reconvened. The Communists said no.

JOHNSON SAID YES to a similar British proposal three months later. The Communists said no.

The truth is there is no basis in fact for Arthur Miller's assertion that the U.S. has not responded to the Hanoi proposals. Johnson has made 15 approaches for a peace conference and the Communists have rebuffed each one.

And why should Miller think that, by gracing a White House ceremony on the arts, his presence would imply he was supporting the president on Viet Nam? Perhaps he does not understand the principles of a free society in which each person can disagree with anybody else but still work together in good faith on those matters where we do agree.

U.S. Policies Aiding Santo Domingo Reds

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — U. S. military authorities in Santo Domingo are bitterly complaining that American policy, unless drastically changed, will pave the way for an eventual Communist take-over in the Dominican Republic.

In private discussions with visiting U. S. businessmen and confidential messages to members of Congress, these military officers are warning that only the Communist-infested rebels are gaining from the backstage efforts of U. S. officials to remove the Dominican Armed Forces from influence on that strife-torn island.

They urge that immediate pressure be brought on President Johnson to abandon this controversial policy before the U. S. supported provisional government of Dr. Hector Garcia-Godoy carries out plans to force present Dominican military leaders from their positions of power.

These U. S. military officers, including a general, are desperately seeking to block the removal of Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero, the strong anti-Communist head of the Dominican Armed Forces.

THEIR EMERGENCY reports reveal that President Garcia-Godoy is under extreme pressure from rebel supporters of ex-President Juan Bosch and U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, presidential troubleshooter, to replace the Dominican military leader.

The methods being used by Ambassador Bunker and other U. S. officials to try to oust Commodore Caminero are described as "very similar to those employed against General Elias Wessin y Wessin before he was forcefully exiled." It's charged that, as in General Wessin's case, an unsuccessful attempt was made by U. S. undercover agents to bribe Commodore Caminero.

The complaining U. S. military officers argue that it is nothing less than suicidal for our officials to use diplomatic, economic and military pressure to oust these Dominican military leaders while permitting several hundred Communists, trained in guerrilla warfare in Cuba, to remain unmolested on the island.

UNDER THE TIGHT policy limitations the White House has placed on U. S. military forces assigned to the Organization of American States, no U. S. effort can be made to expel or even check on the whereabouts of these deadly armed Red terrorists. U. S. forces are barred from entering the rebel-held zone in Santo Domingo.

According to complaining U. S. military officers, a number of these "professional" Communist guerrillas are on the rebel payroll, which is entirely financed by U. S. economic aid. These Castro-trained agents are in one instance using U. S. funds to train an army of guerrillas and saboteurs from students in the OAS-protected sanctuary.

"THERE HAS NEVER been a situation quite like this in all history," one U. S. officer told a Washington exporter.

Rep. H. R. Gross, one of the legislators in contact with these military sources, reports that a high-ranking State Department official has privately confirmed that U. S. economic aid is being used to pay rebel forces in the Dominican Republic.

THE IOWA REPUBLICAN also reveals that a defector from the rebel forces of Col. Francisco A. Caamano has voluntarily given U. S. intelligence authorities details of his training in Communist Cuba for subversion and guerrilla warfare and of his role in the revolt.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RICK LYTTLE

Supervisors Are All-Time Champions Of Interruptions

Marin supervisors constitute one of the interruptingest quintets in the county, perhaps in the state.

Interrupting each other all the time is really not very serious, but they also interrupt the intrepid who appear before them. This is not just serious; it's plain rude.

Strange thing is that the supervisors know they are doing it and often interrupt to scold each other about it, but it goes on like a compulsion.

Those wise to the ways of the board have learned to beat the problem by putting what they have to say in writing and asking County Clerk George H. Gnoss to read it.

Supervisors usually don't interrupt the clerk.

IT IS UNFAIR to generalize. Actually Supervisors Peter H. Behr, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Byron W. Leydecker are the worst offenders.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss' words are so infrequent that they have become pearls. Yet even this string of pearls is broken by interruptions.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer also does not interrupt, but one sometimes suspects he is trying for the last word. He prefaces any remarks these days with a common plaint.

"I haven't had a chance to speak on this yet," he says.

LAST WEEK, Betty L. Presley, director of the department of social services, was before the board to answer questions. She never got a chance to complete a sentence. But Miss Presley had written a letter to the board and that helped some.

There are really only two ways of solving this. One is the plan I have advocated for some time and that is reducing the membership on the board from five to one. It would reduce substantially the number of interruptions.

THE OTHER solution is really only a half measure, but it might serve until we have a one-man board. That would be a requirement that any supervisor wishing to speak would have to stand. If someone else were speaking, he would have to wait on his feet.

This would not only restore some order to the proceedings, but it would also free three very comfortable chairs for use in other departments of the county. I wager Behr, Kettenhofen and Leydecker would be on their feet all the time.

UNLESS SOME measures are taken soon, these board meetings will become impossible.

As a reporter, I have already been tempted to follow those who have appeared before the board from the chamber and ask:

"Now, what was it you intended to say?"

My only fear is that some of them might break out in tears.

ART BUCHWALD

You're Not In Unless You Fit Camp, Jet Set Descriptions

WASHINGTON—There have been so many lists of people who are chic and with it, and without it—in people, jet people, camp people, and pop people—that I am forced to make my own list of those whom I believe are the most in, camp, chic, and meaningful of our time.

This year's most camp person is Edie Camp, who has been the rage of the New York social season. Edie first came to the attention of photographers when she walked into a formal dinner party in an evening dress. Everyone at the party was shocked and wanted to know who she was. They discovered she was the protege of Sandy Warknoll, the most "in" painter in New York. Warknoll paints portraits of children for money. He doesn't care what the children look like as long as there is enough dough in it.

EDIE GOES everywhere with Warknoll and no party in New York is complete without the two of them, she in an evening dress and he in a tuxedo. They look very out of place in New York, but nobody seems to mind.

The most chic person is Mrs. Amanda Chic of Palm Beach and Key Largo. Mrs. Chic makes all her own clothes, including her fur coats. She not only selects the pelts, but traps the animals herself. Although the mother of three, she is constantly on the go and has never missed an "April in Paris" ball or a Paris ball game in April.

Mrs. Chic likes to be where the action is, but she says her life still revolves around her children, Samantha who is 36, Gregory who is 39, and Rickey who is going on 40.

IT ISN'T WHO you are but what you do that makes you "with it" these days. No list would be complete without Stormy Sailor, the pugnacious writer whose lifetime work, "A Guide to Better Cookbooks," rocked the literary world a few years ago. Sailor's description of how to make fried cantaloupe with bearnaise sauce has made him the most controversial author on the American scene, and whether you like or hate fried cantaloupe, you can't ignore him.

The most "in" singer on our list is Walter In, whose recent record, "The Best Loved Songs of Stephen Foster," is the biggest thing to hit the discotheques in years. Mr. In is a tenor and wears his hair short. His critics say the hair is just a pose, but even they agree that nobody can sing "Old Black Joe" the way he does.

When it comes to pop culture, the first name that comes to mind is George Pop who makes Campbell's soup cans. Pop averages 650 cans a day, mostly chicken soup, though during the summer vacation he's doubled in cream of celery and mushroom soups.

HE HAS BEEN invited to come to New York with his cans, but by the time he finishes in the factory, he's always too tired, and prefers to go home and watch television.

Last but not least on our list is the leader of the jet set, Eddie Boeing.

Eddie, who works for Pan-American, has never flown anything but jets. He thinks it's the only way to travel and it's obvious the jet set thinks so too. "The old piston cafe society is dead," says Eddie, "and with the family plan it's much cheaper to go my way."

My list is probably incomplete, but it covers just about everybody who is doing anything these days.

Two Marin Bars Disciplined By State Agency

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has ordered an indefinite suspension of the on-sale general liquor license of the Scottish Club Moderne, 804 Fourth Street, San Rafael, effective yesterday.

The department ordered that, if the license is not transferred to a qualified person or persons by next April 1, it be revoked.

The licensee was charged with employment of minors, permitting minors to remain on the premises, permitting services of a female bartender, failure to report stock transfers and maintain a stock register, and permitting conditions contrary to public welfare and morals—fights, disturbances, lewd contact and intoxicated persons.

The department also ordered a 10-day suspension of the on-sale general liquor license of Max Key, Rancho Rafael, 6045 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, on charges of sales to minors and permitting minors to consume. The suspension takes effect Nov. 16.

Don't Play With Fire, Check Blaze Hazards

During the summer vacation period, parents have been warning children not to play with fire.

Now it's time to turn our attention to grown-ups who play with fire.

Many tragedies that strike the home during autumn and winter months will be due to the failings of adults, not youngsters.

We, who laugh at the proverbial joke about the fellow who struck a match to see if his gasoline tank were empty, proceed to strike a match or lighter to grope our way into a dark attic or closet.

We sometimes overload our electrical circuits and leave a trail of burning cigarettes balanced on ash trays or on table tops. We use our heating units without a second thought for defects, and sometimes turn on gas heaters without adequate ventilation.

Fire last year killed an estimated 11,900 persons in the United States. That would be like wiping out every living person in the entire community of Mill Valley or San Anselmo.

This is Fire Prevention Week. Let's take a tip from the list of reminders issued by the National Fire Protection Assn.

Never toss lighted matches away. Blow out the flame and hold the match to be sure it's out. Don't drop a used match in a wastebasket. Never smoke in bed.

Keep electrical appliances in good repair. When electrical cords become frayed, have them checked and replaced. Don't overload electrical circuits.

Have heating units checked by a qualified serviceman. Don't take the chance of having a unit conk out on a cold night.

Never use matches, lighters or candles to search dark attics or basements where combustibles are kept.

Get rid of old newspapers and accumulated rubbish.

Be careful of flammable clothing and curtains. Filmy nets, gauzes and ruffles, and some sweaters are more prone to catch fire than others.

And don't leave little children at home alone.

This is the time to remove hazards, reform careless habits, and plan for a warm and safe autumn and winter.

Marin's 'Canary'—The Goldfinch

Canaries are natives of Europe but Marin has its little yellow-green answer to Hartz Mountain or the Canary Isles or wherever canaries came from. The goldfinch is the closest in appearance to his caged cousin of any Marin bird.

Rather shy and on the flighty side, the goldfinch is not the sustained singer the canary is. But now and then it will warble a few cadenzas very prettily.

The goldfinch is a busy bird, nervously flying hither and yon, adding its bit of color to one tree, then another. Truly, a little beauty.

Signs Of Early Autumn

Marin's autumnal tide appears to be advancing early this year, according to some sources. These forecasters cite the early fall of the birch leaves and the uncommonly gray days of Labor Day weekend as signs.

We are a bit skeptical of signs. It is as though a birch or the geese or the wooly bear caterpillars had some innate knowledge for predicting the weather which man does not.

We will rely on the U.S. Weather Bureau. At least, they are known to be fallible.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Legislators Still Must Face Conflict Of Interest Problem

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The matter of "conflict of interest" in the state Legislature continues to crop up every so often, and no doubt will so continue for some time to come, unless the solons lay down specific rules and regulations governing the conduct of members, especially attorneys.

One of the latest instances of what might be regarded as such a conflict of interest is the filing of a complaint by Assemblyman Edwin I. Z'Berg, D-Sacramento, on behalf of the Sacramento Typographical Union No. 46, which seeks settlement of a dispute between the union and state printing plant.

The printers, in selecting Z'Berg as their attorney, have a representative before the law who actually is involved in making the law through the vote he can cast on issues. Or, if he should choose, the legislator could introduce legislation to invalidate the law, should the case go against his clients.

THE ISSUE in the case is inconsequential, being whether state printing plant employees are covered under holiday and vacations of the state's government code, or under the collective bargaining agreement which affects private industry printers in Sacramento. One of the items is whether the state printers get Oct. 12, Columbus Day, as a holiday.

The principle involved reaches somewhat further than the matter of the state holidays and printers who work for the state and enjoy some of the benefits of civil service employees.

THE PRINCIPLE is whether a state legislator, elected by the people and dedicated supposedly to serve all the people, has the moral privilege of taking money from one segment of the population, such as the union, to pursue a course which might be detrimental in the long run to the interests of all the people.

The representation at the present time is perfectly legal, as there are no fixed rules or laws on legislative conflict of interests. But many observers question the moral justification for legislator-attorneys to take accounts involving state departments and agencies, upon whose budgets they act and upon whose laws they cast a vote.

EARLIER, Sen. James A. Cobey, D-Merced, became involved in a suit pertaining to the state department of water resources, which has raised some questions along the same line. Senator Cobey is widely known as an authority on water litigation, but he has a powerful vote on matters affecting the department of water resources, as well as on budgetary and other laws pertaining to the department.

Legislators intervene at times before administration and appeals bodies of state departments. It cannot be said they receive special consideration, or that their clients are able to fix cases by working through the legislators, yet the feeling is somehow present that an elected representative has an "edge" in such cases.

The problem of conflict of interest is a knotty one, which cannot be easily solved, if it can be solved at all. It usually comes up when there is some outstanding abuse, but even when there isn't, the problem still is with the Legislature.

Conquered Nations Taking U.S. Torch?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Shortly before his visit to the U.S., Nikita Khrushchev said: "We cannot expect the Americans to jump from capitalism to communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of socialism, until they suddenly awake to find they have communism." (Small doses?)

While we lose our freedoms, the USSR finds it necessary to offer free-enterprise incentives to increase their production!

America's greatest benefit to the world has been, not the billions of borrowed money given to foreign governments, which has caused inflation and waste, here and abroad. America's greatest gift has been the example of what can be accomplished by free-enterprise capitalism with a heart, the freedom to work and to enjoy the fruits of one's labors, freedom to invent and progress, freedom of education and religion, freedom to choose what charities and missions one wishes to support.

Must we now pass the torch of freedom to Germany or Japan? It is reported that Germany has a million jobs unfilled. Chancellor Erhard attributes their phenomenal progress to "individual citizens voluntarily working for the common good as well as for themselves, a society in which responsibility is the corollary of freedom."

U.S. Constitution And Right Of Arms

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: Sept. 24 editorial on handgun restrictions.

The U.S. Constitution states "the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

Webster says "infringed means—to encroach, invade, intrude, contravene, break, transgress." The editor says "the Constitutional right to keep and bear arms is therefore not all-encompassing." What could be more encompassing than this law as stated by our Founding Fathers? According to the Constitution, the restrictions which have already been placed on firearms are unconstitutional, no matter how wise any one may consider them to be. There are proper means for altering the Constitution, which to my knowledge have not been observed in this regard. Only the vote of the people can do this.

Or is the editor one of our modern "liberals" who believe that the Constitution is outmoded? As to "barring a break down in law and order", what does the editor consider the present state of affairs to be? With all the increased crime, including sit-ins, lay-ins, teach-ins, ad nauseum. Does he by any chance think these people are just playing games? Is this the reason that he appears to blow all these demonstrations up, clear out of proportion? If our officials have the situation well in hand, why do we not see a stop put to all this disregard for law and order? When the First Amendment to the Constitution was written, our Founding Fathers could not foresee the day, when American citizens would work so diligently, to promote a foreign cause, all in the name of "freedom of assembly."

Marin Help Sought For Mississippi Girl

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Can someone help my friend, Lula Mae?

Lula Mae Evans and her family live in Maben, Miss. Lula Mae is 10 years old and she has nine brothers, from 1 to 18 years of age.

Last year, Mr. Evans lost his job as a pulpwood worker because he testified to the Mississippi Challenge lawyers. The Marin to Mississippi project heard about this family and our junior high group of the Unitarian Church of Marin sent down boxes of clothes, food, paper, etc. When the truck from Marin families went to Mississippi last Easter, Mrs. Evans was working as a housecleaner, but she lost her job soon after the shipment arrived. During the summer they worked in the fields when they could.

The Evans house consists of two rooms which are made of any wood they could find. There is a big stove in one of the rooms for heat.

In the Spring and Summer of this year, Lula Mae and I have written many letters. Her mother wrote too, and said she was going to have a baby in September. In the beginning of September, I wrote Lula Mae and asked her if her mother had had the baby yet. Her reply was " . . . Mother had a little girl but mother and the baby died so I don't have no mother . . . I stay with father and my brothers now. I will be a nice girl and go to school . . . "

If anyone can help the Evans family, their address is:

THE NEW safety devices being installed in 1966 models by the major automobile builders really are something. One of the most appealing is designed for taking care of wives who are inveterate back-seat drivers. You press a button, a trap door opens, and she is deposited right out onto the thruway.

PUZZLERS from Charlie Rice:

1. An ardent college senior was trying his darndest to persuade a girl he had met that evening to give him her telephone number. Finally she yielded, and told him, "It's QUentin 5-3407." That's when he realized he had struck out on three pitched balls. How did he know? Because no exchange can begin with the call letters "QU"; there is no "Q" on the telephone dial.

2. A big talker, who claimed he had wandered all through the continent of Australia, boasted "The surfing and sun bathing in Melbourne are at their best in August." That's when his audience tabbed him as an utter phony. Why? Because, in Australia, the month of August is in the middle of winter.

3. A subscriber to a library service swore he had left a twenty-dollar bill between pages 181 and 182 of a book he had returned that morning, and demanded recompense. The librarian laughed in his face. Why? Because, in every printed book, even-numbered pages are on the left, and odd-numbered pages on the right. Therefore, pages 181 and 182 are invariably back to back—and no bill could be tucked between them.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

British, Johnson Agree That Hanoi Stalls Viet Nam Peace

LONDON — If there is one point on which British official opinion and British public opinion are especially at one with the U.S., it is that the Hanoi Communists are solely to blame for not allowing the war in Viet Nam to go to the conference table.

President Lyndon B. Johnson may be having a hard time persuading playwright Arthur Miller that he has responded to Hanoi's stated conditions for a peace settlement, but Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart has done an extraordinary job showing the British people that the U.S.—and Britain—have been rebuffed in all their efforts to get the Communists to negotiate under any conditions.

Mr. Stewart is clearly the most plain-spoken, no-nonsense foreign secretary since Ernest Bevin. When it comes to expounding the issues in Viet Nam, he comes very near to being a Bundy, Rusk, and LBJ all rolled into one.

Stewart spurns the gobbledygook of diplomatic talk. He speaks bluntly and directly, whether he is addressing an Oxford teach-in or the Communist press in Belgrade. Too bad Miller wasn't around to get the facts.

"THE ONLY proposals that have come from North Viet Nam and her allies," he says, "is that, first, before any discussion, all U.S. troops shall leave, and secondly, that the affairs of Viet Nam shall be settled in accordance with the principles of the Communists and the Communists only. Now, that's the only proposal for solving the problem there is to the Communist side, that the Americans leave at once and that the Communists alone should determine the future of Viet Nam."

When Miller reached for the headlines by writing his letter to President Johnson, snubbing the White House invitation to attend the signing of the administration's aid for the arts bill, he gave as his reason the contention that the president has not "answered" these Communist proposals for ending the war.

HE HAS. The U.S. has stated that, even if these conditions are unacceptable, we will join in stopping the fighting and go to the conference table to see if other conditions cannot be worked out.

We have said yes to any conference Hanoi will attend.

Hanoi has said no to any conference that has been proposed.

Johnson said yes to Stewart's proposal of last March, that the Geneva Conference, which divided Viet Nam, be reconvened. The Communists said no.

JOHNSON SAID YES to a similar British proposal three months later. The Communists said no.

The truth is there is no basis in fact for Arthur Miller's assertion that the U.S. has not responded to the Hanoi proposals. Johnson has made 15 approaches for a peace conference and the Communists have rebuffed each one.

And why should Miller think that, by gracing a White House ceremony on the arts, his presence would imply he was supporting the president on Viet Nam? Perhaps he does not understand the principles of a free society in which each person can disagree with anybody else but still work together in good faith on those matters where we do agree.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — U. S. military authorities in Santo Domingo are bitterly complaining that American policy, unless drastically changed, will pave the way for an eventual Communist take-over in the Dominican Republic.

In private discussions with visiting U. S. businessmen and confidential messages to members of Congress, these military officers are warning that only the Communist-infested rebels are gaining from the backstage efforts of U. S. officials to remove the Dominican Armed Forces from influence on that strife-torn island.

They urge that immediate pressure be brought on President Johnson to abandon this controversial policy before the U. S. supported provisional government of Dr. Hector Garcia-Godoy carries out plans to force present Dominican military leaders from their positions of power.

These U. S. military officers, including a general, are desperately seeking to block the removal of Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero, the strong anti-Communist head of the Dominican Armed Forces.

THEIR EMERGENCY reports reveal that President Garcia-Godoy is under extreme pressure from rebel supporters of ex-President Juan Bosch and U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, presidential troubleshooter, to replace the Dominican military leader.

The methods being used by Ambassador Bunker and other U. S. officials to try to oust Commodore Caminero are described as "very similar to those employed against General Elias Wessin y Wessin before he was forcefully exiled." It's charged that, as in General Wessin's case, an unsuccessful attempt was made by U. S. undercover agents to bribe Commodore Caminero.

The complaining U. S. military officers argue that it is nothing less than suicidal for our officials to use diplomatic, economic and military pressure to oust these Dominican military leaders while permitting several hundred Communists, trained in guerrilla warfare in Cuba, to remain unmolested on the island.

UNDER THE TIGHT policy limitations the White House has placed on U. S. military forces assigned to the Organization of American States, no U. S. effort can be made to expel or even check on the whereabouts of these deadly armed Red terrorists. U. S. forces are barred from entering the rebel-held zone in Santo Domingo.

According to complaining U. S. military officers, a number of these "professional" Communist guerrillas are on the rebel payroll, which is entirely financed by U. S. economic aid. These Castro-trained agents are in one instance using U. S. funds to train an army of guerrillas and saboteurs from students in the OAS-protected sanctuary.

"THERE HAS NEVER been a situation quite like this in all history," one U. S. officer told a Washington exporter.

Rep. H. R. Gross, one of the legislators in contact with these military sources, reports that a high-ranking State Department official has privately confirmed that U. S. economic aid is being used to pay rebel forces in the Dominican Republic.

THE IOWA REPUBLICAN also reveals that a defector from the rebel forces of Col. Francisco A. Caamano has voluntarily given U. S. intelligence authorities details of his training in Communist Cuba for subversion and guerrilla warfare and of his role in the revolt.

The defector is Francisco Antonio Lendor-Sanabia, 27-year-old former Dominican student, who joined the Movimiento Popular Dominicano (Marxist-Leninist party) during a trip to Cuba in 1963.

But that's to be expected. Living here, naturally you want ALL THE LOCAL NEWS, rather than a mention or two. And that's where we take off our bowlers to no one. Instead, the I-J publishes more Marin County news than all other newspapers combined . . . whether in or out of Marin.

Other larger "outside" papers may have more columnists, more New York features. But we have more MARIN features, of intimate value to you as a resident. I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Supervisors Are All-Time Champions Of Interruptions

Marin supervisors constitute one of the interruptingest quintets in the county, perhaps in the state.

Interrupting each other all the time is really not very serious, but they also interrupt the intrepid who appear before them. This is not just serious; it's plain rude.

Strange thing is that the supervisors know they are doing it and often interrupt to scold each other about it, but it goes on like a compulsion.

Those wise to the ways of the board have learned to beat the problem by putting what they have to say in writing and asking County Clerk George H. Gnoss to read it.

Supervisors usually don't interrupt the clerk.

IT IS UNFAIR to generalize. Actually Supervisors Peter H. Behr, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Byron W. Leydecker are the worst offenders.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss' words are so infrequent that they have become pearls. Yet even this string of pearls is broken by interruptions.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer also does not interrupt, but one sometimes suspects he is trying for the last word. He prefaces any remarks these days with a common plaint.

"I haven't had a chance to speak on this yet," he says.

LAST WEEK, Betty L. Presley, director of the department of social services, was before the board to answer questions. She never got a chance to complete a sentence. But Miss Presley had written a letter to the board and that helped some.

There are really only two ways of solving this. One is the plan I have advocated for some time and that is reducing the membership on the board from five to one. It would reduce substantially the number of interruptions.

THE OTHER solution is really only a half measure, but it might serve until we have a one-man board. That would be a requirement that any supervisor wishing to speak would have to stand. If someone else were speaking, he would have to wait on his feet.

This would not only restore some order to the proceedings, but it would also free three very comfortable chairs for use in other departments of the county. I wager Behr, Kettenhofen and Leydecker would be on their feet all the time.

UNLESS SOME measures are taken soon, these board meetings will become impossible.

As a reporter, I have already been tempted to follow those who have appeared before the board from the chamber and ask:

"Now, what was it you intended to say?"

My only fear is that some of them might break out in tears.

ART BUCHWALD

You're Not In Unless You Fit Camp, Jet Set Descriptions

WASHINGTON—There have been so many lists of people who are chic and with it, and without it—in people, jet people, camp people, and pop people—that I am forced to make my own list of those whom I believe are the most in, camp, chic, and meaningful of our time.

This year's most camp person is Edie Camp, who has been the rage of the New York social season. Edie first came to the attention of photographers when she walked into a formal dinner party in an evening dress. Everyone at the party was shocked and wanted to know who she was. They discovered she was the protege of Sandy Warknoll, the most "in" painter in New York. Warknoll paints portraits of children for money. He doesn't care what the children look like as long as there is enough dough in it.

EDIE GOES everywhere with Warknoll and no party in New York is complete without the two of them, she in an evening dress and he in a tuxedo. They look very out of place in New York, but nobody seems to mind.

The most chic person is Mrs. Amanda Chic of Palm Beach and Key Largo. Mrs. Chic makes all her own clothes, including her fur coats. She not only selects the pelts, but traps the animals herself. Although the mother of three, she is constantly on the go and has never missed an "April in Paris" ball or a Paris ball game in April.

Mrs. Chic likes to be where the action is, but she says her life still revolves around her children, Samantha who is 36, Gregory who is 39, and Rickey who is going on 40.

IT ISN'T WHO you are but what you do that makes you "with it" these days. No list would be complete without Stormy Sailor, the pugnacious writer whose lifetime work, "A Guide to Better Cookbooks," rocked the literary world a few years ago. Sailor's description of how to make fried cantaloupe with bearnaise sauce has made him the most controversial author on the American scene, and whether you like or hate fried cantaloupe, you can't ignore him.

The most "in" singer on our list is Walter In, whose recent record, "The Best Loved Songs of Stephen Foster," is the biggest thing to hit the discotheques in years. Mr. In is a tenor and wears his hair short. His critics say the hair is just a pose, but even they agree that nobody can sing "Old Black Joe" the way he does.

When it comes to pop culture, the first name that comes to mind is George Pop who makes Campbell's soup cans. Pop averages 650 cans a day, mostly chicken soup, though during the summer vacation he's doubled in cream of celery and mushroom soups.

HE HAS BEEN invited to come to New York with his cans, but by the time he finishes in the factory, he's always too tired, and prefers to go home and watch television.

Last but not least on our list is the leader of the jet set, Eddie Boeing.

Eddie, who works for Pan-American, has never flown anything but jets. He thinks it's the only way to travel and it's obvious the jet set thinks so too. "The old piston cafe society is dead," says Eddie, "and with the family plan it's much cheaper to go my way."

My list is probably incomplete, but it covers just about everybody who is doing anything these days.

Class At Sunny Hills On Education Agenda

The Marin County Board of Education tonight will discuss a contract whereby the county schools office will take over two classes of emotionally disturbed at Sunny Hills home in San Anselmo.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. at Bayside School in Sausalito.

Asst. Supt. of Schools Robert Stannard said a new state law makes it possible for the county office to operate such classes in private schools.

Sunny Hills is operated by the Presbyterian Church. The church will not have to pay anything for the service, Stannard explained, the theory being that if it were not for the private operation, the children would be in the public school system.

The board will also discuss hiring Chester Ellyson of the San Juan School District, Sacramento County, as coordinator of outdoor science and conservation education, a new position in the county schools office.

Ellyson, top candidate of four interviewed, would receive $8,000 for 10 months work to coordinate the county's outdoor school program at Lokoya School near Napa. The outdoor school takes pupils from county schools for eight weeks in the fall and 10 weeks in the spring.

The county has been sending classes there for two years.

The board will also consider hiring Mrs. Karyn Stafford to teach at the outdoor school, at $125 a week plus room and board.

Sausalitan Gets State GOP Post

Tally P. Mastrangelo of Sausalito is one of eight political leaders in Northern California recently appointed to the board of directors of the California Republican League.

Mastrangelo was active in the Rockefeller for President campaign last year. He has been a member of the Republican State Central Committee since 1963 and is a member of the Marin County Republican Central Committee. He helped establish a Marin chapter of the California Republican League.

Show To Mix Halloween With Skiers On Water

Witches and ghosts and things that go bump in the night take to the water Oct. 17 when 30 of some of the best Marin County water skiers appear in a show "Halloween Aqua Follies" in San Antonio Creek near Novato.

Performers in the show, which opens at noon at Mira Monte Marina, will be dressed as ballerinas, skeltons, devils, witches and cats.

Among them will be Mike Suyderhoud of San Anselmo, 1965 boys national overall champion, and Wally Pallack of Sunnyvale who is chief instructor at Masters Water Ski School at the Marina, organizers of the event.

Others taking part will be Bobbie Miller of San Rafael, 1964 western regional champion; Dr. Frank Denby of Terra Linda and his three children, Michelle, Steven and Frankie; and Carl Boivie, of Bel Marin Keys, and his children, Sharon, Bobby and Larry.

Proceeds will be used to send one or more skiiers to the 1966 U.S. National Water Ski Championships in Miami, Fla.

Handicapped Week

Mayor C. Paul Bettini has proclaimed this "Employ the Handicapped Week" in San Rafael to call attention to the need for continued support of programs to increas opportunities for qualified handicapped workers.

Police Arrest On Purse Theft

A 16-year-old Novato youth was charged with robbery Friday night by San Rafael police in connection with a purse snatching at a street fair on Mitchell avenue in Terra Linda.

The victim, Lorraine Pauline Langford of 45 Unionstone Drive, Marinwood, reported to police her purse, containing three $10 and one $5 bill and credit cards, was taken at 9:40 p.m.

A short time later, police arrested the youth walking north on Highway 101 near the Hamilton AFB turnoff. The suspect, who matched Miss Langford's description, had three $10 and one $5 bill in his wallet which he threw away as officers approached, police said.

By Jove, if it isn't the I-J, there in the middle!
At least we have ONE avid reader in London.

Which one is Number One?

As you can see, the I-J is a bit outnumbered by The Times, in London. (We only have one subscriber).

But change the scene to Marin County, where YOUR INTERESTS come first, and lo, the Independent-Journal leads all the rest! Here, you've actually made the so-called BIG papers SMALL in comparison with the I-J in daily Marin County circulation.

But that's to be expected. Living here, naturally you want ALL THE LOCAL NEWS, rather than a mention or two. And that's where we take off our bowlers to no one. Instead, the I-J publishes more Marin County news than all other newspapers combined... whether in or out of Marin.

Other larger "outside" papers may have more columnists, more New York features. But we have more MARIN features, of intimate value to you as a resident. We carry more local ads that help you buy with discernment–and savings. More local classified, too. More news of civic affairs, of schools, education, local politics, women's events, Marin sports–the close-to-home world of Marin today.

It's quite a bailiwick. And because it's Number One with us, you've made us Number One with you–in circulation, in advertising, in local news. We'll hang our bowler on that.

MEANWHILE, BACK IN MARIN, EVERYONE'S READING MARIN'S BEST-SELLER (I-J)

On this day in history:

In 1854, Abraham Lincoln made his first great political speech at the state fair in Springfield, Ill.

In 1958, transatlantic commercial jet flights began.

In 1960, 61 persons were killed when an Eastern Airlines Electra crashed in Boston Harbor.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Next-Day Conversation Is When The Card-Player Really Shines

More good plays are made in conversation than at the bridge table.

When you're talking about the right play the next day remember the first rule: Don't say directly whether or not you personally made the brilliant play.

North	East	South	West

Pass	Double	All Pass

Opening lead — ♡ Q

West opened the queen of hearts, declarer put up the king, and East covered with the ace.

South ruffed and led the queen of spades to force out the king.

LOOK WHO'S TALKING

"With the king of hearts out of the dummy," East commented at lunch the next day, "it was very tempting to lead a heart back. That would give South the contract. South knocks out the ace of spades, sets up the diamonds and gets rid of two clubs on dummy's diamonds."

"Then how do you beat the hand?" one of the lunch experts asked.

The second rule of bridge conversation is to invite one straight man to lunch to make sure that the right questions are asked.

ONE WAY

"When I took the first trump trick there was only one way to defeat the contract," East pointed out. "I had to return a club, right up to dummy's ace-queen."

Notice that East didn't say he returned a club. If you have good judgment you'll know what East did; and if you have good taste you won't ask any embarrassing questions.

East's statement is quite true.

He is sure to win two trumps and a diamond, so must make sure of a club trick to defeat the contract. East leads a club on taking the king of trumps and another club on taking the ace of trumps.

When East gets in with the king of diamonds he cashes a club.

What did East actually return when he took the king of spades?

I'm no squealer, but I'm glad I played the king of hearts from dummy at the first trick.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:

♠ A K 2
♥ A 8 7 5 3
♦ K 2
♣ K J 5

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart.

The hand is too strong for an opening bid of one notrump since it not only has a count of 18 points but also a five-card suit. If partner responds one notrump to one heart you can raise to three notrump.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Oct. 4, the 277th day of 1965 with 88 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1854, Abraham Lincoln made his first great political speech at the state fair in Springfield, Ill.

In 1958, transatlantic commercial jet flights began.

In 1960, 61 persons were killed when an Eastern Airlines Electra crashed in Boston Harbor.

In 1962, President Kennedy announced the U.S. would block ships of all nations trying to travel to Cuba.

A thought for the day — Abraham Lincoln said: "Why should there not be a patient confidence in the ultimate justice of the people."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Next-Day Conversation Is When The Card-Player Really Shines

More good plays are made in conversation than at the bridge table.

When you're talking about the right play the next day remember the first rule: Don't say directly whether or not you personally made the brilliant play.

Opening lead — ♡ Q

West opened the queen of hearts, declarer put up the king, and East covered with the ace.

South ruffed and led the queen of spades to force out the king.

LOOK WHO'S TALKING

"With the king of hearts out of the dummy," East commented at lunch the next day, "it was very tempting to lead a heart back. That would give South the contract. South knocks out the ace of spades, sets up the diamonds and gets rid of two clubs on dummy's diamonds."

"Then how do you beat the hand?" one of the lunch experts asked.

The second rule of bridge conversation is to invite one straight man to lunch to make sure that the right questions are asked.

ONE WAY

"When I took the first trump trick there was only one way to defeat the contract," East pointed out. "I had to return a club, right up to dummy's ace-queen."

Notice that East didn't say he returned a club. If you have good judgment you'll know what East did; and if you have good taste you won't ask any embarrassing questions.

East's statement is quite true.

He is sure to win two trumps and a diamond, so must make sure of a club trick to defeat the contract. East leads a club on taking the king of trumps and another club on taking the ace of trumps.

When East gets in with the king of diamonds he cashes a club.

What did East actually return when he took the king of spades?

I'm no squealer, but I'm glad I played the king of hearts from dummy at the first trick.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:

♠ A K 2
♡ A 8 7 5 3
♦ K 2
♣ K J 5

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart.

The hand is too strong for an opening bid of one notrump since it not only has a count of 18 points but also a five-card suit. If partner responds one notrump to one heart you can raise to three notrump.

LEGAL NOTICE
NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Planning Commission has announced its intention to hold a public hearing to consider an amendment to Title 22 (Zoning) of the Marin County Code, which amendment would classify those properties in the unincorporated areas of the County of Marin which are currently subject to Ordinance #217 and #235 as amended. The amendment would place all lands in unincorporated areas under one zoning law (instead of two as now exists) in the following manner:

1. All "Zone A" lands to be classified as M-1-H (Light Industrial District with Highway Frontage Regulations) and/or an A-2:B-? (Limited Agricultural District in combination with appropriate "B" regulations controlling principally lot sizes).

2. All "Zone B" lands to be classified as H-1 (Limited Roadside Business District) and/or C-1-H (Retail Business District with Highway Frontage Regulations).

3. All "Zone D" lands to be classified as A-2 (Limited Agricultural District) and/or A-2:B-? (Limited Agricultural District in combination with appropriate "B" regulations controlling principally lot sizes).

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that the Planning Commission intends that the proposed classifications will not deter or prevent specific studies from proceeding at a later time, which may indicate different or more precise reclassification in the areas affected, and states such action is occasioned by the necessity to simplify administrative procedures and eliminate the archaic and unrealistic zoning controls contained in Ordinance #217 and #235 as amended.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that said public hearing will be held at the hour of 2:00 p.m., Monday, October 18, 1965, in the Planning Commission Hearing Room, Room 311, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, at which time and place any and all persons interested therein may appear and be heard thereon.

Three Death Row Inmate Win Retrials

Three inmates on San Quentin's Death Row will have new trials as a result of decisions handed down Friday by the State Supreme Court.

Two of the trials will be to determine guilt and the other to set the penalty for a condemned man who, the court said, had been denied a fair penalty hearing.

In identical 4-3 votes, the court ordered new trials for Richard Price, 21, of Sacramento and Robert A. Anderson, 36, of San Jose, on the grounds they had not been advised of their constitutional rights to remain silent and have counsel during police questioning.

A new penalty trial will be held for Harold A. Spencer, 36, of Los Angeles because, the court stated, both the prosecutor and the judge told the jury he could be paroled in seven years if sentenced to life imprisonment.

Spencer still stands convicted of murder. He has been in Death Row since August 1962.

New trials were denied for two other prisoners, Dovie Carl Mathis, 28, of Palo Alto and William E. Cotter Jr., 25, of Bellflower, Los Angeles County.

They had appealed on the grounds of denial of constitutional rights. The court said that a statement made by Mathis without counsel was not a confession and that Cotter had made three voluntary confessions before entering police premises.

Sewage In Home When Pipe Blocked

San Rafael firemen had to be called at 9:31 a.m. yesterday to help mop out the home of William J. Silva, 8 Lenglen Avenue, after a plugged sewer line caused raw sewage to back up and flood the house.

Workers at Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District office said that flooding is not uncommon in hillside homes in the district. The sewer in the street was stopped and sewage from homes above the flooded one rose in the pipes inside the house.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Aorta, Body's Largest Vessel, Is Blood Carrier From Heart

VAN DELLEN

The aorta is the largest blood vessel in the body. It commences at the upper part of the left ventricle and after ascending for a short distance, arches backward and slightly to the left. It then descends through the chest and abdomen until it reaches the pelvis, where it branches into the two leg arteries.

It is more than an inch in diameter and is the main trunk from which all the vessels convey oxygenated blood to tissues of the body. The first two branches are the coronary arteries that supply the heart muscle with blood. The next few branches stem from the arch of the aorta and go to the arms, neck, and brain. From here on, many branches transport the blood from the main trunk to the various organs. These are named after the organs they service.

RECENTLY we received a letter in which a reader wanted to know the symptoms and treatment of a hardened aorta. This common affliction of the vessel and the hardening process is comparable to the accumulation of rust on the lining of a pipe. It may take years before enough rust accumulates to interfere with the flow of water. During this time there is no indication of trouble. The situation is the same in the aorta. Many people live to a ripe old age and never realize they have arteriosclerosis of the aorta.

On the other hand, when the hardening process obstructs the opening of a branch, the ensuing symptoms come from the organ that is deprived of blood. Chest pain occurs when the coronary arteries are affected.

SYMPTOMS of a minor or a major stroke take place when the vessels leading to the brain and arms are involved (aortic arch syndrome). The manifestations include dizziness, fainting, headache, convulsions, paralysis, transient episodes of blindness, and blood pressure changes in one arm.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HANDIWORK

S. T. writes: A relative of mine has a mild heart condition. Her hobby is knitting and crocheting, but her husband won't let her do these things. This upsets her. He claims that moving the hands and arms affects the muscles and valves leading to the heart and her handiwork will make it worse. Is this true?

REPLY

No. Knitting and crocheting are perfect pastimes for heart disease victims.

AGGRAVATES

R. B. writes: Does the overuse of tobacco, alcohol, or food bring on enlarged prostate in men over 50?

REPLY

No, but when enlargement is due to infection, alcohol and certain foods may aggravate the condition.

NOT A CLUE

Mrs. L. G. writes: Do narrow hips in a woman indicate she will have trouble during childbirth?

REPLY

Not necessarily, because the inner measurements are more important than outside measurements.

EYE REMODELING

J. P. writes: How does one get the eyes de-slanted?

REPLY

This is done via plastic surgery involving the skin of the eyelid.

REJUVENATION

V. D. writes: How can I bring back the sparkle to my eyes?

REPLY

Be born again and look on the brighter side of life.

Student Body Head Names Appointees

College of Marin student body president Renato Sottile has appointed six students to posts on the Associated Students executive council.

They are:

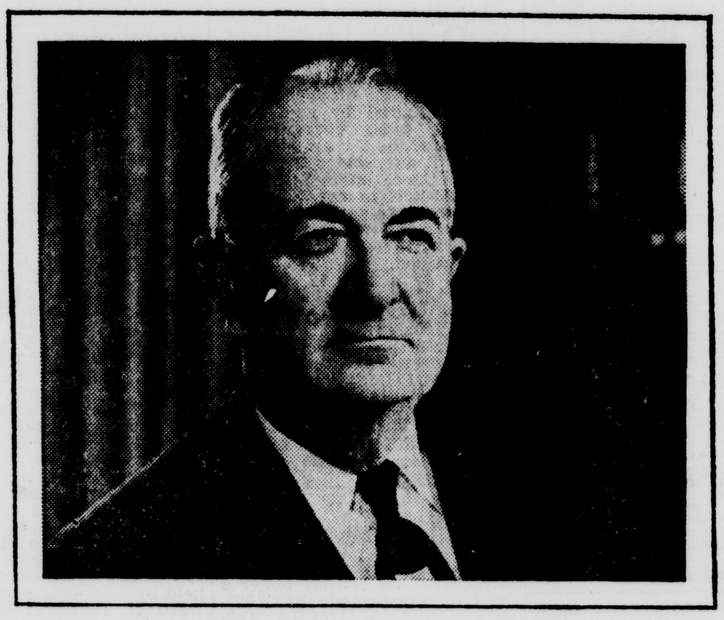
John T. Sullivan of Mill Valley, parliamentarian; Carl J. Jensen of Novato, properties commissioner; Donna L. Ryan of San Rafael, campus center commissioner; Myra Scott of Novato, corresponding secretary; Patrick R. Werner of Greenbrae, commissioner of internal affairs; and Jack D. Lucas of Mill Valley, representative to the college board.

Freshman and sophomore men and women representatives to the council will be chosen in a campus election Monday and Tuesday.

Sottile also appointed four students as representatives to a Governor's Conference on Youth in Sacramento Nov. 11-13. They are: Barbara D. Dillon of San Anselmo, Hal J. Aigner, Carol Wells and Al Kelly of San Rafael.

Legend says Capt. Henry Morgan's buccaneers transported all their loot to the Grand Cayman Islands, B.W.I., where they buried it. Treasure hunting is still pursued there.

Why a prominent banker urges you to buy Savings Bonds



"My service as Chairman of the ABA Savings Bonds committee provided a unique vantage point from which to observe how Savings Bonds, as a non-inflationary method of financing the public debt, benefit every American by helping to maintain the value of the dollar.

"And in almost 25 years as a Savings Bonds volunteer I have seen again and again how Savings Bonds help individual families by providing a steady, dependable, guaranteed way to save.

"Recognizing these contributions to our national and individual economic strength, bankers have been among the most enthusiastic supporters of the Savings Bonds program since its inception in 1941."

He had reported Wednesday the option request would be before the council Monday at its 8 p.m. meeting. Option is sought by Paul B. Fischer of Corona De Mar, Orange County.

The Council will hold a hearing on a request for tentative subdivision map approval from William S. Allen of Sausalito for a proposed 15-unit "cluster type" development to be built in Blithedale Canyon near Manzanita Place.

Fairfax Trustees

The Fairfax School District will meet at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow at Manor School. The board will hear a continuing report on the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 and act on several requests for transfer of funds from one account to another.

TELEVISION REVIEW

World Series Time With Vin Scully

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The weekend clinching of the National League pennant by the Los Angeles Dodgers saved ABC-TV from having to choose today between covering a baseball playoff or Pope Paul's New York visit.

The next national television baseball broadcast will be the World Series, which, barring rain, will be seen Wednesday when NBC-TV presents the first game with the Dodgers at Minnesota.

Regardless of one's team attachments, one of the more pleasant attractions of the World Series is the fact that broadcasting's finest baseball announcer, Vin Scully of the Dodgers — who turned down the New York Yankee job when Mel Allen left — will be calling the plays on NBC-TV.

Scully, who is regarded with such esteem in Los Angeles that it matches the hero worship accorded pitcher Sandy Koufax, is so highly thought of that Dodger Manager Walter Alston amusingly let him call several plays from the radio booth in Sunday's final game. The game, of course, was meaningless, coming the day after the pennant was wrapped up.

The unflappable Scully — as unflappable as NBC's Frank McGee — came through with a minor classic of sports broadcasting as he regaled not only the city of Los Angeles, but the fans in the stands who listened on transistor radios and knew in advance what the plays would be.

With a youngster named Willie Crawford on first base, Scully called for a hit-and-run play. Crawford stole second, and Scully announced:

'Well, now that we have stolen a base, I think we'll retire. Okay, Skip (Alston), we've gotten you this far — now you're on your own . . . funny thing, he didn't ask us anything about yesterday's game."

Another interesting aspect of the televised World Series is that Juan Marichal, the pitcher who was fined and suspended after slugging Dodger John Roseboro with a baseball bat — and who would have been the star hurler if his team, San Francisco, hadn't been edged out — will now be just a spectator.

THE CHANNEL SWIM—ABC-TV apparently has had some thoughts about Sal Mineo as host of another possible network rock 'n' roll show for next fall . . . CBS-TV, meanwhile, was reported to have made some overtures to Melina Mercouri — who had a special about Greece not long ago — to do another, this one about courtship around the world.

Natural Science Forum Planned

"Teaching the Natural Sciences" will be the theme of a Fall science conference Saturday at Vallecito School, Terra Linda, co-sponsored by Marin County Superintendent of Schools Office and the Louise A. Boyd Museum.

Dr. Robert Stebbins, professor of zoology at the University of California, Berkeley will speak at the general session on "Natural Sciences in the Classroom" which opens the conference at 9 a.m.

Among others conducting section meetings are Gordon Chan, instructor of marine biology and Kenneth Miller, geology instructor, both of College of Marin.

Malaysian Citizen To Discuss Events

T. Thangathurai of the Asian Foundation will speak on "The Malaysian Situation Today" Oct. 21 at 8 p.m. at St. Stephen's Church, Belvedere.

A native of Kuala Lampur, Malaysia, Thangathurai for the past five years has worked as broadcaster and producer for Radio and TV Malaysia. He is now assistant editor of "The Asian Student" for the foundation. The program is sponsored by the St. Stephen's Guild.

LEGAL NOTICE
NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Planning Commission has announced its intention to hold a public hearing to consider an amendment to Title 22 (Zoning) of the Marin County Code, which amendment would classify those properties in the unincorporated areas of the County of Marin which are currently subject to Ordinance #217 and #235 as amended. The amendment would place all lands in unincorporated areas under one zoning law (instead of two as now exists) in the following manner:

1. All "Zone A" lands to be classified as M-1-H (Light Industrial District with Highway Frontage Regulations) and/or an A-2:B-? (Limited Agricultural District in combination with appropriate "B" regulations controlling principally lot sizes).

2. All "Zone B" lands to be classified as H-1 (Limited Roadside Business District) and/or C-1-H (Retail Business District with Highway Frontage Regulations).

3. All "Zone D" lands to be classified as A-2 (Limited Agricultural District) and/or A-2:B-? (Limited Agricultural District in combination with appropriate "B" regulations controlling principally lot sizes).

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that the Planning Commission intends that the proposed classifications will not deter or prevent specific studies from proceeding at a later time, which may indicate different or more precise reclassification in the areas affected, and states such action is occasioned by the necessity to simplify administrative procedures and eliminate the archaic and unrealistic zoning controls contained in Ordinance #217 and #235 as amended.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that said public hearing will be held at the hour of 2:00 p.m., Monday, October 18, 1965, in the Planning Commission Hearing Room, Room 311, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, at which time and place any and all persons interested therein may appear and be heard thereon.

Three Death Row Inmate Win Retrials

Three inmates on San Quentin's Death Row will have new trials as a result of decisions handed down Friday by the State Supreme Court.

Two of the trials will be to determine guilt and the other to set the penalty for a condemned man who, the court said, had been denied a fair penalty hearing.

In identical 4-3 votes, the court ordered new trials for Richard Price, 21, of Sacramento and Robert A. Anderson, 36, of San Jose, on the grounds they had not been advised of their constitutional rights to remain silent and have counsel during police questioning.

A new penalty trial will be held for Harold A. Spencer, 36, of Los Angeles because, the court stated, both the prosecutor and the judge told the jury he could be paroled in seven years if sentenced to life imprisonment.

Spencer still stands convicted of murder. He has been in Death Row since August 1962.

New trials were denied for two other prisoners, Dovie Carl Mathis, 28, of Palo Alto and William E. Cotter Jr., 25, of Bellflower, Los Angeles County.

They had appealed on the grounds of denial of constitutional rights. The court said that a statement made by Mathis without counsel was not a confession and that Cotter had made three voluntary confessions before entering police premises.

Sewage In Home When Pipe Blocked

San Rafael firemen had to be called at 9:31 a.m. yesterday to help mop out the home of William J. Silva, 8 Lenglen Avenue, after a plugged sewer line caused raw sewage to back up and flood the house.

Workers at Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District office said that flooding is not uncommon in hillside homes in the district. The sewer in the street was stopped and sewage from homes above the flooded one rose in the pipes inside the house.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Aorta, Body's Largest Vessel, Is Blood Carrier From Heart

VAN DELLEN

The aorta is the largest blood vessel in the body. It commences at the upper part of the left ventricle and after ascending for a short distance, arches backward and slightly to the left. It then descends through the chest and abdomen until it reaches the pelvis, where it branches into the two leg arteries.

It is more than an inch in diameter and is the main trunk from which all the vessels convey oxygenated blood to tissues of the body. The first two branches are the coronary arteries that supply the heart muscle with blood. The next few branches stem from the arch of the aorta and go to the arms, neck, and brain. From here on, many branches transport the blood from the main trunk to the various organs. These are named after the organs they service.

RECENTLY we received a letter in which a reader wanted to know the symptoms and treatment of a hardened aorta. This common affliction of the vessel and the hardening process is comparable to the accumulation of rust on the lining of a pipe. It may take years before enough rust accumulates to interfere with the flow of water. During this time there is no indication of trouble. The situation is the same in the aorta. Many people live to a ripe old age and never realize they have arteriosclerosis of the aorta.

On the other hand, when the hardening process obstructs the opening of a branch, the ensuing symptoms come from the organ that is deprived of blood. Chest pain occurs when the coronary arteries are affected.

SYMPTOMS of a minor or a major stroke take place when the vessels leading to the brain and arms are involved (aortic arch syndrome). The manifestations include dizziness, fainting, headache, convulsions, paralysis, transient episodes of blindness, and blood pressure changes in one arm.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HANDIWORK

S. T. writes: A relative of mine has a mild heart condition. Her hobby is knitting and crocheting, but her husband won't let her do these things. This upsets her. He claims that moving the hands and arms affects the muscles and valves leading to the heart and her handiwork will make it worse. Is this true?

REPLY

No. Knitting and crocheting are perfect pastimes for heart disease victims.

AGGRAVATES

R. B. writes: Does the overuse of tobacco, alcohol, or food bring on enlarged prostate in men over 50?

REPLY

No, but when enlargement is due to infection, alcohol and certain foods may aggravate the condition.

NOT A CLUE

Mrs. L. G. writes: Do narrow hips in a woman indicate she will have trouble during childbirth?

REPLY

Not necessarily, because the inner measurements are more important than outside measurements.

EYE REMODELING

J. P. writes: How does one get the eyes de-slanted?

REPLY

This is done via plastic surgery involving the skin of the eyelid.

REJUVENATION

V. D. writes: How can I bring back the sparkle to my eyes?

REPLY

Be born again and look on the brighter side of life.

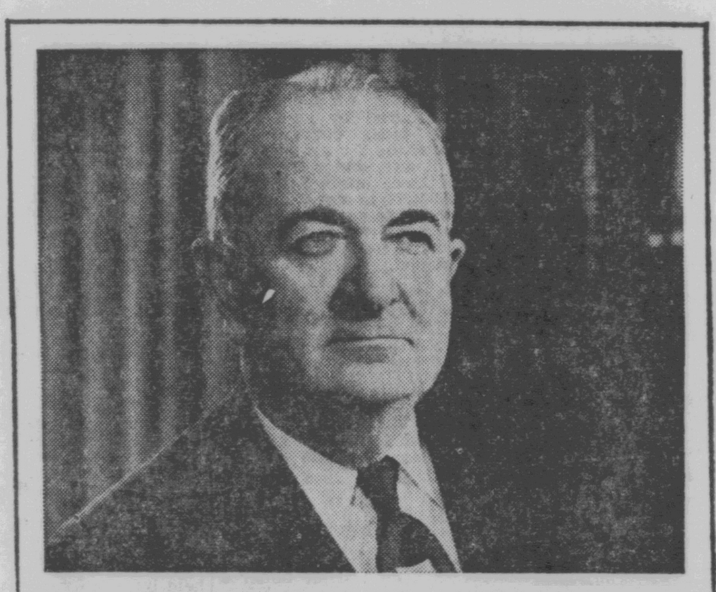
Why a prominent banker urges you to buy Savings Bonds



"My service as Chairman of the ABA Savings Bonds committee provided a unique vantage point from which to observe how Savings Bonds, as a non-inflationary method of financing the public debt, benefit every American by helping to maintain the value of the dollar.

"And in almost 25 years as a Savings Bonds volunteer I have seen again and again how Savings Bonds help individual families by providing a steady, dependable, guaranteed way to save.

Marin Students Like Visiting In Europe

By NANCY DICKSON
Redwood High School

Bread and potatoes at almost every meal was one change five Redwood High School students adjusted to while spending their summers in European homes under the Youth for Understanding program.

Senior Kate Rothrock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rothrock of 10 Garden Road, San Anselmo, spent her summer with a family in northern Germany.

Because the family lived on a farm, she found herself doing such chores as picking vegetables in the family garden and riding five or six miles by bicycle to get to town. By the end of the summer Kate was considered not an American tourist, but a German.

Senior Ed Osborn, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Osborn of 38 Peninsula Road, Belvedere was in southern Holland for his 10 weeks under the YFU program.

For a month he got a chance to experience outdoor life in Holland while traveling to different parts of the country on bikes with his Dutch "brothers." "We often ran into big bicycle jams because of so many little old ladies cruising around," he said.

"Have you had enough to eat" was the usual question Junior Sue Girtler was asked while staying in southern Finland. Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Girtler of 158 Trinidad Drive, Tiburon, emphasized how worthwhile the program was for her—and "it was fun!" she added.

Five German "sisters" were part of senior Ann Bastians German family with whom she stayed for the summer.

Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bastian of 4 Hilarita Circle, Belvedere, found the family quite wealthy.

She said that in Germany it seemed that the prosperity of a family was judged by the number of bathrooms in the home.

Jacki Crisp experienced eating six times a day while she was in Rotterdam, Holland for the summer.

Jacki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crisp of 15 Semircle Ave., Corte Madera, spent two weeks of her Holland visit in a castle with her two "sisters," 200 other teen-agers, and one chaperon.

While in Holland, Jacki said, the most wonderful moment for her was when someone asked her, "Do you speak English?"

Chess Club Forms

The Redwood Chess Club, open to all students, has been organized at Redwood High School and meets twice a week. James Dinsmore of Larkspur is club president.

Teacher At Parley

Redwood High School counselor Richard Frakes has been selected as one of the five West Coast delegates to a "get acquainted" conference at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Exchange Leader To Visit Marin

Walter Kaiser of Preetz, Germany, who was instrumental in establishing the Redwood High School-Preetz student exchange, will visit the Redwood campus Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

In a letter to Redwood Principal Donald Kreps, Kaiser expressed his desire to see the campus, meet and talk with students, and become acquainted with the operation of the school. Redwood senior Duncan Williams, who studied in Preetz last year as part of the School Affiliation Service exchange, will guide Kaiser on a tour of the school and attend several classes with him.

In Preetz, Kaiser is president of the Preetz-Blandford Friendship Club, which sponsors a direct exchange between Preetz and an English school. The possibility of this exchange being enlarged to include Redwood in a three-way program is being studied.

Redwood Parents Due In Annual Open House

Redwood High School's "Back to School Night" will be held on Wednesday evening.

An abbreviated school "day" has been planned for the parents, who will be equipped with their child's personal program card and a map of the school buildings. Registration will be at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Worms are annelids.

Drake Summer School Program Is Revised

A major revision of Sir Francis Drake High School's summer school program may mean that students can complete a regular two-semester, 10-unit, course during the summer.

Until now, the summer school has offered largely remedial and supplementary courses. Only one-semester required courses could be taken in summer school.

Principal Harold Allison explained that decision to alter the summer school program is Tamalpais High School District-wide, but application will vary in the three schools.

A 10-unit, year's course, such as United States history, would require attendance four hours daily for four weeks or two hours daily for the full session.

A course such as driver education, which requires only 30 class hours, might be offered for one hour a day throughout the session or during a four-hour period for just 7½ days.

Variety of courses to be offered and exact scheduling will depend upon several factors, Allison said.

Make-up courses and electives formerly offered in summer school will still be included, he added.

Chilly Science Aids In Television Tubes

CHICAGO (UPI) — Cryogenics, the science of ultralow temperatures, has emerged from the laboratory and become worldwide business. Liquid nitrogen (-320 degrees F.) for example, is used in vacuum-pumping products ranging from TV picture tubes to space-simulation chambers.

The nitrogen fills a metal container called a "cold trap" placed in the line between the vacuum pump and the system being evacuated. Moisture and condensible gases which could break into the vacuum or reduce the efficiency of the pump are frozen on the cold trap and easily removed. The process is called "cryopumping."

Educator Turns Table On School

BAGGS, Wyo. (AP) — A proposal to increase the property tax levy in the Little Snake River school district around Baggs was defeated by one vote. That one vote was cast by the district's superintendent of schools, Wesley Morrow.

The vote to incerase the levy was approved by property owners, 18-10. But among non-property owners it failed, 1-0. Morrow was the only non-property owner woting in the election. Wyoming law requires a bond issue or tax increase to be approved by both classes of property owners.

Morrow explained his vote to the school board: "I felt in a long range plan, it wasn't what the people wanted . . . for our small enrollment and small school we can manage on the funds we have."

Students' Radio Club Plans Net

Plans to establish an amateur radio net were laid at the school year's first meeting of the Redwood High School Amateur Radio Club, announced Fred Broemmer, mathematics teacher and club adviser.

The net will be made up of amateur stations operated by the club members. No station will be established at the school for lack of funds, Broemmer said.

Greg Brahms of Corte Madera was elected club president; Art Dinsmore of Larkspur, vice president, and Dan Marshall of Tiburon, secretary-treasurer.

The Mount Tamalpais - Muir Woods Railroad (originally the Mill Valley - Mount Tamalpais Scenic Railway) ceased operations in 1929.

Redwood High Drama Tryouts Slated Soon

The historical drama, "Victoria Regina," has been selected for the fall dramatic production of Redwood High School, drama teacher Joseph Wadlington announced.

Production dates will be Nov. 19 and 20. Try-outs will be held as soon as scripts arrive, said Wadlington.

Marina Lease Removed From Council Agenda

A proposal for an option to lease Mill Valley's yacht harbor for a proposed three-million-dollar private development will not be heard by city councilmen tonight.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said Saturday he will ask the council to set a "workshop session" at another date, to explore the request. He had reported Wednesday the option request would be before the council Monday at its 8 p.m. meeting. Option is sought by Paul B. Fischer of Corona De Mar, Orange County.

The Council will hold a hearing on a request for tentative subdivision map approval from William S. Allen of Sausalito for a proposed 15-unit "cluster type" development to be built in Blithedale Canyon near Manzanita Place.

Fairfax Trustees

The Fairfax School District will meet at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow at Manor School. The board will hear a continuing report on the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 and act on several requests for transfer of funds from one account to another.

TELEVISION REVIEW

World Series Time With Vin Scully

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The weekend clinching of the National League pennant by the Los Angeles Dodgers saved ABC-TV from having to choose today between covering a baseball playoff or Pope Paul's New York visit.

The next national television baseball broadcast will be the World Series, which, barring rain, will be seen Wednesday when NBC-TV presents the first game with the Dodgers at Minnesota.

Regardless of one's team attachments, one of the more pleasant attractions of the World Series is the fact that broadcasting's finest baseball announcer, Vin Scully of the Dodgers — who turned down the New York Yankee job when Mel Allen left — will be calling the plays on NBC-TV.

Scully, who is regarded with such esteem in Los Angeles that it matches the hero worship accorded pitcher Sandy Koufax, is so highly thought of that Dodger Manager Walter Alston amusingly let him call several plays from the radio booth in Sunday's final game. The game, of course, was meaningless, coming the day after the pennant was wrapped up.

The unflappable Scully — as unflappable as NBC's Frank McGee — came through with a minor classic of sports broadcasting as he regaled not only the city of Los Angeles, but the fans in the stands who listened on transistor radios and knew in advance what the plays would be.

With a youngster named Willie Crawford on first base, Scully called for a hit-and-run play. Crawford stole second, and Scully announced:

'Well, now that we have stolen a base, I think we'll retire. Okay, Skip (Alston), we've gotten you this far — now you're on your own . . . funny thing, he didn't ask us anything about yesterday's game."

Another interesting aspect of the televised World Series is that Juan Marichal, the pitcher who was fined and suspended after slugging Dodger John Roseboro with a baseball bat — and who would have been the star hurler if his team, San Francisco, hadn't been edged out — will now be just a spectator.

THE CHANNEL SWIM—ABC-TV apparently has had some thoughts about Sal Mineo as host of another possible network rock 'n' roll show for next fall . . . CBS-TV, meanwhile, was reported to have made some overtures to Melina Mercouri — who had a special about Greece not long ago — to do another, this one about courtship around the world.

Natural Science Forum Planned

"Teaching the Natural Sciences" will be the theme of a Fall science conference Saturday at Vallecito School, Terra Linda, co-sponsored by Marin County Superintendent of Schools Office and the Louise A. Boyd Museum.

Dr. Robert Stebbins, professor of zoology at the University of California, Berkeley will speak at the general session on "Natural Sciences in the Classroom" which opens the conference at 9 a.m.

Among others conducting section meetings are Gordon Chan, instructor of marine biology and Kenneth Miller, geology instructor, both of College of Marin.

Malaysian Citizen To Discuss Events

T. Thangathurai of the Asian Foundation will speak on "The Malaysian Situation Today" Oct. 21 at 8 p.m. at St. Stephen's Church, Belvedere.

A native of Kuala Lampur, Malaysia, Thangathurai for the past five years has worked as broadcaster and producer for Radio and TV Malaysia. He is now assistant editor of "The Asian Student" for the foundation. The program is sponsored by the St. Stephen's Guild.

REFORM HELD IMPERATIVE

Assess Procedure Overhaul Is Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Equalization today called for an overhaul of assessment procedures and said the assessors scandal makes reform imperative.

Some 15 suggestions on property tax legislation were sent to lawmakers. It followed the indictments of San Francisco's and Alameda Countys' assessors after investigations of their offices.

The board said enforcement agencies should inspect property tax records and county supervisors should receive Board of Equalization appraisals for comparisons of their county's assessments.

The board also suggested a law requiring county assessors to furnish each property owner with both the assessed and appraised market value of his property.

"The 15 suggestions we sent to the legislature and the governor are intended solely to obtain equality in property administration—a goal impossible to attain under present laws," said John W. Lynch, board chairman.

The board said "Events of the past nine months demonstrate an increasing need for changes in this important component of the state's revenue system ... The recent disclosure of irregularities in the offices of one or more assessors added to the sense of urgency that had already attached to the property tax 'reform' movement."

Other suggestions, Lynch

Pope Paul Says Peace Vital To The Survival Of Mankind

Talks To U.N., Sees LBJ, Visits Church

By LOUIS CASSELS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pope Paul VI, speaking to the United Nations General Assembly in the name of "all mankind," solemnly warned today that peace is no longer merely desirable but an indispensable condition of human survival.

In an unprecedented appearance before the parliament of nations, the gentle-voiced, sad-eyed pontiff made his own the words of the late President John F. Kennedy:

"Mankind must put an end to war, or war will put an end to mankind."

MESSAGE FOR ALL

The Pope, who arrived here earlier today on the first papal visit to America, told the world's statesmen that he came before them as "bearer of a message for all mankind."

"The peoples of the earth turn to the United Nations as the last hope of concord and peace," he said.

FULL OF WONDERS

The Pope expressed his delight at being in America, which he described as "a country so free, so strong, so industrious, so full of wonders."

Crowds officially estimated at more than 1 million persons gave the Pope a warm but orderly welcome when he drove through the city on a 24-mile motorcade following his 9:25 a.m. EDT arrival at Kennedy Airport.

An even larger turnout had been expected, but New Yorkers apparently heeded the repeated pleas of Police Commissioner Vincent Broderick to stay home and watch the motorcade on television.

BY JETLINER

The 68-year-old pontiff arrived at Kennedy International Airport aboard a DC8 jetliner at 9:25 a.m. EDT after a 4,335 mile flight from Rome that broke all records for papal voyages. Smiling shyly and waving his hand almost continually in gesture of benediction, he rode in a 24-mile motorcade through this melting-pot city of many races and creeds —a city which has more Catholics than Rome, more Jews than Jerusalem, more Greeks than Athens, more Irish than Dublin.

Police estimated that 630,000 people saw the Pope during the initial stage of the motorcade,

Russia Launches Lunar Station

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched a space rocket containing an automatic station toward the moon, a broadcast Tass dispatch said today.

The probe was designated as Luna 7. Tass said the launching was by a multistage rocket.

Tass said the station weighs 1,506 kilograms 3,313 pounds.

"The final stage had been put in advance on an intermediary orbit of a satellite of the earth and then in accordance with a present program put the automatic station into the trajectory of its movement toward the moon," Tass said.

Tass said the last stage of the rocket was put into a parking satellite orbit and then the automatic station was launched toward the moon.

"The automatic station Luna 7 is moving on a trajectory which is close to the prescribed one," Tass said.

The automatic station was equipped with telemetering, measuring and other scientific instruments.

The term automatic space station normally means the device is unmanned. It was expected the Russians again would try to make a soft landing on the moon with the station in a trial run for a manned moon flight.

It was the third Soviet moon shot this year. The other two were launched in the same way.

There was no immediate mention in the Tass account of an attempt for a soft lunar landing. The Russians apparently decided after Luna 5 crashed on the moon May 12 not to again announce in advance that a soft landing would be tried.

Luna 6 missed the moon in June.

If all goes well, Luna 7 would be expected to reach the moon Thursday night.

Reference to the satellite's trajectory being close to the prescribed one hinted that the space station may be slightly off course.

Builder Wins Approval— Or Does He?

By RICHARD LYTTLE

A triangular, half-acre parcel of land on Tiburon Boulevard, which the Marin County Planning Commission agreed was "tortured," went through further tortures before the commission today.

Developer L. B. Fleishman asked approval for three town houses and a duplex on the land, a total of five dwelling units, between Bay View Heights and Bel Aire Estates.

After one split vote and considerable discussion the commission approved four rather than five units, with condition that Fleishman negotiate with the Richardson Bay Sanitary District to see if egress could be combined with the access to an adjacent sewage pumping station.

The planning staff revealed during the discussion that the district has no use permit for its pumping station. The commission asked an investigation.

Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. moved that the permit be granted for four units with both access and egress onto Tiburon Boulevard. But only Commissioner Harry H. Heifetz joined in favoring this.

Commissioner Margaret Azevedo moved that the four units be approved with access through an easement at the rear of the property from Rancho Road and egress on the combined easement onto Tiburon Boulevard.

"Why put the applicant through added torture?" Fleishman asked. He said he planned to negotiate anyway with the district for the easement and the additional parking space, but he thought the commission action was putting him in the position of "errand boy."

When Fleishman asked for a full explanation of what was expected after Mrs. Azevedo's motion had passed, Wesley Wilkes of the planning staff told him the matter had been continued.

The commissioners corrected him saying they had voted approval of four units. However, plan for the four units was not before the commission. Fleishpan's plan showed five.

Red Grab For Power Feared In Indonesia

JAKARTA (UPI)—The powerful Indonesian Communist party was reported arming some of its three million members today, giving rise to fears of a guerrilla-type war against President Sukarno. Army troops loyal to Sukarno clamped a tight curfew on Jakarta.

("A major showdown between the army and the Communist is imminent," Radio Malaysia said in a broadcast heard in Singapore. The Malaysian radio, quoting reports from Jakarta, said there was fighting today in the Indonesian countryside.

("The army is said to be very angry over the brutal killing of several generals and determined for revenge," the Malaysian broadcast said. It reported that leaders of the Indonesian Communist party had gone underground.)

There has been no official report on casualties since the revolt erupted last Thursday.

A Jakarta radio broadcast monitored in Tokyo reported the bodies of six generals were found in an area of the capital city of Indonesia after loyal forces "silenced" the counter-revolutionaries.

The broadcast identified the generals as Pandjaitan, Sutojo, Janix, Harjoino, Parman and Suprapto. It gave no other details.)

Lt. Col. Untung, the pro-Communiss mastermind of last Thursday's anti-Sukarno rebellion, was reported by reliable sources to have fled Jakarta Saturday just hours after his attempt failed. Untung was said to be in central Java where pockets of his supporters were said to be assembling.

Sukarno went on the radio early today for a second time since the turmoil started to "remove uncertainties about his condition."

"I am well and safe and remain firmly in charge of the state and the leadership of the armed forces," Sukarno said. He said he had appointed Maj. Gen. Suharto "to restore security and order."

Troops and tanks patrolled the streets of a tense Jakarta and enforced a dusk to dawn curfew. Soldiers searched cars and passengers for the first time and issued a call to all civilians to turn in weapons.

Aquanaut Is Stung By Scorpion Fish

LA JOLLA (UPI)— Aquanaut Rick Grigg was recovering from severe scorpian fish stings today as America's 45-day "man-in-the sea" experiment, Sealab 1, entered its final week.

Medical officer Dr. George Bond said Grigg, who was stung three times on the hand and once on the foot while diving for biological samples yesterday appeared to be in satisfactory condition this morning.

Grand Jury Gets Report On Slaying

Marin County Grand Jury in special session today was hearing testimony in the holdup-killing last Labor Day at Mission Inn in San Rafael for possible murder indictments against two suspects.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales declined to say if he would also seek other indictments in the case in which Bartender Mario Ferrari died of gunshot wounds in the back.

Bales, who last Thursday filed murder charges against Jack R. Gorman, 36, and Marc Charles Osuna, 30, both now in San Quentin Prison as parole violators, is asking for murder indictments against the pair.

He said indictments will make possible the going to trial without revealing testimony in any preliminary hearing, a procedure which would be necessary on the earlier complaints, alone.

Thieves Loot Burned Shop

A San Rafael beauty shop closed by fire two weeks ago has been looted by thieves, police reported today.

Fawn Beauty Salon at 934 B Street was broken into sometime between Sept. 28 and yesterday by looters who pried away a board which had served to block the rear door since the Sept. 17 fire.

An undetermined amount of beauty preparations were stolen or thrown to the floor. Police said the entire shop was littered with debris.

No Berlin Passes

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany cut off special wall passes for West Berliners today. A West Berlin spokesman said the Reds also apparently had turned down an invitation to hold further talks on the issue of an extension to a now-lapsed general pass agreement.

Governor Arranges Briefing For Casady

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today he had arranged for Simon Casady, president of the California Democratic Council (CDC), to be briefed in Washington on the Viet Nam War siuation.

The Democratic governor, who had called for Casady's resignation as head of the volunteer Democratic group, made the announcement at a news conference.

"The State Department will tell him exactly why we're in Viet Nam," the governor said.

The governor sought Casady's resignation from the CDC post for speeches in which he criticized the President's tough policy in Viet Nam.

Brown told newsmen that he failed to convince Casady to resign at a Los Angeles meeting last week. "We simply disagree," Brown said.

Other comments at the governor's first Sacramento news conference since Sept. 7:

WATTS: He said that the McCone Commission hoped to meet a Jan. 1 target date on its report on the August riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles. He announced that the Ford Foundation had granted the commission $150,000 to meet part of the costs of its probe.

CONGRESS: The governor said he hoped to make an announcement Wednesday on an election to fill the 26th Congressional seat vacated by Rep. James Roosevelt, who resigned to accept a United Nations post. But he said he wanted state Sen. Thomas M. Rees, D-Los Angeles, to stay in his present position until after the 1966 budget session. Rees has announced his candidacy for the congressional post.

NIXON: He characterized a statement by former vice president Richard M. Nixon that left wing extremists were within the "fabric" of the Democratic party as "the same old song that he's been talking about during every Democratic administration." He called it "pure, unadulterated political propaganda."

POLITICS: The governor skirted a question on his own plans for a third term by saying it was "very interesting" to get advice from Republicans. Assemblyman William Bagley, R-San Rafael, said last week that Brown would not bid for another term.

Boy's Problem Is Caterpillars

Caterpillars can be a problem for a boy.

Yesterday afternoon, George S. Stroud, 10, was running to see if some caterpillars in his classroom at Mill Valley's Old Mill School had hatched yet. He tripped, his head striking and breaking a window.

Firemen gave George first aid and police took him to Marin General Hospital, where he was treated for a head cut. The boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Stroud of 1 Lincoln Avenue, Mill Valley.

The caterpillars still had not hatched today.

Eagle Shooting Trial On Nov. 8

Trial of rancher Leroy Martinelli of Point Reyes Station on charges of illegally shooting two eagles is scheduled for Nov. 8 in U.S. District Court, San Francisco.

Originally the trial was set for April 26 but attorney A. E. Bagshaw, reprsenting Martinelli, and Assist. U.S. Atty. Gerrold Lader asked for a postponement. The new date was set in court today.

Martinelli allegedly shot and killed two eagles in January. He claimed three of the birds killed seven of his lambs.

Senate Delays Talk On Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate put off final action on the foreign aid money bill today and headed into the expected lengthy debate on President Johnson's call for repeal of the federal law permitting the states to ban union shops.

With many senators in New York for the visit of Pope Paul VI, the Democratic leadership decided to delay until tomorrow a vote on the foreign aid measure.

Marin Students Like Visiting In Europe

By NANCY DICKSON
Redwood High School

Bread and potatoes at almost every meal was one change five Redwood High School students adjusted to while spending their summers in European homes under the Youth for Understanding program.

Senior Kate Rothrock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rothrock of 10 Garden Road, San Anselmo, spent her summer with a family in northern Germany.

Because the family lived on a farm, she found herself doing such chores as picking vegetables in the family garden and riding five or six miles by bicycle to get to town. By the end of the summer Kate was considered not an American tourist, but a German.

Senior Ed Osborn, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Osborn of 38 Peninsula Road, Belvedere was in southern Holland for his 10 weeks under the YFU program.

For a month he got a chance to experience outdoor life in Holland while traveling to different parts of the country on bikes with his Dutch "brothers." "We often ran into big bicycle jams because of so many little old ladies cruising around," he said.

"Have you had enough to eat" was the usual question Junior Sue Girtler was asked while staying in southern Finland. Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Girtler of 158 Trinidad Drive, Tiburon, emphasized how worthwhile the program was for her—and "it was fun!" she added.

Five German "sisters" were part of senior Ann Bastians German family with whom she stayed for the summer.

Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bastian of 4 Hilarita Circle, Belvedere, found the family quite wealthy.

She said that in Germany it seemed that the prosperity of a family was judged by the number of bathrooms in the home.

Jacki Crisp experienced eating six times a day while she was in Rotterdam, Holland for the summer.

Jacki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crisp of 15 Semircle Ave., Corte Madera, spent two weeks of her Holland visit in a castle with her two "sisters," 200 other teen-agers, and one chaperon.

While in Holland, Jacki said, the most wonderful moment for her was when someone asked her, "Do you speak English?"

Chess Club Forms

The Redwood Chess Club, open to all students, has been organized at Redwood High School and meets twice a week. James Dinsmore of Larkspur is club president.

Teacher At Parley

Redwood High School counselor Richard Frakes has been selected as one of the five West Coast delegates to a "get acquainted" conference at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Exchange Leader To Visit Marin

Walter Kaiser of Preetz, Germany, who was instrumental in establishing the Redwood High School-Preetz student exchange, will visit the Redwood campus Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

In a letter to Redwood Principal Donald Kreps, Kaiser expressed his desire to see the campus, meet and talk with students, and become acquainted with the operation of the school. Redwood senior Duncan Williams, who studied in Preetz last year as part of the School Affiliation Service exchange, will guide Kaiser on a tour of the school and attend several classes with him.

In Preetz, Kaiser is president of the Preetz-Blandford Friendship Club, which sponsors a direct exchange between Preetz and an English school. The possibility of this exchange being enlarged to include Redwood in a three-way program is being studied.

Redwood Parents Due In Annual Open House

Redwood High School's "Back to School Night" will be held on Wednesday evening.

An abbreviated school "day" has been planned for the parents, who will be equipped with their child's personal program card and a map of the school buildings. Registration will be at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Worms are annelids.

Drake Summer School Program Is Revised

A major revision of Sir Francis Drake High School's summer school program may mean that students can complete a regular two-semester, 10-unit, course during the summer.

Until now, the summer school has offered largely remedial and supplementary courses. Only one-semester required courses could be taken in summer school.

Principal Harold Allison explained that decision to alter the summer school program is Tamalpais High School District-wide, but application will vary in the three schools.

A 10-unit, year's course, such as United States history, would require attendance four hours daily for four weeks or two hours daily for the full session.

A course such as driver education, which requires only 30 class hours, might be offered for one hour a day throughout the session or during a four-hour period for just 7½ days.

Variety of courses to be offered and exact scheduling will depend upon several factors, Allison said.

Make-up courses and electives formerly offered in summer school will still be included, he added.

Chilly Science Aids In Television Tubes

CHICAGO (UPI) — Cryogenics, the science of ultralow temperatures, has emerged from the laboratory and become worldwide business. Liquid nitrogen (-320 degrees F.) for example, is used in vacuum-pumping products ranging from TV picture tubes to space-simulation chambers.

The nitrogen fills a metal container called a "cold trap" placed in the line between the vacuum pump and the system being evacuated. Moisture and condensible gases which could break into the vacuum or reduce the efficiency of the pump are frozen on the cold trap and easily removed. The process is called "cryopumping."

Educator Turns Table On School

BAGGS, Wyo. (UPI) — A proposal to increase the property tax levy in the Little Snake River school district around Baggs was defeated by one vote. That one vote was cast by the district's superintendent of schools, Wesley Morrow.

The vote to incerase the levy was approved by property owners, 18-10. But among non-property owners it failed, 1-0. Morrow was the only non-property owner woting in the election. Wyoming law requires a bond issue or tax increase to be approved by both classes of property owners.

Morrow explained his vote to the school board: "I felt in a long range plan, it wasn't what the people wanted . . . for our small enrollment and small school we can manage on the funds we have."

The dragonfly lays her eggs in or near water.

Students' Radio Club Plans Net

Plans to establish an amateur radio net were laid at the school year's first meeting of the Redwood High School Amateur Radio Club, announced Fred Broemmer, mathematics teacher and club adviser.

The net will be made up of amateur stations operated by the club members. No station will be established at the school for lack of funds, Broemmer said.

Greg Brahms of Corte Madera was elected club president; Art Dinsmore of Larkspur, vice president, and Dan Marshall of Tiburon, secretary-treasurer.

The Mount Tamalpais - Muir Woods Railroad (originally the Mill Valley - Mount Tamalpais Scenic Railway) ceased operations in 1929.

Redwood High Drama Tryouts Slated Soon

The historical drama, "Victoria Regina," has been selected for the fall dramatic production of Redwood High School, drama teacher Joseph Wadlington announced.

Production dates will be Nov. 19 and 20. Try-outs will be held as soon as scripts arrive, said Wadlington.

Castro 'Explains' Guevara

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro says Ernesto Guevara, one of the key leaders of his revolution, finished his work in Cuba six months ago and moved on to revolutionary activity elsewhere.

Castro

Castro talked about his former close associate in a speecch to a rally last night. He did not say where Guevara, a native of Argentina, had gone or where he was now.

Guevara's Cuban wife was in the audience, dressed in black. The crowd gave her an ovation when she entered. She appeared near tears.

Guevara had been minister of industries and in the first years of the revolution dominated the Cuban economy. He disappeared last spring, and since then there have been numerous conflicting rumors about his whereabouts.

Guevara

Castro read a letter which he said Guevara gave him April 1. It said "other lands in the world" needed his services.

"I have fulfilled the part of my duty that bound me to the revolution in your territory," the letter said.

"I formally resign from my post as major (the highest rank in the Cuban Army), as minister of industries, and my status as a Cuban (he was proclaimed a native Cuban citizens in 1959).

"My only mistake of any seriousness," the letter continued, "was not to have confided more in you since the first months of the Sierra Maestra (where Castro's revolution started), and not having sufficiently understood your qualities as director and as revolutionary."

There was no explanation of this apparent reference to differences between the two men. The letter added without explanation: "I liberate Cuba from any responsibility."

Castro said he was "confident this explains everything" about Guevara, 37.

Zachary Scott Dies Of Tumor

AUSTIN, Tex (AP)—Zachary Scott, who switched with ease from swaggering drama to drawing room comedy in three decades as a leading man, died yesterday at the age of 51.

Death was attributed to a malignant brain tumor. Scott had been in a coma two days.

Death came at the home of his mother, Mrs. Zachary Scott Sr. Her son, an Austin native, returned here Aug. 9, leaving for only brief radiation treatments by a physician.

Scott

He quit Hollywood in 1950 and returned to make his home in New York.

Born Feb. 21, 1914, Scott turned to the stage in high school.

In England he landed a juvenile lead in "The Outsider" with an English repertory company.

Scott worked through summer stock to Broadway. Hollywood's Jack L. Warner spotted him in "Those Endearing Young Charms" and proffered his first movie contract in 1943.

Besides his mother he leaves his wife, actress Ruth Ford, and two daughters, Mrs. William Crawford and Shelley Scott of New York City.

LBJ Makes Offer To Castro's Cubans

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson set the gears of government and diplomacy in motion today to offer America's refuge to Cubans who seek to leave the Communist island of Fidel Castro.

"I declare to the people of Cuba that those who seek refuge here in America will find it," Johnson said yesterday in a wind-swept bill-signing ceremony at the Statue of Liberty.

"The dedication of America to our traditions as an asylum for the oppressed is going to be upheld."

Johnson thus took up the challenge posed by Castro's offer to let those of his people who wish leave their homeland and go to America.

But just hours after Johnson spoke, Castro laid down a new challenge in a Havana speech, telling the U.S. President to also open the doors to permit Americans to travel to Cuba if they wish.

"Let the United States permit any citizen to come freely to Cuba," Castro shouted to a cheering audience. "Let them permit any citizen to come freely to Cuba. . ."

Travel of Americans to Cuba and other Communist countries now is restricted by the State Department.

Of Johnson's proposal to permit Cubans to come to America, U.S. government sources believe 50,000 to 75,000 Cubans might seize the opportunity to leave their homeland and take up refuge in the United States.

Johnson stood at one historic port of entry — choppy, white-capped New York harbor — to open the gates of another, Miami. He said the Florida city will be "a temporary stopping place for refugees as they resettle in other parts of this country."

Johnson's dramatic announcement overshadowed his major mission on Liberty Island, the ceremony in which he signed a new immigration bill into law. It will erase the system of immigration quotas based on national origin. Johnson called the old system un-American.

Scores of government officials and hundreds of sight-seeing tourists thronged Liberty Island as Johnson signed the measure and passed out souvenir pens. Before the crush of pen-seekers was over, he passed out three cartons full, perhaps 300 pens.

Johnson said first priority in immigration to the United States will go to Cuban refugees who have relatives here, and to political prisoners.

State Department sources estimated 30,000 to 50,000 Cubans may be in those categories.

Reds Step Up Viet Warfare

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Fierce fighting broke out today between a Vietnamese army battalion and a strong Viet Cong force in Binh Dinh province, 275 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman said the battle was still raging late today. Government losses were described as heavy.

The Vietnamese battalion was protecting an engineer battalion rebuilding a bridge which had been destroyed in heavy fighting near Phu Cu last week.

A relief force was dispatched but it reportedly made little contact with the enemy.

U.S. casualties in the action were described as light. All were advisers with the Vietnamese units.

South of the Da Nang Air Base, an estimated 150 to 200 Viet Cong ambushed a U.S. Marine patrol of 13 men and killed or wounded 10 of them Sunday. Reinforcements sent to aid them also suffered some casualties, a Marine spokesman said.

Viet Cong guerrillas popped out of deep tunnels "like rats from holes," a military spokesman reported.

Three companies of Marines, backed by mobile artillery, swept the rice paddies and sugar cane fields 5 miles south of Da Nang but could not find the enemy force.

A U.S. Air Force A1E Skyraider crashed today near Tay Ninh, 60 miles north of Saigon, killing the pilot. The plane was on an escort mission, but the cause of the crash was not known. The pilot's body was recovered.

Youth Survives Drop Off Bridge

MARYSVILLE (AP) — David Lovall, 16, of Marysville has survived a 75-foot drop from a Marysville bridge and was in satisfactory condition today.

Police said Lovall was scuffling with Reginald Monarque, 18, also of Marysville on the bridge over the Yuba River yesterday. Monarque tossed Lovall over the side of the bridge, police said.

Lovall fell to a dirt embankment and suffered a severe leg injury.

Monarque was held on assault charges.

PARK OF FUTURE—This is how Gallinas Village Community Services District's park at Rosal and Adrian ways in Santa Venetia will look when completed, as visualized by nurseryman Robert M. Tanem, who designed it. A director of the district today said Tanem will receive about $1,200 as total fee for designing and supervising the project.

Glass Shatters And Two Land In County Jail

Two Stinson Beach men are scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow on charges arising from a glass-throwing spree at Elwood's Rest, Calle Del Arroyo and Shoreline Highway, Stinson Beach, Friday night.

Robert F. Owens, 28, faces charges of disturbing the peace and malicious mischief, and Robert D. Patterson, 21, faces charges of vagrancy and resisting a police officer in the discharge of his duties.

William Hall complained to sheriff's deputies that Owens threw a glass at him, and broke 21 glasses and a bottle of Scotch.

Hall said Owens also kicked in a glass panel in the front door after he was evicted from the premises.

Deputies reported Patterson interfered during the arrest of Owens.

Owens was released under $276 bail and Patterson, under $550 bail.

Driving Class Set

Legislature Starts Third Week; The Scorecard Is Still Blank

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature began the third week of a special session today with its scorecard still blank. But the lack of action doesn't worry the Brown administration yet.

There were signs of progress in the Assembly, but none in a Senate still bitter about court decisions that will give control of the rural-dominated house to populous Southern California.

Senate unhappiness even has threatened the expected smooth path of a resolution ratifying a U.S. constitutional amendment spelling out presidential succession.

Senate President Pro Tem Hugh Burns, D-Fresno, indicated senators might balk at voting for ratification if the U.S. Senate continues to hold up a proposal permitting states to nullify the U.S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" reapportionment decision.

The Assembly's Democratic leadership has just about wrapped up work on a bill creating new lower house districts that aim to satisfy the State Supreme Court's equal population standards.

"Our problems are 99 per cent solved," an Assembly source said. He said the Elections and Reapportionment Committee plans to hold a public hearing on the bill Tuesday and bring it to a floor vote by Thursday.

In the Senate, the Reapportionment Committee continues closed-door discussions of proposed new Senate districts, but there's no telling when a bill will emerge.

Cabin Cruiser Again Afloat Off San Rafael

A 35-foot cabin cruiser, Mary Beth, was finally pumped out and patched at 8 a.m. today—15 hours after she went aground at the mouth of the channel to Marin Yacht Club on San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

The Coast Guard reported the owner, Ronald Springer of El Cerrito, and another person were taken aboard another vessel as the Mary Beth began to settle in four feet of water.

Pumping operations by the Coast Guard had to be abandoned about three hours later because four holes in the side of the cruiser were too large, it was reported.

Workmen from Seaway Marine, San Rafael, worked through the night to patch the holes and the boat was brought in for permanent repairs early today.

"We're not panicking," said a spokesman for Gov. Brown. The governor has promised to use all the powers of his office to get agreement on reapportionment bills before the State Supreme Court's Dec. 9 deadline.

On Jan. 30, 1922, Marin County had the heaviest snow storm in its history. A mantle of snow on Mount Tamalpais was three to six inches at the summit.

District Director Denies High Fee For Designer

A Gallinas Village Community Services District director today denied that Santa Venetia nurseryman Robert M. Tanem will receive $3,500 for designing and supervising landscaping on two Gallinas Village parks.

Mrs. Joni Paulsen of 705 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, in a letter to the Independent-Journal, said Friday that it appeared Tanem would receive about $3,500.

She said a bill submitted by Tanem at last month's directors' meeting came to $1,200 and directors would not discuss it. She asked if an additional bill for $1,200 or more would be submitted when the work was done.

"That's ridiculous," said Mrs. Alys Durenberger, a director.

She said Tanem submitted the bill for $1,200 because he feared the board was not going to go ahead with the work. The board authorized payment of $250 of this. An additional $250 will be paid at the time bids are let and the balance when work is finished, she said. The $1,200 will be Tanem's total fee.

Tanem last week told the Independent-Journal that work on the Rosal and Adrian ways park and the Hacienda Way park could come to $27,000. With a fee of five per cent, he would receive $1,350 in that case.

No Permit Issued For House Building

No objections were filed by deadline time with the Army Corps of Engineers on a permit request of Donald G. Davis and James R. Coleman to build a house and floating dock on West Shore Road, Belvedere.

But no permit will be given, according to Alf Ekeland of the corps, until the San Francisco Bay Conservation Commission gives approval to the plans of Davis, of 133 Center Street, and Coleman, of 27 Racquet Club Drive, both of San Rafael.

Five Receive Minor Hurts In Accidents

Five people were treated and released from Marin General Hospital after receiving minor injuries in traffic accidents Friday.

Barbara Bolan, 25, of 16 Ridge Way, Mill Valley, was injured when her westbound car plunged down a steep 60 foot bank at the intersection of Highway 1 and the Panoramic Highway. The accident occurred at 8:30 p.m. Friday, reported the California Highway Patrol.

Miss Bolan said her 1965 Ford Mustang, on a curve of the Panoramic Highway just above Highway 1 left the road and rolled over several times.

Frank Sanchez, 41, of 145 Stadium Avenue, Mill Valley, was injured at 3:40 p.m. Friday when his northbound motorcycle skidded on gravel near the intersection of Stadium Avenue and Almonte Boulevard, patrolmen said.

William C. Price, 32, of Santa Rosa, was injured when his Volkswagen overturned in the southbound lane of Highway 101 at 8:05 p.m. Friday on the San Rafael Viaduct, the CHP reported.

Kathleen M. Grippi, 23, of 67 Maple Avenue, Fairfax, and Victor N. Rossoff, 39, of 760 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, were injured at 11:40 p.m. Friday in an accident on Highway 101 south of the Corte Madera overcrossing.

Both were riding in a car driven by Karin M. Plantz, 25, of 760 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo. Miss Plantz told the highway patrol she swerved to avoid another car. Her car smashed into a fence.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible to Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

The 84th led the weapons loading contest in the F-101 category until the last minute when the 13th Fighter Interceptor Squadron from Glascow Air Force Base, Mont., edged it by 43 points.

Dumped Desks Not From School District

Those school desks bulldozed into the county dump at Larkspur last Friday weren't from Tamalpais High School District after all.

Instead, they were surplus furniture from meeting rooms at the Montgomery Ward and Co. store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

High school business director Frank A. Cassou said today that when he saw pictures of the desks in Saturday's Independent-Journal, he was sure they did not come from the district, as Tam high district does not have desks of that type.

He went to the dump and had one of the desks dug up for comparison. Sure enough it was not a Tam district desk.

Cassou agreed the desks were in good condition and said the district would never scrap furniture that well preserved.

Investigation disclosed that 17 desks declared surplus by Tam district are still in the district's storage yard, and will be advertised for sale, Cassou said.

Cassou explained the district's policy for disposition of its surplus property:

An item may be sent to the district corporation yard if it is obsolete, worn out or surplus to the needs of the school.

Such equipment may be disposed of in one or six ways: Through reassignment to another district department, trade-in on new equipment, sale, salvaged for usable parts, sale as scrap, or destruction.

Items to be sold and valued at $200 or more are sold through public bid after legal advertisements are published, Cassou said. That's what will be done with the 17 desks.

Cassou said that he and Director of Maintenance Oliver Bonner confer and determine what items are beyond repair and should not be sold. On questionable matters, he said, the board is called in for inspection.

When 18 desks were found at the dump Friday, someone at the Tam district office assumed they were the district's surplus desks.

POPE

through the borough of Queens.

They clapped, cheered, waved flags and handkerchiefs as the Pope passed by in a bubble-top limousine. But they remained behind police barricades and did not try to storm the Pope's car or touch his person.

Johnson presented to the Pope his wife, Lady Bird, and their 17-year-old daughter Luci who became a convert to Catholicism three months ago. Mrs. Johnson and Luci did not remain in the room, however, during the conference. The only person present besides the two principals and their interpreters was White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers.

After the hour-long visit to the President's suite, the Pope's hectic schedule sent him to the private residence of Francis Cardinal Spellman adjoining St. Patrick's Cathederal for a bite of lunch and a brief rest prior to his 3:30 p.m. EDT speech at the U.N. General Assembly.

As he stepped from the big DC8 jetliner which brought him here from Rome, the smiling 68-year-old pontiff extended a warm paternal greeting to America's 45 million Roman Catholics.

"The first Pope to set foot upon your land blesses you with all his heart," he said.

Wearing a white cassock and a full-length red and white cape to ward off the cool breezes whipping through the airport, the slight, scholarly pontiff waved to the crowd of some 2,000 invited guests on the airport ramp, and then went down the official receiving line, smiling and shaking hands with United Nations Secretary General Thant, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The Pope warmly embraced his old friend and host, Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York.

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner kneeled and kissed the Pope's ring.

Pill Overdose Puts Woman In Hospital

Mrs. Betty Jane Mack of 849 Sweetzer Avenue, Novato, was in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital, under treatment for an overdose of Seconal tablets.

Mrs. Mack took the pills about 6 p.m. yesterday, Novato police reported. She was taken to the hospital early today.

said, would reduce property tax inequities.

The board also advised that a state-wide enforceable assessment level of a minimum of 25 per cent of the market value of all taxable private land be considered. "At present," a spokesman said, "this is the level used by most assessors anyway, but there is no uniform law."

The board said there is a need for county assessment appeals boards in larger counties to take over that job from boards of supervisors, and for revisions in the law to allow a court test of county equalization decisions if desired by the taxpayer.

The legislature was asked to consider specifying penalties that can be imposed by assessors on taxpayers who willfully hide or misrepresent property. A spokesman said statutes now give assessors wide discretion, but a superior court has held that this is an unconstitutional delegation of power.

Other points would:

Exempt from taxation household furnishings and personal effects. A spokesman said "we are striving for equality throughout the state in this respect — in some areas this law is not enforced at all."

Gauging a veteran's eligibility for property tax exemption by his gross income rather than the value of his gross assets.

Reimbursing needy elderly citizens for portions of their property taxes, whether paid as owners or as renters.

The board administers the collection of sales and use taxes for cities, counties and the state, but acts only in an advisory capacity in the administration of county assessors functions.

A.F. Hearing Judged Illegal

An ousted Air Force weatherman, once resident in Sausalito, has been ordered reinstated by a federal judge on grounds he was denied a chance to cross-examine five witnesses against him at his hearing.

Lt. Col. Leonard A. Gamage was separated in early 1963 on charges he ordered weather reports of his office falsified to impress inspectors.

Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled in Washington, D.C., that the hearing board acted illegally in taking evidence supplied by five former underlings of Gamage as given to Air Force investigators but not having the underlings present so Gamage's lawyer could question them.

Gamage resided in Sausalito for about six months following his ouster from the Air Force. Richard Christian, then editor of Marin News, wrote a series of articles about the ouster in that weekly.

Fair Condition

Mrs. Marie Fraser, 80, was reported in "fair condition" today at Marin General Hospital after she reportedly fell on the bathroom floor last night at her Sausalito home at 67 Cloud View Avenue, suffering a back injury.

Two Youths Arrested In Auto Theft

Two Marin City youths were arrested early today by sheriff's officers in the alleged theft of a 1962 Corvette in Tamalpais Valley.

Booked in county jail was Blaine Jarrard Walter, 19, who last June 28 was shot in the buttocks by a San Rafael policeman after Walter fired five shots near the Standard Service Station at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue. He was held today in lieu of $1,100 bail.

His companion, 16, remained in juvenile hall at noon today on a similar charge of car theft.

Sheriff's deputies said they spotted the pair and a third youth apparently working on the car—owned by Robert D. Tomei, 396 Pinehill Road, Tamalpais Valley—in the 400 block of Marin Avenue about 3:50 a.m.

They said the car allegedly had been taken from in front of Tomei's apartment.

The third youth, unidentified, fled into bushes on their approach and was not apprehended, officers said.

Walter, of 345 Drake Avenue, was certified to juvenile court last July 29 on charges of criminal conspiracy and assault with intent to commit murder in the service station shooting.

Airport Report Gains Support

The Marin County Development Assn., through Carroll A. Snyker, its executive vice president and manager, has generally concurred in the J.G. Percy report on Marin's airport needs.

Percy, director of aeronautics for Ventura County, recommended that the county develop its site at Novato and defer efforts for a parallel civilian strip at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Application for federal assistance for the Novato facilities was recently turned down for the second time. Snyker recommended seeking services of the California Aeronautics Commission in making another application.

Head Bruises

Thomas Tuttle, 20, of 325 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, was treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday for forehead bruises reportedly suffered in an accident in Daly City, the hospital reported.

Marinite Helps Brazil's Struggle Against Poverty

Personnel problems, poverty and the attitude of "Amanha" (tomorrow) are three weaknesses in the current Alliance For Progress program in the Brazilian state of Alagoas.

This is the belief of John A. De Becker, Mill Valley civil engineer, who has just returned from a three-month tour working on and observing one of the American aid projects.

General poverty of the Brazilians makes it difficult for them to provide certain requirements in the aid agreement to supply adequate office space, a bilingual secretary and proper transportation.

Just as important, the engineer feels, is the local attitude that time doesn't matter. The work can be done tomorrow.

Speaking of personnel, De Becker commented: "It is apparently difficult within the limits of the budget to obtain for long term assignment in Brazil American professional men with sufficient background and practical experience to handle such a big project."

De Becker is wholeheartedly in favor of assistance. "I think we have a moral obligation to help and it is certainly a political expedient. I don't mind being taxed for the purpose," he added.

"Any aid program is, of course, non-economical in the sense there is no immediate return from the point of view of the businessman. I'll accept this but I would stress with great emphasis that the administration and execution of an uneconomic giveaway program should be done with utmost efficiency."

The project is jointly administered in Alagoas by San Francisco State College, where De Becker is a parttime engineering professor, and the University of Alagoas, sponsored by the U.S. State Department.

De Becker works most of his time as consulting engineer for Gribaldo, Jacbs, Jones and Associates of Oakland and Mountain View.

He was mainly concerned with a cement plant and, for a short time, was deputy coordinator of all Alagaos projects while another man was on vacation. Other projects under consideration include gravel, coal processing and ceramics plants as well as a saw mill.

There were two other Marinites, both from the San Francisco State College staff, on the project.

Thomas J. Zilka of Mill Valley, head of the college's engineering department, was the American project director of Alagoas projects in San Francisco, was in Alagaos recently on a three-week inspection tour. Prof. Willard A. Brown of Corte Mader had a three-month tour in Alagaos this summer.

De Becker delated that a large percentage of the population in Alagoas, the second poorest Brazilian state, almost never eat meat. In the city of San Miguel, with a population of 10,000, only 25 per cent of the children live to the age of 10. Laborers for road building get 55 cents a day, American, and a haircut costs 35 cents.

De Becker was accompanied by his wife, Eva, and daughters, Veronica, 18, and Sally, 9. His way only was paid. Sally, said De Becker was bitten on the leg in Belem zoo by a semi-tame, 18 inch rodent called a Quati and had to have 14 rabies shots.

The De Beckers visited Inca ruins of Machu Picchu and Cozco en route home, their daugter, Veronica, flying from Brazil to England to attend school there.

Veteran With Trees

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has planted her 10th ceremonial tree since she became First Lady. "I'm beginning to feel the day would not be complete unless I planted a tree," she told 1,200 students at Friday's ceremony at the State University College at Buffalo.

Plan For Dias Ranch Filed With Commission

A master plan for development of the 160-acre Dias ranch, bounded by Shoreline Highway, Panoramic Boulevard and Homestead Boulevard, showing mostly cluster residential development, has been submitted to the Marin County Planning Department.

Developer of the land is Alfred J. Stern of Palo Alto.

His plan, prepared by architects Callister and Payne, shows 135 acres in open area and proposes the space be maintained by a management association.

There would be stables and a riding area plus trails. The plan also shows five acres set aside for commercial development with a hotel and shops.

There would be 10.28 acres devoted to residential use and 13.20 acres to roads.

There would be a total of 581 residential units with 156 rental units, 98 duplexes, 159 attached (cluster) single-family units and 168 non-attatched units.

Stern has asked a change from agricultural to planned community zoning. The planning commission today set hearing on that application for Oct. 18.

Man Charged With Battery On Roadway

San Anselmo police have disclosed the identity of a motorist who on Sept. 25 allegedly struck a Santa Clara man in the face following a driving dispute involving the latter's honking of his automobile horn.

The motorist, Robert Lee Edney, 22, of 21 Park Road, Fairfax, has been charged in Marin Municipal Court with battery and with malicious damage of property. However, he was admitted to San Rafael General Hospital later the same day—Sept. 25—for injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident on San Pedro Road near Margarita Drive, San Rafael.

Officers said the bench warrant for his arrest will be served upon his release from the hospital. Bail is $300.

According to police, George C. Jennings of Santa Clara gave a blast of his horn when another motorist crossed a double line and passed his car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near San Francisco Boulevard in San Anselmo.

Jennings said the man pulled his car back into the right lane, in front of Jenning's and stopped. He said the man walked back, opened Jenning's car door, struck him in the face and then kicked the car door twice before returning to his own auto and departing.

Kennedys March Only Ten Blocks

NEW YORK (AP)—For the second consecutive year, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D - N.Y., created a stir by marching in New York's Pulaski Day parade.

Last year, as a candidate for the Senate, Kennedy was accused by some of using the parade for political purposes.

He and his brother, Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., joined the line of march at 30th Street yesterday. They were asked to leave 10 blocks later by parade committee Chairman Francis J. Wazeter and join him in the reviewing stand, which they did.

Said Wazeter: "We don't run the parade for personal publicity."

Personal Belongings Are Stolen

Three burglaries, involving more than $200 in personal belongings and 47 blank checks, were reported to San Rafael police during the weekend.

Hugh Freeman Paine of San Francisco reported that someone entered a home he owns at 32 Las Casas Drive, between Sept. 26 and 4 p.m. Saturday. A sleeping bag, valued at $30, a portable typewriter, $50, and a lady's wristwatch, $45, were taken, Paine said. Police said entry was through an unlocked door.

Donald Bruce Gold of 32 Stevens Place reported someone broke into his office at DiWal Building Materials, 61 Jordan Street, between 11:30 p.m. Friday and 8:30 a.m. Saturday, and took 47 blank checks. Police said entry was by forcing an east window.

Robert C. Manning of 1330 Fourth Street reported that while he was moving from 38-C Jessup Street someone took his clock radio, transistor radio, cooking utensils, dishes and photographic equipment, with a total value of $62.

Terra Linda Prepares To Stage 'Innocents'

Those selected by director Sally Rupp for the six-member cast are Peg Morris, Ann Marie Mangini, Lee Jordan, Corine Atkinson, Ron Teague and Doug Gower.

BREEZY BRITCHES — Howard Harris of Cowtown, N.J. found that bulldoging a belligerent Brahma bull is a jeans-busting task. He was trying to get the bull aboard a ferry last night after it broke loose from a rodeo in Toronto. The bull trampled two fences and ended up in Lake Ontario, before being herded aboard a ferry to Toronto Island. (AP Wirephoto)

Demo Says Brown Seeks Re-Election

Assemblyman William T. Bagley's prediction that Gov. Edmund G. Brown would not seek re-election was described as "utter baloney" today by Robert L. Coate, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

"If there was ever any question in the governor's mind about running, the emergence of Ronald Reagan and the radical right has cast the die.

"Speculation about a major Democratic candidate filing against Glenn Anderson in the primary is pure nonsense. Anderson will run and be re-elected for the soundest of all reasons: nobody can beat him."

Bagley predicted Brown would not be a candidate in a speech to the Humboldt County Republican Women on Saturday.

Talks On Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith arrived in London today for critical discussions of independence for Rhodesia. When his visit was announced last week, a Rhodesian spokesman said the talks "must be final and conclusive."

Bay Fill Naming Held Symbolic

Marin's "victory" over appointments to the bay fill commission is only symbolic, at least for the time being, Warren Schmid, executive director of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, said today.

But William Jack Adams, Novato city councilman who introduced a resolution Friday asking for new appointments by the association to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, said he expects to see at least two of the three present representatives replaced soon.

The resolution, passed in a general assembly meeting of the association, called for new appointments based as much as possible on geography. Marin members objected the three persons named to the new commission were all from the South Bay area.

The resolution made all the present appointees temporary, but Schmid said today the appointees were temporary anyway, since the state law which set up the bay fill commission allows any of the 27 members to be removed by the agency making the appointment.

Objections at the meeting Friday were based on geography but Adams made it clear Marin representatives also feared the men appointed favored bay fill projects.

Named by the executive committee of the association earlier were Thomas J. Mellon of San Francisco, Mayor Wallace Benson of Belmont and Mayor Harland Oliver of Alviso. The committee is scheduled to meet Oct. 21 in Berkeley.

Schmid said association bylaws make no provision for method of appointments to such things as the bay fill commission. The procedure will have to be worked out Oct. 21 if new appointments are to be made, he said.

Adams said he has been assured by several committee members that there will be new appointments.

French Woman Now Just Writes Of French Women

"Now I just write about French women. I don't write about Americans anymore," said Janine Oriano, wife of the French cultural attache in San Francisco, after hearing of the latest complaint about her article on sexy games of Marin children.

The article by Mrs. Oriano, of 1 Arroyo Way, Kentfield, appeared in the French women's magazine, Marie-Claire, in April, and according to the writer, the repercussions were quick and have continued.

"Mon Dieu! Some American people were not happy because I told about some children," she said. She has four children of her own, two boys aged 10 and 8 and twin 3-year-old girls.

In the article, entitled "The Terrifying Testimony of Janine Oriano," she told of games where pre-teen children have a boy and girl go to an isolated room for seven minutes of kissing or fighting.

She also complained of girls under 10 years old with lipstick and mascara dressed up as showgirls or models. She found objectionable the fact her sons received Valentine cards decorated with hearts.

Asked if her opinions of the situation had changed since the article appeared in print, she said, "I don't want to talk about that any more."

Billions More For Highways?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The American Automobile Assn. says the U.S. Interstate highway system will need from $7 to $9 billion by 1972 to complete the federal highways.

The group's highway committee told delegates at the opening of its national convention in San Francisco yesterday that the federal government probably will determine in 1966 how to match funds with the expected costs.

The committee said several bills already had been introduced into Congress to provide financing for the federal highways. The highway program is now supported by federal taxes on highway users.

County Plans To Cancel All Credit Cards

All credit cards used by county employees will be cancelled and new ones issued under a brand new account, county officials announced today.

The Independent - Journal disclosed Friday that some cards assigned to employees with no expiration date and accounting procedures did not reveal who had them.

County auditor-controller Michael Mitchell today recommended that the current cards be cancelled. Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows said the department of public works concurs in the suggestion.

All Shell cards with no expiration date will be cancelled, Barrows said. The Chevron cards, which have expiration dates, will be called in when a new account is established with the oil company.

Mitchell also recommended that efforts be made to have employees fill the tanks of county cars at the garage rather than at the Standard Station at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael.

Purchasing at the station means the county misses the advantage of bulk rate purchases and pays 3 cents a gallon federal tax which is not charged in sale to public agencies by bulk purchase.

Purchases at the station have soared since the bulk tank at the courthouse was closed in June due to leaks.

Barrows said it did not seem economically sound to replace that tank, since the courthouse will go out of county use in a few more years.

Parenthood Forum

County Supervisor Peter Behr of Mill Valley, and Mrs. Albert W. Gatov of Kentfield, former U.S. treasurer, were among those who took part in the third western region's workshop of Planned Parenthood-World Population at San Francisco at the weekend. Mrs. Francois Leydt of Belvedere was a chairman of the organization committee.

66th Grape Festival Has Record Crowds

Record crowds were reported at the 66th annual Sunny Hills Grape Festival Saturday at Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax, with the event breaking all attendance and sales records.

When Mrs. Ernest Guy, Grape Festival chairman, officially opened the festival at 10 a.m., the roads to Fairfax were already jammed and hundreds of festival goers were invading the grounds of the colorful old fashioned country fair setting so familiar to Marinites for more than half a century.

Helium inflated balloons soared above the grounds marking the spot where over 10,000 people filled their shopping bags with thousands of handmade produces and homemade foods and canned goods.

The warm sunny day boosted the sales of snow cones to over 3,000, and soft ice cream cones topped the 1,000 mark. The Powder Puff Guild reported the sale of their milk shakes exceeded 1,000, and the apple booth manned by Terra Linda Guild 1 poured out more than 600 glasses of apple cider.

Mrs. Guy reported that almost all booths sold out, and some were forced to close before the official festival closing time of 5 p.m. "We are indebted to the people of Marin and all others who turned out with such overwhelming support of this 66th Grape Festival. This is the first year the Grape Festival has been conducted by the Sunny Hills Guilds Governing Council, and we are indeed proud that our first effort was so successful," she added. The Grape Festival has been conducted in the past by Sunny Hills board of directors.

Mrs. Guy pointed out that in addition to the more than 1,000 guild members who participated in the Grape Festival, many other individuals and community organizations contributed to the success of the event.

"Marin's Marines reservists provided a truck for transporting booths to the festival and Marin Council of Boy Scouts loaned us some of their booths, and Hamilton Air Force Base personnel transported them back to Camp Tamarancho."

Mrs. Guy expressed appreciation too to Fairfax Lions and San Anselmo Rotary clubs and to 52 Junior Volunteers of Sunny Hills who helped keep the grounds picked up.

No Objections Were Voiced

Frank O. O'Callahan of 3 Grand Court, San Rafael, said today neither he nor his wife objected to use of the old Coleman School building on Grand Avenue for a Halloween "haunted house" by the Children's Home Society.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hahn, volunteer director of the society, reported Friday that O'Callahan was among neighbors who had objected to the proposed use of the building, which has been the subject of a zoning dispute.

O'Callahan said this was incorrect, as he and Mrs. O'Callahan have no objection to use of the property for a "haunted house" fund-raising project, although they have opposed rezoning.

More Arrests In Georgia Bus Attempt

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Negro demonstrators tried to run past state police today to board a bus carrying white school children, and several of the Negroes were hurled to the ground. Two were dragged from the street and arrested when they went limp.

Georgia's grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, Calvin F. Craig of Atlanta, grabbed one of the Negro youths by the shoulder after a state trooper had blocked the demonstrator. Craig wrestled him to the ground.

Craig told newsmen afterward that the Klan will increase tension in this rural east Georgia town until the governor takes action to stop the integration attempt.

Twelve Negro pupils showed up at the spot where white children board buses for schools in surrounding counties. Negroes have been trying to integrate the buses since all the white pupils in Taliaferro County transferred following submission of a desegregation plan for their schools here.

Integration Group Seeks U.S. Funds

CHICAGO (AP) — An integration group has asked Mayor Richard J. Daley to intervene in the Chicago public school crisis involving $30 million in federal education funds.

The dispute arose Friday when the U.S. Office of Education ordered that $30 million in federal funds be withheld from Chicago public schools for failure to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, an organization of integration groups, appealed to Mayor Daley in a telegram yesterday:

"Because of an intransigent superintendent of schools and a school board hardly able to take the most feeble steps forward, segregation and inequality in Chicago's schools has brought on a crisis of catastrophic proportions with the withholding of federal funds.

"We now call upon you to enter this situation with vigor and determination to bring Chicago schools into compliance with the Civil Rights Act, and to encourage in every possible way the city's full cooperation with the U.S. Office of Education...."

School Supt. Benjamin C. Willis, 63, was rehired by the Chicago Board of Education in May to a four-year contract, with the stipulation that he retire on his 65th birthday in December 1966.

Integration groups contend Willis has maintained de facto segregation in the public schools.

The council, led by Albert Raby, appealed to Francis Keppel, U.S. commissioner of education, in July and asked that federal funds be withheld until the Chicago public schools are properly integrated.

The U.S. Office of Education in Washington said Friday that a preliminary investigation indicates some instances of failure in Chicago to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act. A federal spokesman added: "The Office of Education believes that the situation in these instances can, with the cooperation of Chicago school authorities, be resolved satisfactorily."

Family Squabble Brings Booking

San Rafael police booked Lawrence V. Jackson, 39, of 1364 Grand Avenue, on a charge of assault yesterday for allegedly hitting his brother-in-law, 17-year-old Benjamin Skippingday, during a family squabble at the Grand Avenue address.

Jackson was taken to the jail on a citizen's arrest by his wife, Mrs. Jennie Jeanne Jackson, of 1364 Grand Avenue. He was held in county jail under $110 bail.

Manor School Sets Night For Parents

Parents of students at Manor School in Fairfax are invited to a "Back to School' night at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 12 at the school.

Teachers will explain the work of the year ahead in their classrooms and answer parents' questions. Parent-Teacher Assn. representatives will also be in each classroom to enlist new members.

Backers Sought For Tam Bonds

Mrs. Gale Bishell of 342 Linda Way, Mill Valley, will lead the current endorsement drive for the $5,750,000 Tamalpais Union High School District bond campaign. She is president of the Mill Valley Parent-Teacher Assn.

The citizen committee, headed by Mrs. Bishell, will seek endorsement by individuals and groups in the district for use in advertisements and campaign material, according to bond drive chairman Ken McDonald.

The voters will be asked Nov. 16 to approve the bonds for completion of Redwood High School in Larkspur and to build the first phase of a new school in San Gernonimo Valley.

Natchez Negroes Planning To Keep Up Demonstratons

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Charles Evers, state field secretary of the NAACP, said Negroes would demonstrate here again tonight despite the arrest of 409 civil rights workers in weekend demonstrations.

Police arrested 103 in the first of three attempted marches to the City Hall yesterday. Evers turned some 500 Negroes back after they ran into a police barricade the second and third times, both after dark.

The number jailed, including a few whites, reached 409 with 19 pickets arrested Friday, and 16 pickets and 271 marchers picked up Saturday.

Most of those arrested have been taken to the state prison farm at Parchman, 200 miles to the north. Police said those 12 years old and older would be held at Parchman to await trial.

The marchers were charged with parading without a permit. The pickets were charged with contempt of court.

Chancellor Curtis Collins last Thursday issued an order prohibiting both the NAACP and the Ku Klux Klan from any action that might increase racial tensions in Natchez. City officials asked for the order.

Evers said Negroes would continue marching until the city granted their demands, which included school desegregation and the hiring of Negro policemen.

Each of the marches started from the Beulah Baptist Church. None got farther than two blocks.

Police Chief J. T. Robinson met the first wave of yesterday's marchers two blocks from the church and asked them to disperse. He said "You're parading without a permit. No permit has been asked. No permit has been issued."

A Negro minister leading the group replied: "Chief, all we would like to do is go to jail and pray for our people you have. It's our constitutional right."

Then the marchers knelt for a prayer. When they got to their feet, Robinson said: "We think the place to pray is in church." He placed them under arrest.

City Councilmen Offered Old Pews

Two pews from what is now the Belvedere Community Center — formerly a Presbyterian church — will be returned to their former places if an offer by the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society is accepted.

The society has proposed to the Belvedere City Council — which meets in the Community Center—that the pews be placed there to note the historic use of the building. The council will rule on whether to accept the offer at its meeeting at 8 p.m. today.

There will be another request regarding the Community Center, too: The Girl Scouts want to use it for weekly meetings.

ONE WAY TO DOUSE A FIRE — Bulldozer covers up fire in San Quentin dump in San Rafael, one of several dump fires that plagued Marin County during the weekend. Others in the Point Reyes Station dump caused the county sanitarian to order its closing.

Nine Hurt In Reno Mystery Explosion

RENO (AP) — Firemen sifted through wreckage today, trying to find the cause of a mystery blast that leveled a bar and half a dozen downtown Reno buildings. Nine persons were hurt.

The explosion and resulting fire Sunday were a block southwest of Reno's main gambling district and a block north of an area destroyed in a 1957 explosion. Three persons were killed and 49 injured in the earlier tragedy.

Sierra Pacific Power Co. crews checked mains that serve the area but found no leak.

A street cleaner said someone was in one of the stores just before the blast, but firemen could find no evidence.

The Alley Kat Bar on Fulton Alley, where the explosion centered, had closed at 5 a.m.

The explosion was felt 15 miles away and plumes of black smoke from the fire were seen 50 miles away.

The fire was controlled within an hour.

Most of the injuries were minor cuts, the Washoe Medical Center reported. But Mrs. Clarice Shiffner, 53, broke both legs when she ran between two cars in the confusion.

About 35 businesses were damaged in a four-block area, with most of the damage being shattered glass. Most had new glass by evening or were boarded up to prevent looting.

Gas and electric lines in the area were shut off after the blast. Police also sealed off the block between Center and North Virginia streets where the blast was strongest.

The council will also hold a public hearing on an appeal by Speedie Mart, 118 Corte Madera Avenue, from planning commission's denial of a free-standing sign.

Kent B. McIver, 28, of Laurel Grove and Machin Drive, Ross, suffered a mangled left foot when his motorcycle went out of control on Goodhill Road, Kentfield, at 12:37 p.m. Saturday.

McIver was reported in "satisfactory" condition today at Marin General Hospital.

The sheriff's office reported McIver lost control after a near-collision with a car, and while his cycle was weaving, his foot became caught in one of the wheels.

She was driving along Oak Manor Drive when the cat started to climb into the back seat, and she turned.

Blaze Hits Dump; Another Is Closed

Dump trouble plagued Marin County during the weekend.

The county health department closed the Point Reyes Station dump because of frequent fires and heavy population of rats.

A fire which broke out at the San Quentin dump in San Rafael Saturday was blamed on smouldering ashes in a box of rubbish. It sent up heavy smoke, visible throughout much of Marin County.

The fire burned about one-eighth of an acre of trash. A dump bulldozer simply buried it, while a San Rafael Fire Department truck stood by.

County Sanitarian William Desmond ordered closing of the Point Reyes Station dump. He said efforts to have the land owner, Roland T. Monti, clean up the property had failed.

He said the dump permit is held by Dino Lucchesi of Point Reyes Station, who operates the Inverness Garbage Co.

Desmond said Lucchesi runs a good operation, but Monti, the property owner, has refused to remove trees adjacent to the dump. This has heightened the fire hazard, Desmond said. There were fires at the dump Friday and again yesterday.

Desmond said two other dump sites are being considered. Until one of them is established, scavengers will have to haul their refuse to the Burdell dump on the Sonoma County line north of Novato, he said.

How come 750,000 people in the Bay area are insured by Metropolitan Life?

Here and everywhere, more and more people are discovering that life insurance can be as wide-awake and forward-looking as their own plans for the future. These are the people who've learned about Metropolitan's exceptional range of up-to-date plans and policies. Here are two examples:

New cash-building policy for business owners

Perhaps you have insurance problems involving partnership, stock retirement, key man, split dollar, or deferred compensation factors. Then check on Metropolitan's new Executive Equity plan.

It's especially designed for business owners who want protection while maintaining assets through a rapid buildup of cash values from their insurance premium payments.

New $50,000-and-up policy at notable savings

Perhaps you have short-term needs to cover a large loan, to protect a partnership against death, for other business protection —or for substantial family protection.

In that case, Metropolitan's new 10-year convertible term policy fills the bill. Written only in amounts of $50,000 and more, written strictly for 10 years and non-renewable, this new policy offers large cost savings.

Your premium is remarkably low—especially for the first two years. And, assuming that dividends* continue at current rates and are applied to premiums, payments will be kept low for the full ten years.

At any time within the period you can convert to a permanent type of insurance up to the full face amount—without taking a physical examination.

These new policies are just part of the up-to-the-minute selection of life and health insurance plans you'd expect from America's leading life insurance company. Get the facts from your Metropolitan representative today.

*Dividends are not guaranteed.

More choose Metropolitan Life
millions more than any other company

There are many reasons why Metropolitan Life insures 45,000,000 people—more than any other company. One good reason is local, personal service from the Metropolitan advisers at your nearest office:

Los Angeles Displays Japan Art Treasures

LOS ANGELES (AP)—What experts say is one of the most valuable art collections ever assembled went on public view Saturday at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art.

A spokesman for the museum said approximately 2,000 persons toured the $4 million Japanese exhibit consisting of 127 paintings and sculptures including 22 items classified as national Japanese treasures.

The exhibit of paintings, remain on view in Los Angeles through Nov. 7. It then moves eastward to Detroit, Philadelphia and Toronto, Canada.

Approximately 15,000 members of the museum viewed the exhibit at a private showing earlier this week.

Officials said it was the first major exhibition to be presented by the Japanese government since 1953.

Among the more spectacular items—considered priceless by museum experts — was the "Yakushi Nyorai" from the Ganjo-ji in Nara, a ninth-century wooden sculpture of the Medicine Budda. Another was Seshu's "Ama no Hashidate," a 16th century ink landscape of one of the three most famous scenic spots in Japan.

The objects are on loan from museums, temples and private collections in Japan.

French Coed Pleased By San Rafael Campus

By TINA FRASIER

Born in Montbrison, France Odile Sournies, San Rafael High School exchange student, lived there until the age of five. Since then, she has moved 14 times in France alone.

Her permanent home is now in Chalous sur Marne. Her father is a prominent judge and she has one brother, 13, and a sister, 19.

Odile has attended private, public and Catholic schools. She said she liked the public schools, because she did not have to wear uniforms. When asked the difference between San Rafael High School and the public schools in France, Odile replied:

"We go to school only to learn. We have no clubs, no football games and no cafeteria. Since we have no lockers, we have to carry our books. We even have to pay for our books, which is quite a disappointment."

She said, "I like San Rafael High School very much, not only for its clubs and activities, but for the atmosphere which is free and pleasant."

The only shortcomings, according to Odile, are the white socks the boys wear and the pushing of the crowds at lunch time.

For hobbies, Odile enjoys horses, skiing and swimming. Her biggest dream here is to buy and learn to play a guitar. She would also like to visit Disneyland and to see all of California.

Odile loves the Beatles, peanut butter, American cookies and Bermuda shorts. She plans after graduating this year to go to the University of Paris, majoring in either political science or publicity.

At present, Odile is staying with San Rafael High School senior Doreen Phelps and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Phelps, 57 Junipero Serra Avenue.

Construction Changes Face Of San Rafael High School

By BILL GOLDEN and JEAN WASP

Since everyone at San Rafael High School seemingly is caught in the middle of falling debris and crumbling walls, one might wonder exactly what is happening with regard to the rebuilding program.

Bids will be let this month for remodeling and modernizing the interior of the old building somewhat along the lines of the new building.

The front stairs of the school will be changed. Instead of the present stairs-platform-stairs-platform arrangement, there will be a single large platform which presumably could be used for rallies.

The old gymnasium will be completely overhauled, the roof fixed to eliminate leaks and the basketball court standardized to fit modern regulations.

The nursery buildings and greenhouses by the auto shops will be completely torn down and the area evacuated used to improve parking facilities. Construction should be completed by Sept. 1966.

The new building is nearly finished. The library should be ready next month. Its features include:

Listening rooms for language tapes and records, typing booths, conference rooms for panel discussions and for taping and rehearsing plays and speeches, microfilm reading room making many more magazines available than could be stacked on shelves.

The new library will have a seating capacity of 150 students and space for 20,000 volumes.

In addition to all this there is a chance the music building will be redone, but nothing definite has been planned.

Driver To Speak

Racing car driver Duane Carter will speak on the importance and responsibility of holding a driver's license, at a Tamalpais High School assembly Oct. 20. Carter, who is widely known in Europe, South America and Australia, has been a racing driver 32 years and driven 13 times in the Indianapolis 500.

WHICH WAY'S COW PALACE?

Beverly Ver Steeg and her mount, Starlight Serenade, really aren't lost; they strayed on purpose into San Francisco's Civic Center Mall to point out that the Grand National livestock and horse show will be staged at the Cow Palace Oct. 29-Nov 7. Supervisors To Hear Proposals For Airport

Marin County supervisors are expected to come to grips tomorrow with the future of the county airport at Novato.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Discussion of the airport is expected to come up at 2 p.m. or soon after when the board will take up the recommendations of J. G. Percy, director of aeronautics in Ventura County, who made a study of Marin's airport needs.

Percy has recommended that the board proceed with the proposed Novato development and defer the suggested parallel strip at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Also up for discussion, however, will be the recommendation of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce that the board appoint an advisory committee of five persons who favor the idea of developing a public strip next to Hamilton.

Another problem that must be considered in tomorrow's discussion is the Federal Aviation Authority's turn-down of federal funds on the county project due to an existing lease that gives Harry Tollefson exclusive right to airport facilities on the property until 1972.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows will recommend to the board that an attempt be made to terminate the lease.

Also on tomorrow's agenda is the application for a use permit and variance from the Butte Gas and Oil Co. to continue its mercury mining operation seven miles east of Marshall. That is due to come up soon after 1:30 p.m.

Microfilming Asked In Bolinas

The Bolinas Public Utilities District must either microfilm its records—going back to 1926—or install costly additional fireproof storage space, district directors decided Friday.

The voluminous books of minutes and resolutions are presently stored in a 5x12-foot vault. An additional vault, according to Director James Dougan, would cost between $1,000 and $1,400, whereas for $700 the district can have all its records microfilmed and obtain a microfilmer and reader.

A demonstration of the proposed new equipment is scheduled for the district's next meeting.

Snuff production consumes about 32 million pounds of tobacco a year.

What does the college problem add up to?

To a national problem, unless we take steps to correct it promptly.

The colleges educate most of our leaders. But they are hampered by shortages—in classrooms, facilities and qualified teachers.

Some colleges predict that they soon may have to turn away qualified high school graduates.

This will hurt us because we urgently need leaders to make wise use of our resources, our manpower and our human skills.

It adds up to jobs and opportunities, and high living standards, for all of us.

This is everybody's concern—give to the college of your choice.

College is America's best friend

NEW MODEL FORD THUNDERBIRD

This "Town Landau" is one of two new Thunderbird cars for 1966 which contrast with the convertibles and sporty hardtops in their rooflines. This year's options for all Thunderbirds include a 428-inch engine, stereophonic tape player integrated with the radio and fingertip automatic highway speed control. Cars are now being shown in Marin at Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael; J and B Ford Sales, Corte Madera and L. J. Dervin Ford Co., Novato.

Mixed Market Shows Improvement

NEW YORK (AP)—A mixed stock market showed some improvement toward the close today.

Trading was much less active than last week and the list presented an uneven pattern of gains and losses.

Airlines and motors were higher throughout the day but their gains were moderate.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.7 million shares compared with 7.49 million Friday.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point were the general rule among key stocks.

The uneven action followed four straight days of decline. A selective recovery occurred among many high-flyers which fell victim to profit taking in recent sessions.

SCM Corp. was prominent in this list, rebounding vigorously for a rise exceeding 2.

Korvette took over as the most active issue, advancing about a point.

Chrysler and Ford were up close to a point each while other leading motor stocks gained fractions.

Gains by Eastern Airlines, United, American and Pan American were under a point each.

Up a point or so were IBM, Macy and National Aeronautical. Xerox tacked on 4, Polaroid and Boeing around 2 each.

Down around a point were General Electric, American Smelting and National Airlines.

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Juan Sebastian del Cano and 31 men brought home to Spain the only ship of five which started out on Ferdinand Magellan's first circumnavigation of the earth.

Check Cashing To Hit Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Californians are writing checks this year at a record 12-month rate of $210 billion to pay the butcher, the baker, the mortgage maker, and other dealers in goods and services.

The California Bankers Assn. announced a statewide survey shows that clearing house handling of checks on California banks wold reach the $210 billion total by Dec. 31.

The total will not include checks cashed and cleared in home banks without reaching clearing houses. These gather, sort and send checks to the banks on which they are drawn.

In 1927, it was estimated that the 400 travelling tent repertoire theatres in the United States had visited 16,000 communities and played before nearly 77 million customers during that year.

It's Dodgers 'Drysdale Vs. Twins' Grant In Opener

By JOE REICHLER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale of Los Angeles, who has never lost a World Series game, and Mudcat Jim Grant of Minnesota, who has never appeared in one, will be the opposing pitchers in Wednesday's opener of the post season Series for the world championship.

Drysdale will be working with nearly a week's rest. His last effort was a 4-0 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves Thursday which extended the Dodgers' pennant winning streak to 13 straight. A 23-game winner with a 2.78 earned run average, big Don pitched 308 innings during the regular campaign. The total is second only to teammate Sandy Koufax' 335. He also hurled seven shutouts.

Grant, the Twins' leading pitcher with a 21-7 record, tuned up for the big one Saturday and was roughed up by California. The strong-armed right-hander was tagged for three runs in two innings and was charged with the loss.

Dodger Manager Walter Alston said before his team departed for Minnesota today that he would use only three starters in the Series regardless of how many games it lasted. He had Koufax, his 26-game winning southpaw, primed for the second game in Minnesota Thursday. Southpaw Claude Osteen, with a season 15-15 record will pitch the third game, Saturday, at Los Angeles.

Koufax clinched the pennant for L.A. Saturday by beating the Braves 3-1.

Manager Sam Mele of the Twins was expected to start Jim Kaat, a left-hander, in the second game and probably Camilo Pascual, the erstwhile right-handed ace, in the third game. He also has Jim Perry, a right-hander, and Jim Merritt, a southpaw, as possible starters.

Drysdale has appeared in three World Series games. He has never opened a Series, however. The 6-foot-6 right-hander pitched in relief against the New York Yankees in 1956 without a decision, started and defeated the Chicago White Sox in 1959 and shut out the Yankees 1-0 in 1963.

"Naturally, I'm looking forward to my first Series start," he said. "I don't think the long rest is going to hurt. I threw enough in the bullpen Sunday to keep me sharp.

"It was like this in 1963. I pitched the last game of the season on Sunday and did not get to pitch in the World Series until the third game the following Saturday. I threw a three-hitter."

Drysdale saw Metropolitan Stadium in Minnesota for the first time last July when he pitched to only one batter in the All-Star Game. He left with the impression that the park was somewhat like County Stadium in Milwaukee. Don has had good fortune through the years in the Milwaukee park.

"It's a nice park," he said. "I recall being summoned from the bullpen in the fifth inning to pitch to Rocky Colavito. The American League had two runners on base with two out.

"I must have made about four or five pitches. Colavito hit a grounder to second baseman Pete Rose and that was it for me."

Drysdale said, however, he was familiar with the Twins' hitters.

"I think I've pitched against all of them except Don Mincher and that new kid at second base, Frank Quilici. I'll try to learn as much as I can about them from our scouting reports."

Alston said he would start the same line-up he had used all season. The only changes will be in the batting order. Against a left-hander, he will move up Lou Johnson from fifth to fourth and drop Ron Fairly from fourth to seventh.

Fairly, in a batting slump, drove in his first run yesterday, against Milwaukee, since Aug. 28. He had gone to bat 82 times without driving in a run.

The Dodgers, whose principal attack consists of a walk, stolen base, error and wild pitch, will enter the Series with the lowest team batting average by a pennant winner in National League history. They finished with a team batting average of .245, yet won 15 of their last 16.

During that stretch, the Dodger pitchers allowed 17 runs in the last 16 games, which included eight shutouts. They closed the season with a 3-0 shutout against the Braves yesterday.

"We keep hearing about the club not scoring any runs," observed Alston. "I'm not so sure that we are so far behind in total runs scored between this year and our last pennant winning year of 1963.

"We may surprise somebody in the Series," Alston added. "We may score more runs than people think with our usual hit-and-run, sliding and stealing attack.

"Then again, we may change tactics. We might even hit a home run or two."

The Dodgers hit 78 home runs, to rank last in the majors. They hit only 26 at spacious Dodger Stadium.

The Twins, noted for their power, added a new dimension this year. Reports have come back to Alston that the Twins employed a diversified attack in 1965, relying more than ever on speed on the basepaths. He has been cautioned to pay special attention to speedsters Zoilo Versalles and Tony Oliva.

"We've got a pretty good report on them," he smiled. "If we're lucky, we'll pitch out at the right time. If we don't, we're in trouble."

TOUCHDOWN FOR NOVATO HORNETS

Novato High School Hornets end Everett Fritz (23) goes to the ground in the end zone after taking a four-yard pass from quarterback John Dolinsek Saturday afternoon against the Terra Linda Trojans. The tally came with only 37 seconds left in the first half and put the Hornets two touchdowns ahead of the Trojans. But Terra Linda came back in the second half with a pair of touchdowns to give the Hornets quite a scare. Final score was Novato 20, Terra Linda 19. See story on page 14. Candlestick: It's All Over But The Pouting

Independent-Journal Sports

Monday, Oct. 4, 1965 13

By RON BERGMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The winds whistled as usual through Candlestick Park today, bending the grass and sweeping through the empty aisles.

There were no other noises on the spit of land that jabs into San Francisco Bay. And the quiet would continue through this week.

Instead of the cheers of a capacity crowd this Saturday when the World Series moves into the National League city, there would be this stillness in a stadium bereft of the traditional bunting.

In the waning days of the 1965 season, the San Francisco Giants had spent a 4½-game lead and finished second, two games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers, who cinched it on the next-to-last day.

The Giants left the clubhouse for the final time this year yesterday as if leaving the scene of a tragedy. The biggest names on the roster—Herman Franks, Willie Mays, Juan Marichal, Willie McCovey—had left even before the final out.

Across the hall, the pre-season consensus choices to win the flag, the Cincinnati Reds, quickly removed their grey flannels. They had dropped to fourth by losing 6-3 to the Giants.

Franks was on the highway somewhere between San Francisco and his Salt Lake City home. Before leaving in the middle of the game, Franks offered a few observations about his team, which had made 21 errors in losing seven of their last dozen games.

"I don't think the kids panicked and collapsed," said Franks. "That club down south simply would not stop winning. The Dodgers won the pennant. They didn't back into it."

The Giants had avoided their traditional June swoon this season and had taken the lead for the first time Sept. 7 near the beginning of a 14-game winning streak. They won 20 games in September, but lost the lead for good Sept. 28, in the face of a 13-game victory streak by Los Angeles.

Mays hurt his left thumb and hit only four homers in the last 16 games, including No. 52 on Sunday that gave him the major league home run championship.

The fourth-inning blast that marked an all-time Giants' season high, was the last appearance for Mays. The dugout wanted their captain to get an ovation from the 39,489 Candlestick fans by taking the field momentarily for the fifth inning, but he vetoed the idea.

Instead, 19 - year - old rookie Ken Henderson started the inning in center and later contributed the key single in the three-run seventh inning rally that won the game and beat Billy McCool (10-11).

Bob Bolin, who pitched scoreless relief for 5 1-3 innings while surrendering only a solitary single, picked up his 14th victory in 20 decisions.

Jim Hart began the day at .296 and raised his average to .300 with three consecutive hits. But he was sent up to the plate after the runs scored in the seventh and flied out, lowering his average to .299492.

"If I'd known that, Jimmy," acting - manager Charley Fox told a distraught Hart, "I would have had you bunt."

With one out and men on base, this would have meant a sacrifice and no time at bat.

Right fielder Jesus Alou also mirrored unhappiness. His winter league plans in Puerto Rico were periled by a possibly broken bone near the knuckle below his left little finger.

But one-hundredth of a point and a little finger bone hardly summarizes the season. After all, the Giants were picked by most to finish sixth.

But Franks earned a second season as manager by using a little rest for Mays and two starting pitchers teamed with two rookie relievers to bring the club in second. Injured slugging star Orlando Cepeda hardly played.

Although relievers Frank Linzy and Masanori Murakami held up, the two-man front-line broke down.

Marichal won 22 games but failed to beat a first - division team after Aug. 10. His lick-with-the-stick incident with John Roseboro Aug. 22 cost him three starts.

Bob Shaw, the reliever converted into the second starter, pitched his last complete game Aug. 20 and failed to win after Sept. 11 in five tries.

Willie McCovey hit homer No. 39 on Sept. 26 and never got No. 40.

"The fans could have gotten on us something awful the way we played in the stretch," said Franks. "But there was very little anger in them."

BRODIE-PARKS COMBO HOT, BUT 49ERS MISS AN UPSET

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)— The San Francisco 49ers, who made the Western Division champion Baltimore Colts struggle to a 27-24 victory yesterday, try out their aerial bombs next at Green Bay.

The Packers (3-0), looking more like the champions of a couple of seasons back, defeated the Chicago Bears 23-14 while the 49ers were losing their first decision after two wins. Comparative scores don't mean a thing, but San Francisco walloped the Bears by 28 points three weeks ago.

After the 49ers lost the ball on an onside kick which opened Sunday's game, the Colts rolled up 24 points in the first half to one touchdown for San Francisco. But then John Brodie began hitting Dave Parks with his sharp passes and the pair came close to working one of the season's upsets.

A capacity crowd of 58,609 watched Parks score three times on long pass plays, connecting with Brodie for 53 and 45 yards and also taking a 45 yard TD toss from halfback John David Crow.

But it wasn't enough to offset Baltimore's early margin.

Lou Michaels helped to keep Baltimore ahead with a pair of field goals of 35 and 36 yards. He notched his first one after the 49ers' onside kick strategy backfired. His second came in the fourth period when it was desperately needed.

Lenny Moore scored two touchdowns and Bobby Boyd raced across with another on an intercepted pass to help Baltimore get off to a 17-point lead at the half.

Then Brodie dominated the game after intermission with a passing attack that culminated in 18 completions out of 36 tosses for 268 yards gained on the afternoon.

He found Parks with a 45 yard toss midway through the last period to move the Forty Niners to within three points of winers. Then Baltimore stopped another San Francisco drive and ran out the clock after getting the ball.

All told, Parks caught nine passes for 231 yards, a club record for yardages.

But, as the saying goes, it was too little and too late.

Marin Ties Vallejo In Final Seconds

By BOB LAWSON

CORBUS FIELD, Vallejo — Halfback Tim Garvin returned a punt 61 yards for a touchdown with only 15 seconds remaining in the game Saturday night as coach Dick Read's College of Marin Tars tied Vallejo J.C., 14-14.

Marin's bid to win the game failed when quarterback Steve Spurling overthrew Bill Hall on the conversion attempt.

Many of the 1,300 spectators on hand were on their way to the exits when the 5-11, 165-pound Garvin took in Butch Dunkle's punt at the Marin 39. Garvin spun past four Falcon tacklers, broke loose at the 50, and had three blockers ahead of him to eliminate the last Vallejo defender with a chance to get him.

All other scoring took place in the second quarter.

After a scoreless first period, Vallejo took possession at the Marin 30 when safetyman Gary Harty recovered a fumble on a bad pitchout to Garvin.

The Falcons marched to paydirt in five plays, aided by a personal foul call against the Tars, with quarterback Jim Taylor going over for the touchdown from the one.

On the conversion attempt, Tar linebacker Dennis Camgros stopped a run by fullback Will Hardee.

Marin stormed right back with a 67-yard drive in just five plays. Quarterback Mike Kemp accounted for all the yardage in the drive, including three complete passes in as many attempts. Kemp hit halfback Tim Harr over the middle at the Vallejo five and he went in to score to complete a 14-yard play.

The Tars then took an 8-6 lead when Kemp passed to Garvin for two points.

Vallejo quickly struck back before halftime, with Taylor passing to left end Ralph Coronado for a 73-yard touchdown on the second play following Marin's score. Coronado was five yards behind the closest Tar safety when he took the ball in at the Marin 30.

On the extra point try, the Falcons faked a place kick, and Taylor passed to Jim Rowen for two points to give Vallejo a 14-8 halftime lead.

Taylor sat out the second half with a possible concussion, and the Vallejo offense was never able to penetrate further than the Marin 43 in the final two quarters.

In the second quarter, Marin drove 37 yards to the Vallejo one, where a fourth down run by Garvin was stopped short of the goal.

There was plenty of "foot" in the football game — the two teams punted a total of 19 times. Eight boots by Garvin averaged 40.3 yards, while Dunkle's 11 kicks averaged 35.3.

The Tars had an 11-6 edge in first downs, and a 242-220 advantage in total offense. Kemp and Spurling completed nine of 17 passes thrown, but also had three picked off by the Vallejo secondary.

Golfer Of The Year? Player Is Favored

MADRID (AP) — Gary Player, 29-year-old South African, left Madrid today as the king of the golf links — the man who has won all the big ones.

Player won the individual title in the 37-team Canada Cup golf championship by three strokes over defending champion Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, whose iron play let him down yesterday over the 7,096-yard, par 36-36—72 Club de Campo course.

He has won the U.S. Open, Masters, PGA, the British Open, the World Series and now the Canada Cup.

Player' victory in the 72-hole individual competition and his triumph with Harold Henning for the team title made Player the favorite to win the award as the Golfer of the Year. He's already won the U.S. Open this year and the World Series.

Player dethroned Nicklaus with a four round total of 70-69-68-74—281. That was seven-under-par for the sun-baked course littered with little oaks and well watered to conquer the hot weather.

Nicklaus, winner of the individual title for the last two years, wound up in second place with a 71-72-71-70—284.

Nicklaus' teammate, Tony Lema of Oakland, Calif., was way down the field with a total of 76-76-71-75—298.

South Africa's team of Henning and Player won the team title — one held for the last two years by the United States—by eight strokes from Spain's Angel Miguel and Ramon Sota. South Africa totaled 571 and Spain 579. Lema and Nicklaus came third in the team competition with 582.

Yachtsman Is Repeat Winner

Scott Harris won the 19th annual Clipper Class yachting championships over the weekend on Richardson Bay, the second straight year he has captured the title.

Harris won both races Saturday and then was second Sunday in the final race that was waged with practically no wind. Bill Schultz was second overall, and Kevin Douglas and Tim McGowan tied for third.

Novato, Tam, Drake Win Marin League Grid Openers

Hornets Hang On, Nip Terra Linda, 20-19

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Novato High School Hornets have started the 1965 Marin Athletic League football campaign on the right side of the ledger, but it sure wasn't an easy matter.

The Hornets scored three first half touchdowns and then held on to edge the Terra Linda Trojans 20-19 Saturday afternoon before 3,500 shirtsleeved fans on the Novato field.

Novato scored on the game's first play from scrimmage, and it was a thing of beauty.

After Gary Dinkel returned the opening kickoff to the Hornets' 13, the Terra Linda defense dug in to stop Novato's running game and the Hornets' top ground gainer, Dick Otis. But Novato coach Harry Moore pulled a surprise.

With Terra Linda looking for a run, Otis took the handoff from quarterback John Dolinsek and started around the left side. He stopped and set, then threw a long pass to end Tom Corder who was several steps behind a Trojan defender. He hauled in the pass on about the midfield stripe and romped the remaining distance to the end zone, completing an 87-yard TD play. Bill Coots' kick added the extra paint and Novato had a quick 7-0 lead.

TERRA LINDA TD

As soon as Terra Linda got the ball, it put together a drive of five plays for 59 yards and a touchdown, with Trojan signal called Sid Norman running a keeper around his own left end for the final nine yards. The Trojans started the drive from their own 41 after a short kickoff. Jack Baken's kick for PAT made it 7-7, with only 3:31 gone in the game. It looked like it was going to be an all offense game after those early scores, and indeed it was.

Novato hung 13 more points on the scoreboard before the end of the first half and it appeared the Trojans would be out of the game, but this was not going to be the case as they gamely fought back.

OTIS SCORES

Otis scored Novato's second TD on a 11-yard burst through right guard, with 4:52 left in the half, and Coots added his second point-after kick. Then with only 37 seconds left on the clock in that same period, Dolinsek hit end Everett Fritz with a little four-yard pass for Novato's third touchdown, capping a drive of 52 yards on eight plays and a 15-yard penalty against Terra Linda. Coots' kick for the 21st point was blocked by Trojans tackle Larry Lima.

But then came the second half and Terra Linda completely dominated things. Terra Linda scored two touchdowns in the final quarter and almost made it three—for the win—before giving up possession.

Jim Paydo, running for the injured John Clifford, scored both Trojans fourth period touchdowns, the first one on a 14-yard run through the middle of Novato's line, and the second on a two-yard blast over left tackle on a fourth-and-one play with 2:07 left in the game.

KICK BLOCKED

After his first six-pointer, Baken tried to kick for the conversion but Novato's Jerry Gaeir blocked it. After Paydo's next touchdown, the conversion was for the tying point. The Trojans set up as if to kick, but instead, Paul Lee caught the snap from center and passed. Up went Novato's Corder and he got a hand on the ball to bat it down before it got more than three feet away from Lee's arm. Corder's move probably saved the triumph for Novato because Terra Linda's best receiver, John Forry, was all alone in the end zone waiting for the ball that never came.

But the Trojan's weren't through yet. Baken tried an onsides kick and it worked to perfection, with Trojan guard Jim Crisp falling on the ball on the 50-yard line. Terra Linda was back in business.

NORMAN STARS

Norman, who passed for 161 of Terra Linda's 306 yards, completed an aerial to Craig Hill for 27 yards and the Trojans had a first down on the Novato 26. Two plays later it was third and six on the 22, with only 29 seconds left in the game. The Terra Linda side of the field was going wild.

Norman hit Hill with a pass deep in the end zone and it looked like it was over for Novato, but an official who was right on top of the play ruled that one of Hill's feet was out of the end zone when he caught the ball. So it was just an incomplete pass, as a huge collective sigh of relief came from the Novato stands. On the next play Norman threw another strike, this time to Forry near the sidelines, but he juggled the ball and didn't have complete possession as he went out of bounds.

The ball went over to Novato and the Hornets ate up the remaining seconds on the clock.

Drake Punches Out 14-0 Win Over Spunky Wildcats

By MAURICE WEINGER

Drake wore down a spirited Marin Catholic team Saturday night to blank the Wildcats 14-0 at Kentfield in the opening Marin Athletic League game for both teams.

The Pirate win was overshadowed by the fine showing of the underdog Wildcats who played the defending MCAL champions even for almost three quarters. It was an inspirational Marin effort, but the Wildcats weakened in the third quarter as most of their players were playing both offense and defense.

For the first half, however, it was quite a defensive show. Wildcats Jim Ghiringhelli, Bruce Grove, Edd Lencioni, Rich Woodall, Gary Wittenmeir and Stan Hardeman kept the Drake team in complete check.

Hardeman was the unsung hero for Marin. This 5-9, 145-pounder not only played well on offense as he repeatedly got behind the Pirate secondary only to have the ball thrown to the wrong side, but the senior's defensive play was outstanding as he kept the aerial game of Drake shut out by knocking down many important passes.

BIG GUN

Big gun for Drake was halfback Dean Lazzarini. With the Marin team keying on him with every play, the senior sprinter took the challenge and found the right openings during the contest.

Lazzarini, while scoring both touchdowns, was the player who set up the scores with some great running—when he found daylight.

In the third quarter, a long punt by Bob Lombardi was taken by Lazz on his 33 and the senior brought it back to the Wildcat 43. Reserve Dave Simonini, taking Tony Iacopi's place teamed with Lazz and helped bring the ball down to the 23 where the great sprinter found a hole around right end, cut back and raced 20 more yards to the four.

Simonini tried the left side for two and Big Dean finished the drive with 43 seconds left in the quarter.

Some nifty ball exchanges helped stir Drake up prior to its second touchdown. An attempted punt by Lombardi was blocked by Doug Manuel, but the ball, in bouncing around, fell into the hands of Wildcat Mike Giamocini. The runner took off for a possible first down, but was stopped short on the Pirate 28.

DRAKE TROUBLED

Drake, still in trouble, was penalized another 15 yards on its first play, but Lazzarini started things moving in the right direction with three and then 31 over his left end. Simonini added another nine on two carries and a five-yard penalty against Marin gave Drake a first down on the opponents' 39.

Lazzarini, doing more running over defenders this year than in the previous two, ran through two Wildcats for 16 and Simonini added three when the defense was keyed to his teammate.

The play that broke the Wildcats' backs was the power sweep for Lazzarini. Taking the ball on the 20, the senior ran around left end, cut to the outside and picking up a great block by Don Alvarado, who came over from his right end spot to clean out the lane, leaving the way clear for the second score.

FOUR CHANCES

Marin had four chances to score, but each time its pass went incomplete. In the first quarter end Mike Stompel was in the end zone only to have the ball bounce off his fingers and the ensuing play also was incomplete on the exact pattern. Hardeman found it clear in the

TAM'S POWER UPSETS SAN RAFAEL BY 14-0

By MAURICE WEINGER

Showing the power that made Tamalpais a winner during his playing days, Coach Willie Hector unleashed his Indians for the second time on Marin turf to upset the San Rafael Bulldogs, 14-0, before 2,000 fans.

The Indians, who went into the game with a 2-0 record against non-league opposition, took charge on the College of Marin field last Saturday with scoring drives in the first and third quarters by using power plays and traps that completely broke the back of the Bulldogs in their Marin Athletic League opener.

Hector, who played his high school ball during the 1950s at the Mill Valley school, had his players controlling the game with a ground game that picked up 13 first downs and 136 yards rushing.

MANY HEROES

Heroes were many for Tamalpais. There were backs Kirk Sparks and Mike Fowler who couldn't and wouldn't be stopped when one and as many as three San Rafael players tackled them; there was quarterback Tom Lecy, a senior who played his freshman year at Tamalpais but moved to Chicago during his sophomore and junior year and came back this year to lead the signal calling, and finally the linemen, notibly Ken Blasingame, Ernie Bergman, Gary Stephens, Horace White and Gary Cotten.

Tamalpais' first score was completely ground out starting from its own 12 yard line. Fowler and Sparks carried the ball and made all the yardage. The bigger Sparks used the trap play over the middle for the greater amount of yards, the big one a 21-yarder to Tam's 38 followed by end runs by Fowler that moved the ball to the Bulldog 26.

ALL SPARKS

Sparks added another three to the 23 and Fowler gained four off right end. Then it was all Sparks as the junior runner just drove first for 12 and then for the final two and pay dirt.

The second scoring drive was almost a carbon copy of the first. Taking the second half kickoff, James Cook moved the ball nicely for 30 yards to his own 35-yard line. Again it was Fowler, the sophomore who has been the big factor in Tamalpais previous two victories. The shifty halfback carried four straight times gaining 11 yards followed by another 11-yard pass from Lecy to Fowler that put the ball to the San Rafael 43.

The big play in the drive was another pass from Lecy to Fred Hilton for 14 yards and Tamalpais was down to the Bulldog 22 with a first down.

Sparks drove for seven up the middle and Fowler followed with another four to the 11. Then Sparks, with three men hanging onto him, bulled his way to the one and it took three plays with Sparks capping the drive for the final yard.

Defensive halfback Dave Salaun saved an early touchdown attempt in the first quarter when the Bulldogs, who recovered a punt fumble, tried for a quick score from a pass by Bill Joost that the defender knocked down in the end zone.

Cal's Joy May Be Brief As Bears Face Air Force Next

BERKELEY (AP) — California's Hay Willsey might find his enjoyment short lived.

For his Bears, after winning their first game, travel to Colorado Springs this week to face the Air Force Academy Falcons who came within 18 seconds of up setting the Stanford Indians. They finally fell 17-16 on Terry DeSylvia's field goal.

California, meanwhile, was handing the Kansas Jayhawks their first whitewash since 1958, a span of 68 games, as an alert defense fashioned a 17-0 victory.

"I think I'm going to enjoy being a winner," commented Coach Willsey whose forces had lost to both Notre Dame and Michigan. "This is the type of football game we are trying to play at Cal.

"It might be dull, but when you win, it's never too dull. I think we played excellent defense. The defensive team gave the offense the chances to score."

The defensive team also held Kansas to just 97 yards net, recovered two Jayhawk fumbles and intercepted a pass.

"The best thing was that when the breaks came, we were able to capitalize on them," the coach continued. "It was a better overall effort than at Michigan (7-10)."

Dan Sinclair kicked a 19-yard field goal in the second period after a poor pass from center on a Kansas punt attempt. When Bill Lynch couldn't field the snap, Steve Radich grabbed him and Cal had possession at the 25.

Fullback Ron Minamide got the first California touchdown on a one-yard smash, the seventh play after Dick Bacon fumbled and Bob Smith recovered for the Bears at the KU 28.

In the fourth period, California drove 51 yards in 15 plays for the final score—another one-yard smash, this time by reserve fullback Frank Lynch. Sinclair booted both conversions.

Kansas Coach Jack Mitchell gave California full credit, saying, "They kept us from rolling. I thought the defense looked awfully good, but of course, our mistakes hurt us. Tom Relles is a fine runner, one of the better backs we've seen."

Newsmen voted Relles the outstanding back of the game. Lineman honors went to defensive tackle John Cantlon of the Bears.

Heap Worry For Stanford Tribe

STANFORD (AP)—Undefeated but tied and worried, the Stanford Indians battle the unbeaten Oregon Ducks this Saturday to determine the dark horse in the Rose Bowl race.

Tied by Navy in their second game of the season, the Indians nearly were shot down by the Air Force on Saturday before Terry DeSylvia gunned a field goal with just 18 seconds remaining for a 17-16 triumph at Colorado Springs.

Returning to their home grounds, the Indians now go against a hard running Oregon crew that already has beaten Pittsburgh, Utah and Brigham Young.

The pre-season analysis pointed to Southern California and Washington, who battle this week in Seattle, as the top choices in he Pacific Atthletic Conference, with Stanford and Oregon next in line.

Stanford downed San Jose State 26-6 in the opener and then as held to a 7-7 deadlock by underdog Navy.

The Air Force took aim quickly and built a 9-0 lead on Dan Radtke's 35-yard field goal, and a disputed touchdown.

From the Stanford five, quarterback Paul Stein passed to end Guy Hogel in the end zone. The ball jolted out of Hogel's hands and out of bounds but officials ruled it a touchdown.

Held scoreless in the first half, Stanford marched 84 yards in 12 plays to score in the third as Ray Handley pounded over from the two.

Bob Barnes of the Falcons promptly ran back the kickoff 97 yards and it was 16-7.

Stanford roared back to move 92 yards in 16 plays for its second touchdown with Bob Blunt taking a pitchout from Dave Lewis to race around left end for the score. DeSylvia added his second conversion.

The Air Force came deep into Stanford territory only to have Radtke miss a field goal from 25 yards out.

Late in the game, Stanford marched back from its 21. Lewis finally hit end Mike Connelly at the Air Force 14.

Lewis threw out of bounds to stop the clock and in came the 151-pound DeSylvia, who started his collegiate career at Oregon, and he split the uprights on a 28-yard kick.

The victory proved costly for the start of the Indians' PAC campaign. Blunt suffered torn knee ligaments and coach John Ralston said he'll apparently need surgery that would keep him out all season. Also hurt and sidelined for at least the Oregon game was Glenn Myers, the starting linebacker who suffered a dislocated shoulder.

Riessen Surprises In Pacific Tennis

BERKELEY (AP) — The best U.S. and South African players are trying today to forget Martin Riessen's performance in the Pacific Coast International Tennis Championships.

Riessen of Evanston, Ill., ranked 10th in the United States, upset top-ranked Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, 5-7, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, 8-6 yesterday and won the singles championship.

Riessen and Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio then defeated South African champion Cliff Drysdale and Roger Taylor of Great Britain 0-6, 6-4, -6, for the doubles crown.

On Saturday, Riessen knocked Drysdale out of the singles, 3-6, Drysdale, who also holds Germany's championship, had been runnerup to Manuel Santana of Spain in the U. S. National Tennis Championships at Forest Hills, N. Y.

Riessen, a Davis Cup team member, leaves today for a four-month tour that will include all Australian tournaments.

Judy Tegart of Australia won the women's singles with a 6-4, 3-6, 7-5 victory over Rosemary Casals of San Francisco. Miss Tegart also won the Pacific Coast championship last year.

In the women's doubles finals, Miss Tegart and Mrs. Carol Graebner, wife of Clark Graebner, defeated Miss Casals and Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Tegart and Jim McManus of Berkeley won the mixed doubles championship from Lynne Abbes of Orinda, Calif. and Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md. 6-2, 6-1.

Nash, Koper Dropped By Warriors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Assn. cut second-year players Cotton Nash and Bud Koper yesterday and announced their co-top draft choice, Fred Hetzel of Davidson, would miss the first month of the regular season because of a severed tendon in the little finger of his left hand.

Hetzel was scheduled for surgerey this morning in San Francisco. Although he could play with a protective splint, doctors feared permanent deformity.

The cuts and the injury to the All America Hetzel means the Warriors were down to 10 players, two under the NBA limit.

Nash was an All America at Kentucky and the No. 1 draft choice of the Los Angeles Lakers last season before being cut and picked up by the Warriors. Koper was the 1964 No. 3 draft choice of the Warriors after a high-scoring career at Oklahoma City.

An Easier Job For Raiders Next Week

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—After four tough games, which they split, the Oakland Raiders figure to have it easier next Sunday when they tangle with the winless Boston Patriots in the second game of their three-game eastern swing.

The Raiders got the maximum mileage out of a sputtering attack against the toughest defense in the American Football League yesterday but it wasn't enough as they bowed to the Buffalo Bills, 17-12.

They gained only 93 yards rushing and 64 passing. Alan Miller scored Oakland's only touchdown on a five-yard pass from Tom Flores. The other points came as a result of a 33-yard field goal by Gene Mingo and a safety.

Buffalo, meanwhile, boasting one of the league's best quarterbacks in Jack Kemp and three top pass receivers in flanker Elbert Dubenion, spread end Glenn Bass and tight end Ernie Warlick, rolled for 140 yards on the ground and 123 in the air to gain its fourth victory of the season.

Buffalo scored on a 20-yard field goal by Pete Gogolak, a one-yard dash by Billy Joe and a three-yard pass from Kemp to Warlick.

The Bills moved on top 10-0 but the Raiders fought back for a halftime tie. Then Buffalo scored on the Kemp to Warlick pass in the third period and as things turned out, those were the winning points.

The Raiders made one final move to score seven minutes into the fourth period, driving to the Bills' 20-yard line. There, the Bills stopped the Raiders cold and Mingo missed a field goal from the 26.

Oakland got its only TD on a 77-yard seven play march. The safety came in the third period when the Oakland defenders chased Kemp through the end zone from the Buffalo four.

The Raiders will remain east until they have concluded their swing. After the Patriots game, they go to New York to play the Jets.

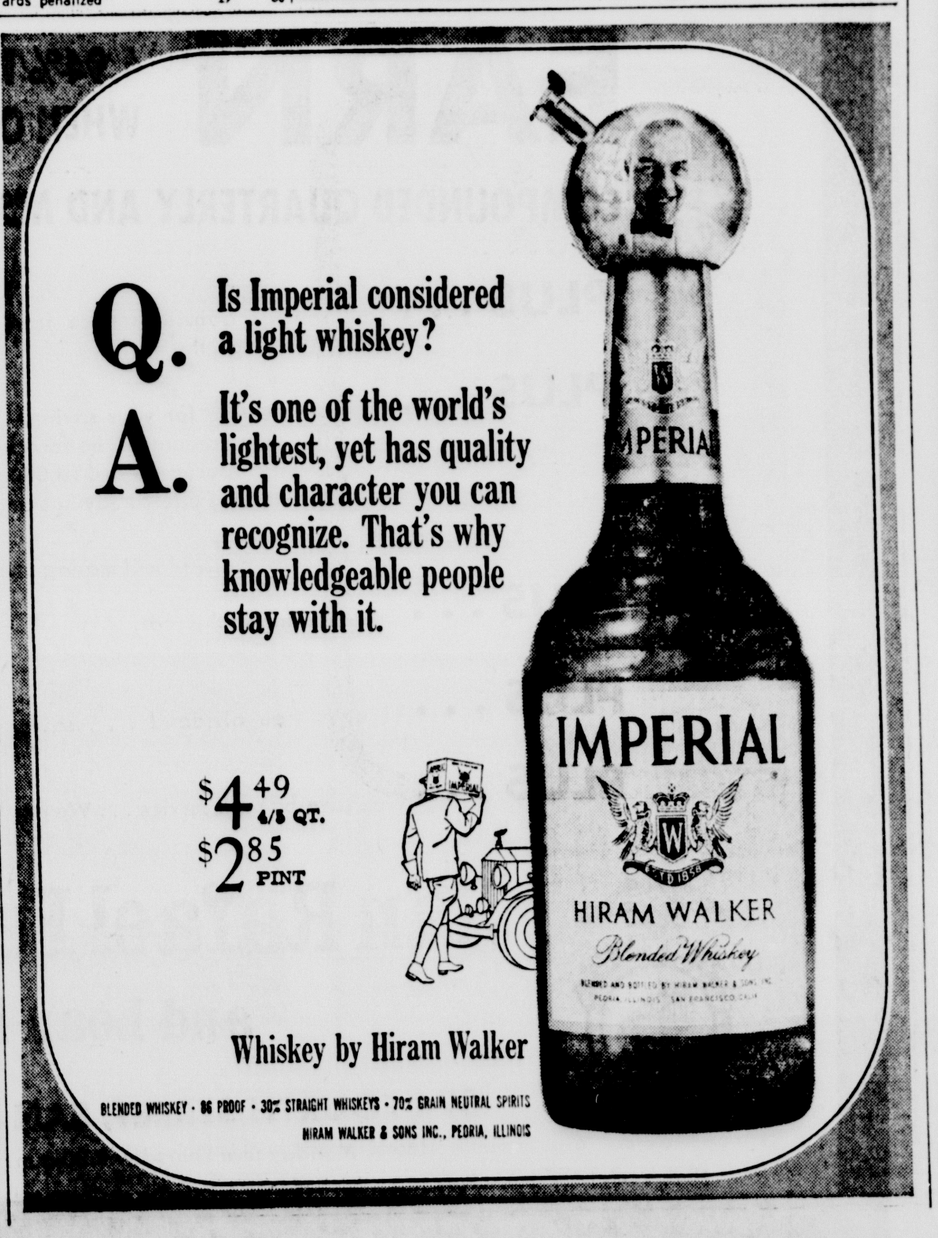
Marin Girl Sets Swimming Record

Roberta Shistar of the Marin Pirates won the girls 13-14 age group butterfly event in meet record time of 1:05.3 at the fourth annual San Mateo Marlins swimming championships at Hillsdale High School in San Mateo over the weekend.

Roberta also picked up a pair of sixth-place finishes and a fifth to be the Pirates' high-point winner. Her sister, Terry, won two fifth places and a fourth, and Robin Bachrach picked up a second to complete the team's scoring.



AN UNDERWATER HUNT—These men, diving at 65 feet, are hunting marine life off Grand Cayman Island in the British West Indies. Their weapons, however, are cameras, not spearguns. In the foreground with camera and floodlights is Leroy French of San Anselmo. Other diver is Bruce Robertson of San Rafael. The photo was taken by one of their three other companions on the summer photo expedition, Bill Kane of San Rafael.

Divers Play Ball With Odd Fish

By STEPHEN COOK

Below 40 feet of water in the British West Indies, two Marin County men played a game of catch last month, tossing back and forth a frightened "puffer fish"—a variety of fish which blows itself up like a basketball when excited.

This was just one of the scenes captured on film by five Marin men on a photographic expedition into the underwater world off those islands.

Heading the expedition was Leroy French of San Anselmo, co-owner of the Bamboo Reef, a San Rafael store specializing in skin diving equipment.

With him were George Krohn, Bruce Robertson and Bill Kane of San Rafael and Jim Robinson of Mill Valley.

The men went first to Freeport in the Grand Bahamas for a convention of the Underwater Society of America.

Their first serious diving came at Little Cayman Island in the British West Indies.

French reports they spent a week on that island, which has a population of 12 persons, diving on old Spanish galleons sunk nearby and photographing the marine life.

The water was at a temperature of 88 degrees, he said, and clear. Visibility under water was 100 feet.

At Grand Cayman Island, where they stayed three weeks, the photographic sessions underwater began in earnest. French took both still shots and movies.

He and his crew took most of their films and photos at night, assuming that was the time when they would be able to see the more unusual varieties of marine life.

French reports they dived about three hours each night, beginning at midnight. He used large floodlights mounted on the sides of his cameras for illumination.

Along with the underwater game of catch, French says one of his more unusual shots is of a "basket star fish" known as Gorgon's Head, a variety which is visible only at night because of its talents at camouflage.

The first showing of French's film will be at the international underwater film festival at Santa Monica early next year.

French says that when the film, 16-millimeter and in color, is edited and reprinted, it will be available for use by schools and clubs in the area.

First Grade Pupil Gets Lots Of Reading Material

A first grade pupil in the San Rafael Elementary School District can go through $167 worth of reading material in a year, according to Asst. Supt. William C. Jordan of San Rafael City Schools.

He cited the costs of books as one of the financial burdens which has resulted in the district calling an election Oct. 12 for a 50-cent increase in its general operating tax limit from $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation to $2.25. (Over-ride taxes and bond redemption are in addition to this limitation.)

First graders have access to $167 worth of reading, arithmetic, science, health and music books, Jordan said.

Schools must re-order each year as books wear out or are replaced by newly-adopted books, he said.

The textbooks used by a fifth grader, covering reading, spelling, arithmetic, language, science, health, handwriting, music, history and geography, cost $141, he said.

Fifth graders need less materials in the class room because they can use a library and spend a greater portion of their time in research, Jordan explained.

Because of increasing costs of books, furniture, supplies, equipment land and construction, the district has been forced to curtail repairs and maintenance.

There is evidence to show that pupils achieve better in small classes, and "the students of San Rafael should have the same educational advantages of other school systems," Jordan said.

Vendetta Murders Decrease In Egypt

ASSIUT, U.A.R. (UPI)—Vendetta killings, for which this "Sicily of Egypt" has held the country's uncontested lead, have dropped by 25 per cent over the last 10 years.

Biannual figures on crime in the province, published by the weekly Sabah El-Khair, showed 324 vendetta murders were committed in 1963, against 442 in 1953.

If the trend continues, 1965 is expected to have an all - time low record of less than 300 such murders in the province.

The Assiut province in southern Egypt is famed for family fueds which continue for generations. In some villages traditions require that a slain man's family remain in mourning until his death is avenged and "the disgrace is wiped away."

A vendetta murder is sometimes suspended for scores of years until the original killer serves his prison term and is released from jail, or until the victim's son grows old enough to kill.

The government has launched a drive aimed at bringing peace between feuding families through the mediation of village councils, social service workers and local officials and digni-

PLEASANT VALLEY—The new Pleasant Valley Valley School in Novato is air conditioned to shield youngsters from the hot North Marin spring and fall sun. Walls of many rooms fold back, making the interior corridor into part of the classroom. Hills stretch away to the horizon in this direction, but on the other side, beyond the camera's range, the suburbs are closing in.

WOLFE GRADE—An addition to the Wolfe Grade School in the Kentfield School District is built with sliding-panel walls between rooms. The structure is built in the shape of a duo-decagon. If all panels are pushed into their slots within the exterior walls, the building can seat up to 600 persons. Teachers were sliding the walls closed in this photo, after having opened them so that all of the six classes in the building could listen to a science-history lecture.

Marin Races To Build Classrooms

The architecture in most cases is not great, but youngsters this fall have returned to more new classrooms as school districts throughout Marin try to keep up with the burdgeoning suburban population.

Some districts, such as Mill Valley, have new portable classrooms. Some school buildings, such as the library portion of the San Rafael High School addition, still have workmen instead of students in them.

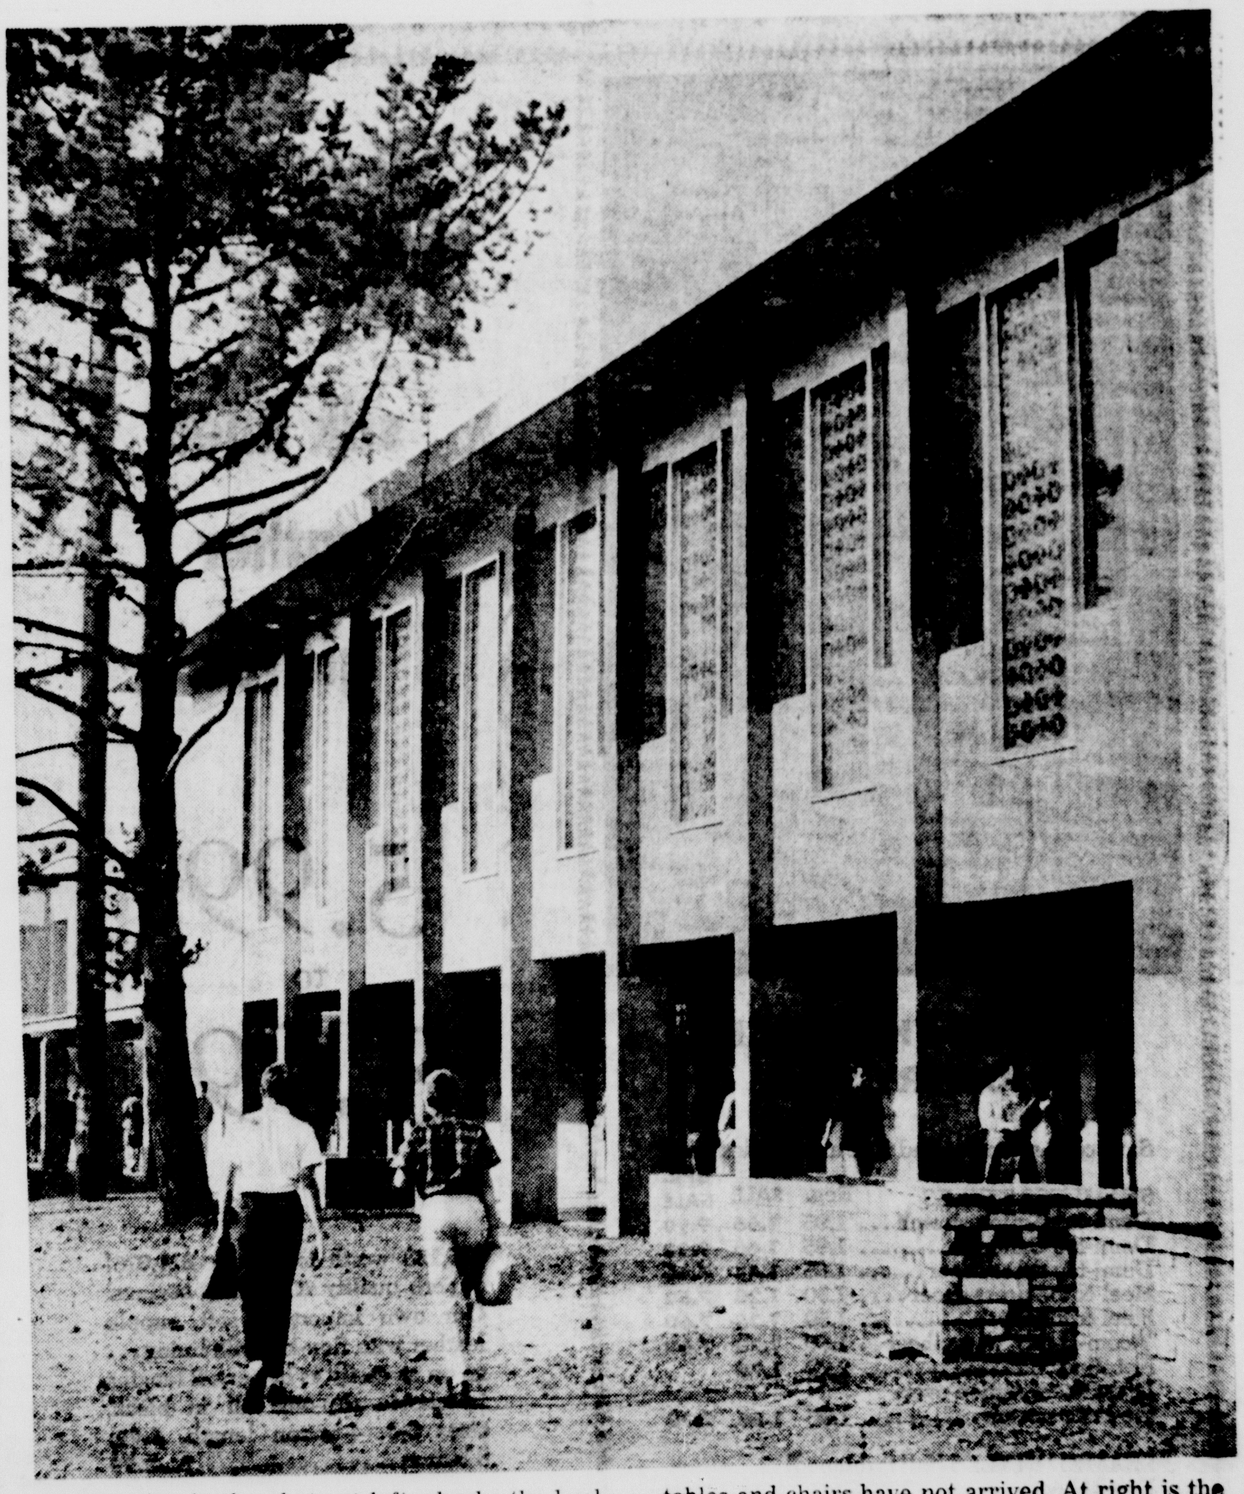
Different ideas abound, such as the Reed district team teaching room now being built, which has one huge room for more than 100 students, and a one-way glass observation cage for visitors to see how team teaching works.

Taxpayers continually feel the bite of new construction necessitated by those who move to Marin with young families. The county is young, compared to old, settled districts in which all space has been filled with homes for years.

The average elementary school population in Marin public schools last year was 28,111, compared to 26,186 two years before that. And 10 years ago, the elementary age population numbered only 14,642.

The end to the school population growth is not yet in sight.

GOING UP — The Dixie School off Lucas Valley Road in Marinwood is under construction. The separate buildings with redwood exteriors and sloping roof lines fit in with the semi-country atmosphere.



SCHOOL LIBRARIES — In years past, school libraries were known for having collections of insipid books in a room set aside only because it was too small or ugly for a class room. Today schools are vying with each other in building big, bright libraries and are competing with statistics on how many books per pupil in each district. Carpeting is a usual furnishing in new libraries with school officials saying makes a quieter room, is conductive to browsing, is easier to maintain and is longer lasting than hard floors. Tracy Sleight, seventh grader at Richardson Bay School in Sausalito, in the photo at left, checks the book shelves of the bright, refurbished library made of two class rooms. At top, Richard Olson, a sixth grader at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur reads a book and uses the carpet to best advantage. The school decided to open its new library, though tables and chairs have not arrived. At right is the new library at San Rafael High School. It's interior, still to be completed, will be bright with hanging lights and colored glass window panels as seen in the detail photo in the center. (Independent-Journal photos by Ellen Bry)

'Individuality Lost In Hungary'—Artist

By BETTY FROST

"Poor Hungarians who used to be so individual, have had to give up their individuality," observed vivacious Mrs. Alexander G. Tarics, who had lived in Hungary under the pre-war regime, and recently was able to visit what she calls "the other side of the world."

After an absence of 21 years, the Belvedere woman returned to her native Hungary for a month-long stay with her grandmother, Mrs. Eugene Kovach-Kvassay, and aunt, Mrs. Bela Szabo in Budapest.

Nelcy Tarics, who fled Hungary with her parents during World War II, made plans for the long-awaited visit when restrictions on travel to Hungary were relaxed two years ago. Now Hungary invites the tourist trade.

"AT FIRST," she said "the changes don't hit you. The city has been beautifully rebuilt since the so-called 'liberation' of Hungary by Russia in World War II." The exteriors of the structures, except for some remaining damage from the street fights during the revolt of 1965, have been repainted. "Then," said Nelcy, her hazel eyes serious, you begin to notice the big red star everywhere and communist party slogans on the buildings. It is hard to understand that everything belongs to the state, and that everything is state organized."

In most cases, the interiors of the buildings have not been maintained since World War II. The living standard is so minimum that few can afford to buy a can of paint and do the work themselves. The state is everybody's landlord, so for such services the citizen must apply to the state and be prepared for long delays.

HUNGARIANS, who dwell in a beautiful fertile valley with picturesque waterways, surrounded by mountains, have had their land invaded again and again throughout history. Military defeats in World War I took away their holdings in Transylvania, Croatia and Slovakia. The people, says Mrs. Tarics, have kept their language and national character through centuries of unrest and now they are trying to take the present order in their stride.

Because of their inability to own anything, aside from small personal possessions, like clothes and furniture, and the low income level, they seek some pleasures in life to enjoy. Restaurants are filled, gypsy bands play, food and wine is plentiful and cheap. An excellent dinner with wine in a top restaurant costs about 90 cents. Delicious pastries, beautifully decorated, are served at sidewalk cafes for four cents.

Friendly, interested in everything, and of course, fluent in Hungarian, Nelcy talked to many people in all walks of life —workmen, policemen, family friends and heard the universal complaint, "We are not well paid." The Belvedere woman found people eager for news from the West. She suddenly found that she was expected to be an authority on all the vital issues of the day. "I tried to be a good ambassador," she said, seriously.

ON THE PLUS SIDE, Mrs. Tarics felt the cultural aspects were superb. Museums housing art treasures have been repaired and rebuilt, there are more than 20 theaters offering a variety of dramatic presentations, the opera is open all year, and the world's outstanding musicians are engaged to perform with the symphony.

She found the city full of flowers and admired well tended parks and trees. A custom that surprised the visitor was the use of placards noting that a certain plot of flowers in a park was given and maintained by workers in a particular industry or factory.

Alex and Nelcy Tarics, although cut off from their native land for so many years, have maintained such ties as they could. Dr. Tarics, who has architectural offices in San Francisco, left Hungary in 1948 to come to this country as a professor of engineering, first at Indiana University, then at the University of California. He holds a doctorate in architecture from the Hungarian Technical University. He had been a member of the 1936 gold-medal winning Hungarian Olympic water polo team. (When Mrs. Tarics was in Budapest, she visited the sports arena, where the medallion marking the team's victory at Berlin, and giving the names of Alex and his fellow players was still on display.)

IN 1956 AFTER the Hungarian revolt against the Soviet regime, more than one hundred refugees came to the Tarics home in Belvedere seeking help. Among them were the Hungarian athletes who had taken part in the Olympic games in Melbourne that year. The Belvedere architect helped many of these young men find jobs in the Bay Area. Mr. and Mrs. Tibor Szilas and their twin daughters, Tony and Judy, stayed in the Tarics home until they could get settled. They now live in Corte Madera.

THE TARICS' older daughter, Esther, became the bride of Richard Scull Stauffer Jr., of York, Pa. on Sept. 18, and hand-embroidered linens from Budapest, the work of Esther's great aunt, were among her most treasured wedding gifts. Bobbie, 11, attends Marin Country Day School, and Linda, 9, is a student at Dominican Convent Lower School. The family has lived in Belvedere for 13 years.

Nelcy Tarics is a talented artist, whose water colors and acrilics are frequently displayed in Marin County. She is a member of the Marin Society of Artists. She regretted that she could not spare the time to paint some of the Hungarian scenes during her visit.

Now that the Iron Curtain has opened a little, Nelcy bubbles with optimistic plans. She is eagerly looking forward to the arrival of her 86-year-old grandmother for a family Christmas celebration in Belvedere, and contemplating a trip to Hungary for the whole family in the future.

BACK IN HER BELVEDERE HOME, Mrs. Alexander G. Tarics reminisces about her recent sojourn in Hungary, her native land. Mrs. Tarics displays an apron, embellished with the typical bright Hungarian embroidery, and an antique shepherd's water jug which has been in her family for 125 years.

Another section calls for two table settings in "Committee Meets for Luncheon" and "After the Football Game."

It's Leather

Leather is hitting the separates market in a big way for fall. It's leather unlimited in new jackets, tops, skirts, pants, stoles and jumpers. That classic companion to skirts, pants and dresses—the leather jacket—shows more color and style this season than ever. Casual, tailored or dressy, the leather jacket is a wardrobe wonder.

Switch Linens

Rotate pastel-colored linens as you would white. Stripes and solids go well together and go with a variety of colors. Switch them around in use to give sheets and pillow cases a "rest."

Don't Play With Fire, Check Blaze Hazards

During the summer vacation period, parents have been warning children not to play with fire.

Now it's time to turn our attention to grown-ups who play with fire.

Many tragedies that strike the home during autumn and winter months will be due to the failings of adults, not youngsters.

We, who laugh at the proverbial joke about the fellow who struck a match to see if his gasoline tank were empty, proceed to strike a match or lighter to grope our way into a dark attic or closet.

We sometimes overload our electrical circuits and leave a trail of burning cigarettes balanced on ash trays or on table tops. We use our heating units without a second thought for defects, and sometimes turn on gas heaters without adequate ventilation.

Fire last year killed an estimated 11,900 persons in the United States. That would be like wiping out every living person in the entire community of Mill Valley or San Anselmo.

This is Fire Prevention Week. Let's take a tip from the list of reminders issued by the National Fire Protection Assn.

Never toss lighted matches away. Blow out the flame and hold the match to be sure it's out. Don't drop a used match in a wastebasket. Never smoke in bed.

Keep electrical appliances in good repair. When electrical cords become frayed, have them checked and replaced. Don't overload electrical circuits.

Have heating units checked by a qualified serviceman. Don't take the chance of having a unit conk out on a cold night.

Never use matches, lighters or candles to search dark attics or basements where combustibles are kept.

Get rid of old newspapers and accumulated rubbish.

Be careful of flammable clothing and curtains. Filmy nets, gauzes and ruffles, and some sweaters are more prone to catch fire than others.

And don't leave little children at home alone.

This is the time to remove hazards, reform careless habits, and plan for a warm and safe autumn and winter.

Marin's 'Canary'—The Goldfinch

Canaries are natives of Europe but Marin has its little yellow-green answer to Hartz Mountain or the Canary Isles or wherever canaries came from. The goldfinch is the closest in appearance to his caged cousin of any Marin bird.

Rather shy and on the flighty side, the goldfinch is not the sustained singer the canary is. But now and then it will warble a few cadenzas very prettily.

The goldfinch is a busy bird, nervously flying hither and yon, adding its bit of color to one tree, then another. Truly, a little beauty.

Signs Of Early Autumn

Marin's autumnal tide appears to be advancing early this year, according to some sources. These forecasters cite the early fall of the birch leaves and the uncommonly gray days of Labor Day weekend as signs.

We are a bit skeptical of signs. It is as though a birch or the geese or the wooly bear caterpillars had some innate knowledge for predicting the weather which man does not.

We will rely on the U.S. Weather Bureau. At least, they are known to be fallible.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Legislators Still Must Face Conflict Of Interest Problem

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The matter of "conflict of interest" in the state Legislature continues to crop up every so often, and no doubt will so continue for some time to come, unless the solons lay down specific rules and regulations governing the conduct of members, especially attorneys.

One of the latest instances of what might be regarded as such a conflict of interest is the filing of a complaint by Assemblyman Edwin I. Z'Berg, D-Sacramento, on behalf of the Sacramento Typographical Union No. 46, which seeks settlement of a dispute between the union and state printing plant.

The printers, in selecting Z'Berg as their attorney, have a representative before the law who actually is involved in making the law through the vote he can cast on issues. Or, if he should choose, the legislator could introduce legislation to invalidate the law, should the case go against his clients.

THE ISSUE in the case is inconsequential, being whether state printing plant employees are covered under holiday and vacations of the state's government code, or under the collective bargaining agreement which affects private industry printers in Sacramento. One of the items is whether the state printers get Oct. 12, Columbus Day, as a holiday.

The principle involved reaches somewhat further than the matter of the state holidays and printers who work for the state and enjoy some of the benefits of civil service employees.

THE PRINCIPLE is whether a state legislator, elected by the people and dedicated supposedly to serve all the people, has the moral privilege of taking money from one segment of the population, such as the union, to pursue a course which might be detrimental in the long run to the interests of all the people.

The representation at the present time is perfectly legal, as there are no fixed rules or laws on legislative conflict of interests. But many observers question the moral justification for legislator-attorneys to take accounts involving state departments and agencies, upon whose budgets they act and upon whose laws they cast a vote.

EARLIER, Sen. James A. Cobey, D-Merced, became involved in a suit pertaining to the state department of water resources, which has raised some questions along the same line. Senator Cobey is widely known as an authority on water litigation, but he has a powerful vote on matters affecting the department of water resources, as well as on budgetary and other laws pertaining to the department.

Legislators intervene at times before administration and appeals bodies of state departments. It cannot be said they receive special consideration, or that their clients are able to fix cases by working through the legislators, yet the feeling is somehow present that an elected representative has an "edge" in such cases.

The problem of conflict of interest is a knotty one, which cannot be easily solved, if it can be solved at all. It usually comes up when there is some outstanding abuse, but even when there isn't, the problem still is with the Legislature.

Conquered Nations Taking U.S. Torch?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Shortly before his visit to the U.S., Nikita Khrushchev said: "We cannot expect the Americans to jump from capitalism to communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of socialism, until they suddenly awake to find they have communism." (Small doses?)

While we lose our freedoms, the USSR finds it necessary to offer free-enterprise incentives to increase their production!

America's greatest benefit to the world has been, not the billions of borrowed money given to foreign governments, which has caused inflation and waste, here and abroad. America's greatest gift has been the example of what can be accomplished by free-enterprise capitalism with a heart, the freedom to work and to enjoy the fruits of one's labors, freedom to invent and progress, freedom of education and religion, freedom to choose what charities and missions one wishes to support.

Must we now pass the torch of freedom to Germany or Japan? It is reported that Germany has a million jobs unfilled. Chancellor Erhard attributes their phenomenal progress to "individual citizens voluntarily working for the common good as well as for themselves, a society in which responsibility is the corollary of freedom."

U.S. Constitution And Right Of Arms

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: Sept. 24 editorial on handgun restrictions.

The U.S. Constitution states "the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

Webster says "infringed means—to encroach, invade, intrude, contravene, break, transgress." The editor says "the Constitutional right to keep and bear arms is therefore not all-encompassing." What could be more encompassing than this law as stated by our Founding Fathers? According to the Constitution, the restrictions which have already been placed on firearms are unconstitutional, no matter how wise any one may consider them to be. There are proper means for altering the Constitution, which to my knowledge have not been observed in this regard. Only the vote of the people can do this.

Or is the editor one of our modern "liberals" who believe that the Constitution is outmoded? As to "barring a break down in law and order", what does the editor consider the present state of affairs to be? With all the increased crime, including sit-ins, lay-ins, teach-ins, ad nauseum. Does he by any chance think these people are just playing games? Is this the reason that he appears to blow all these demonstrations up, clear out of proportion? If our officials have the situation well in hand, why do we not see a stop put to all this disregard for law and order? When the First Amendment to the Constitution was written, our Founding Fathers could not foresee the day, when American citizens would work so diligently, to promote a foreign cause, all in the name of "freedom of assembly."

Marin Help Sought For Mississippi Girl

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Can someone help my friend, Lula Mae?

Lula Mae Evans and her family live in Maben, Miss. Lula Mae is 10 years old and she has nine brothers, from 1 to 18 years of age.

Last year, Mr. Evans lost his job as a pulpwood worker because he testified to the Mississippi Challenge lawyers. The Marin to Mississippi project heard about this family and our junior high group of the Unitarian Church of Marin sent down boxes of clothes, food, paper, etc. When the truck from Marin families went to Mississippi last Easter, Mrs. Evans was working as a housecleaner, but she lost her job soon after the shipment arrived. During the summer they worked in the fields when they could.

The Evans house consists of two rooms which are made of any wood they could find. There is a big stove in one of the rooms for heat.

In the Spring and Summer of this year, Lula Mae and I have written many letters. Her mother wrote too, and said she was going to have a baby in September. In the beginning of September, I wrote Lula Mae and asked her if her mother had had the baby yet. Her reply was " . . . Mother had a little girl but mother and the baby died so I don't have no mother . . . I stay with father and my brothers now. I will be a nice girl and go to school . . . "

If anyone can help the Evans family, their address is:

THE NEW safety devices being installed in 1966 models by the major automobile builders really are something. One of the most appealing is designed for taking care of wives who are inveterate back-seat drivers. You press a button, a trap door opens, and she is deposited right out onto the thruway.

PUZZLERS from Charlie Rice:

1. An ardent college senior was trying his darndest to persuade a girl he had met that evening to give him her telephone number. Finally she yielded, and told him, "It's QUentin 5-3407." That's when he realized he had struck out on three pitched balls. How did he know? Because no exchange can begin with the call letters "QU"; there is no "Q" on the telephone dial.

2. A big talker, who claimed he had wandered all through the continent of Australia, boasted "The surfing and sun bathing in Melbourne are at their best in August." That's when his audience tabbed him as an utter phony. Why? Because, in Australia, the month of August is in the middle of winter.

3. A subscriber to a library service swore he had left a twenty-dollar bill between pages 181 and 182 of a book he had returned that morning, and demanded recompense. The librarian laughed in his face. Why? Because, in every printed book, even-numbered pages are on the left, and odd-numbered pages on the right. Therefore, pages 181 and 182 are invariably back to back—and no bill could be tucked between them.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

British, Johnson Agree That Hanoi Stalls Viet Nam Peace

LONDON — If there is one point on which British official opinion and British public opinion are especially at one with the U.S., it is that the Hanoi Communists are solely to blame for not allowing the war in Viet Nam to go to the conference table.

President Lyndon B. Johnson may be having a hard time persuading playwright Arthur Miller that he has responded to Hanoi's stated conditions for a peace settlement, but Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart has done an extraordinary job showing the British people that the U.S.—and Britain—have been rebuffed in all their efforts to get the Communists to negotiate under any conditions.

Mr. Stewart is clearly the most plain-spoken, no-nonsense foreign secretary since Ernest Bevin. When it comes to expounding the issues in Viet Nam, he comes very near to being a Bundy, Rusk, and LBJ all rolled into one.

Stewart spurns the gobbledygook of diplomatic talk. He speaks bluntly and directly, whether he is addressing an Oxford teach-in or the Communist press in Belgrade. Too bad Miller wasn't around to get the facts.

"THE ONLY proposals that have come from North Viet Nam and her allies," he says, "is that, first, before any discussion, all U.S. troops shall leave, and secondly, that the affairs of Viet Nam shall be settled in accordance with the principles of the Communists and the Communists only. Now, that's the only proposal for solving the problem there is to the Communist side, that the Americans leave at once and that the Communists alone should determine the future of Viet Nam."

When Miller reached for the headlines by writing his letter to President Johnson, snubbing the White House invitation to attend the signing of the administration's aid for the arts bill, he gave as his reason the contention that the president has not "answered" these Communist proposals for ending the war.

HE HAS. The U.S. has stated that, even if these conditions are unacceptable, we will join in stopping the fighting and go to the conference table to see if other conditions cannot be worked out.

We have said yes to any conference Hanoi will attend.

Hanoi has said no to any conference that has been proposed.

Johnson said yes to Stewart's proposal of last March, that the Geneva Conference, which divided Viet Nam, be reconvened. The Communists said no.

JOHNSON SAID YES to a similar British proposal three months later. The Communists said no.

The truth is there is no basis in fact for Arthur Miller's assertion that the U.S. has not responded to the Hanoi proposals. Johnson has made 15 approaches for a peace conference and the Communists have rebuffed each one.

And why should Miller think that, by gracing a White House ceremony on the arts, his presence would imply he was supporting the president on Viet Nam? Perhaps he does not understand the principles of a free society in which each person can disagree with anybody else but still work together in good faith on those matters where we do agree.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

U.S. Policies Aiding Santo Domingo Reds

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — U. S. military authorities in Santo Domingo are bitterly complaining that American policy, unless drastically changed, will pave the way for an eventual Communist take-over in the Dominican Republic.

In private discussions with visiting U. S. businessmen and confidential messages to members of Congress, these military officers are warning that only the Communist-infested rebels are gaining from the backstage efforts of U. S. officials to remove the Dominican Armed Forces from influence on that strife-torn island.

They urge that immediate pressure be brought on President Johnson to abandon this controversial policy before the U. S. supported provisional government of Dr. Hector Garcia-Godoy carries out plans to force present Dominican military leaders from their positions of power.

These U. S. military officers, including a general, are desperately seeking to block the removal of Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero, the strong anti-Communist head of the Dominican Armed Forces.

THEIR EMERGENCY reports reveal that President Garcia-Godoy is under extreme pressure from rebel supporters of ex-President Juan Bosch and U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, presidential troubleshooter, to replace the Dominican military leader.

The methods being used by Ambassador Bunker and other U. S. officials to try to oust Commodore Caminero are described as "very similar to those employed against General Elias Wessin y Wessin before he was forcefully exiled." It's charged that, as in General Wessin's case, an unsuccessful attempt was made by U. S. undercover agents to bribe Commodore Caminero.

The complaining U. S. military officers argue that it is nothing less than suicidal for our officials to use diplomatic, economic and military pressure to oust these Dominican military leaders while permitting several hundred Communists, trained in guerrilla warfare in Cuba, to remain unmolested on the island.

UNDER THE TIGHT policy limitations the White House has placed on U. S. military forces assigned to the Organization of American States, no U. S. effort can be made to expel or even check on the whereabouts of these deadly armed Red terrorists. U. S. forces are barred from entering the rebel-held zone in Santo Domingo.

According to complaining U. S. military officers, a number of these "professional" Communist guerrillas are on the rebel payroll, which is entirely financed by U. S. economic aid. These Castro-trained agents are in one instance using U. S. funds to train an army of guerrillas and saboteurs from students in the OAS-protected sanctuary.

"THERE HAS NEVER been a situation quite like this in all history," one U. S. officer told a Washington exporter.

Rep. H. R. Gross, one of the legislators in contact with these military sources, reports that a high-ranking State Department official has privately confirmed that U. S. economic aid is being used to pay rebel forces in the Dominican Republic.

THE IOWA REPUBLICAN also reveals that a defector from the rebel forces of Col. Francisco A. Caamano has voluntarily given U. S. intelligence authorities details of his training in Communist Cuba for subversion and guerrilla warfare and of his role in the revolt.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RICK LYTTLE

Supervisors Are All-Time Champions Of Interruptions

Marin supervisors constitute one of the interruptingest quintets in the county, perhaps in the state.

Interrupting each other all the time is really not very serious, but they also interrupt the intrepid who appear before them. This is not just serious; it's plain rude.

Strange thing is that the supervisors know they are doing it and often interrupt to scold each other about it, but it goes on like a compulsion.

Those wise to the ways of the board have learned to beat the problem by putting what they have to say in writing and asking County Clerk George H. Gnoss to read it.

Supervisors usually don't interrupt the clerk.

IT IS UNFAIR to generalize. Actually Supervisors Peter H. Behr, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Byron W. Leydecker are the worst offenders.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss' words are so infrequent that they have become pearls. Yet even this string of pearls is broken by interruptions.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer also does not interrupt, but one sometimes suspects he is trying for the last word. He prefaces any remarks these days with a common plaint.

"I haven't had a chance to speak on this yet," he says.

LAST WEEK, Betty L. Presley, director of the department of social services, was before the board to answer questions. She never got a chance to complete a sentence. But Miss Presley had written a letter to the board and that helped some.

There are really only two ways of solving this. One is the plan I have advocated for some time and that is reducing the membership on the board from five to one. It would reduce substantially the number of interruptions.

THE OTHER solution is really only a half measure, but it might serve until we have a one-man board. That would be a requirement that any supervisor wishing to speak would have to stand. If someone else were speaking, he would have to wait on his feet.

This would not only restore some order to the proceedings, but it would also free three very comfortable chairs for use in other departments of the county. I wager Behr, Kettenhofen and Leydecker would be on their feet all the time.

UNLESS SOME measures are taken soon, these board meetings will become impossible.

As a reporter, I have already been tempted to follow those who have appeared before the board from the chamber and ask:

"Now, what was it you intended to say?"

My only fear is that some of them might break out in tears.

ART BUCHWALD

You're Not In Unless You Fit Camp, Jet Set Descriptions

WASHINGTON—There have been so many lists of people who are chic and with it, and without it—in people, jet people, camp people, and pop people—that I am forced to make my own list of those whom I believe are the most in, camp, chic, and meaningful of our time.

This year's most camp person is Edie Camp, who has been the rage of the New York social season. Edie first came to the attention of photographers when she walked into a formal dinner party in an evening dress. Everyone at the party was shocked and wanted to know who she was. They discovered she was the protege of Sandy Warknoll, the most "in" painter in New York. Warknoll paints portraits of children for money. He doesn't care what the children look like as long as there is enough dough in it.

EDIE GOES everywhere with Warknoll and no party in New York is complete without the two of them, she in an evening dress and he in a tuxedo. They look very out of place in New York, but nobody seems to mind.

The most chic person is Mrs. Amanda Chic of Palm Beach and Key Largo. Mrs. Chic makes all her own clothes, including her fur coats. She not only selects the pelts, but traps the animals herself. Although the mother of three, she is constantly on the go and has never missed an "April in Paris" ball or a Paris ball game in April.

Mrs. Chic likes to be where the action is, but she says her life still revolves around her children, Samantha who is 36, Gregory who is 39, and Rickey who is going on 40.

IT ISN'T WHO you are but what you do that makes you "with it" these days. No list would be complete without Stormy Sailor, the pugnacious writer whose lifetime work, "A Guide to Better Cookbooks," rocked the literary world a few years ago. Sailor's description of how to make fried cantaloupe with bearnaise sauce has made him the most controversial author on the American scene, and whether you like or hate fried cantaloupe, you can't ignore him.

The most "in" singer on our list is Walter In, whose recent record, "The Best Loved Songs of Stephen Foster," is the biggest thing to hit the discotheques in years. Mr. In is a tenor and wears his hair short. His critics say the hair is just a pose, but even they agree that nobody can sing "Old Black Joe" the way he does.

When it comes to pop culture, the first name that comes to mind is George Pop who makes Campbell's soup cans. Pop averages 650 cans a day, mostly chicken soup, though during the summer vacation he's doubled in cream of celery and mushroom soups.

HE HAS BEEN invited to come to New York with his cans, but by the time he finishes in the factory, he's always too tired, and prefers to go home and watch television.

Last but not least on our list is the leader of the jet set, Eddie Boeing.

Eddie, who works for Pan-American, has never flown anything but jets. He thinks it's the only way to travel and it's obvious the jet set thinks so too. "The old piston cafe society is dead," says Eddie, "and with the family plan it's much cheaper to go my way."

My list is probably incomplete, but it covers just about everybody who is doing anything these days.

10 YEARS AGO

Some 350 telephone employees in Marin walked off their jobs while the union organized pickets at eight Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. installations in the county to back its demand for higher wages.

Two Marin Bars Disciplined By State Agency

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has ordered an indefinite suspension of the on-sale general liquor license of the Scottish Club Moderne, 804 Fourth Street, San Rafael, effective yesterday.

The department ordered that, if the license is not transferred to a qualified person or persons by next April 1, it be revoked.

The licensee was charged with employment of minors, permitting minors to remain on the premises, permitting services of a female bartender, failure to report stock transfers and maintain a stock register, and permitting conditions contrary to public welfare and morals—fights, disturbances, lewd contact and intoxicated persons.

The department also ordered a 10-day suspension of the on-sale general liquor license of Max Key, Rancho Rafael, 6045 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, on charges of sales to minors and permitting minors to consume. The suspension takes effect Nov. 16.

As you can see, the I-J is a bit outnumbered by The Times, in London. (We only have one subscriber).

But change the scene to Marin County, where YOUR INTERESTS come first, and lo, the Independent-Journal leads all the rest! Here, you've actually made the so-called BIG papers SMALL in comparison with the I-J in daily Marin County circulation.

It's quite a bailiwick. And because it's Number One with us, you've made us Number One with you–in circulation, in advertising, in local news. We'll hang our bowler on that.

But that's to be expected. Living here, naturally you want ALL THE LOCAL NEWS, rather than a mention or two. And that's where we take off our bowlers to no one. Instead, the I-J publishes more Marin County news than all other newspapers combined... whether in or out of Marin.

Other larger "outside" papers may have more columnists, more New York features. But we have more MARIN features, of intimate value to you as a resident. We carry more local ads that help you buy with discernment–and savings. More local classified, too. More news of civic affairs, of schools, education, local politics, women's events, Marin sports–the close-to-home world of Marin today.

MEANWHILE, BACK IN MARIN, EVERYONE'S READING MARIN'S BEST-SELLER (I-J)

- ★ More local news
- ★ More local features
- ★ More local advertising

Class At Sunny Hills On Education Agenda

The Marin County Board of Education tonight will discuss a contract whereby the county schools office will take over two classes of emotionally disturbed at Sunny Hills home in San Anselmo.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. at Bayside School in Sausalito.

Asst. Supt. of Schools Robert Stannard said a new state law makes it possible for the county office to operate such classes in private schools.

Sunny Hills is operated by the Presbyterian Church. The church will not have to pay anything for the service, Stannard explained, the theory being that if it were not for the private operation, the children would be in the public school system.

The board will also discuss hiring Chester Ellyson of the San Juan School District, Sacramento County, as coordinator of outdoor science and conservation education, a new position in the county schools office.

Ellyson, top candidate of four interviewed, would receive $8,000 for 10 months work to coordinate the county's outdoor school program at Lokoya School near Napa. The outdoor school takes pupils from county schools for eight weeks in the fall and 10 weeks in the spring.

The county has been sending classes there for two years.

The board will also consider hiring Mrs. Karyn Stafford to teach at the outdoor school, at $125 a week plus room and board.

Sausalitan Gets State GOP Post

Tally P. Mastrangelo of Sausalito is one of eight political leaders in Northern California recently appointed to the board of directors of the California Republican League.

Mastrangelo was active in the Rockefeller for President campaign last year. He has been a member of the Republican State Central Committee since 1963 and is a member of the Marin County Republican Central Committee. He helped establish a Marin chapter of the California Republican League.

Show To Mix Halloween With Skiers On Water

Witches and ghosts and things that go bump in the night take to the water Oct. 17 when 30 of some of the best Marin County water skiers appear in a show "Halloween Aqua Follies" in San Antonio Creek near Novato.

Performers in the show, which opens at noon at Mira Monte Marina, will be dressed as ballerinas, skeltons, devils, witches and cats.

Among them will be Mike Suyderhoud of San Anselmo, 1965 boys national overall champion, and Wally Pallack of Sunnyvale who is chief instructor at Masters Water Ski School at the Marina, organizers of the event.

Others taking part will be Bobbie Miller of San Rafael, 1964 western regional champion; Dr. Frank Denby of Terra Linda and his three children, Michelle, Steven and Frankie; and Carl Boivie, of Bel Marin Keys, and his children, Sharon, Bobby and Larry.

Proceeds will be used to send one or more skiiers to the 1966 U.S. National Water Ski Championships in Miami, Fla.

Handicapped Week

Mayor C. Paul Bettini has proclaimed this "Employ the Handicapped Week" in San Rafael to call attention to the need for continued support of programs to increas opportunities for qualified handicapped workers.

Police Arrest On Purse Theft

A 16-year-old Novato youth was charged with robbery Friday night by San Rafael police in connection with a purse snatching at a street fair on Mitchell avenue in Terra Linda.

The victim, Lorraine Pauline Langford of 45 Unionstone Drive, Marinwood, reported to police her purse, containing three $10 and one $5 bill and credit cards, was taken at 9:40 p.m.

A short time later, police arrested the youth walking north on Highway 101 near the Hamilton AFB turnoff. The suspect, who matched Miss Langford's description, had three $10 and one $5 bill in his wallet which he threw away as officers approached, police said.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Oct. 4, the 277th day of 1965 with 88 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase: the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1854, Abraham Lincoln made his first great political speech at the state fair in Springfield, Ill.

In 1958, transatlantic commercial jet flights began.

In 1960, 61 persons were killed when an Eastern Airlines Electra crashed in Boston Harbor.

In 1962, President Kennedy announced the U.S. would block ships of all nations trying to travel to Cuba.

A thought for the day — Abraham Lincoln said: "Why should there not be a patient confidence in the ultimate justice of the people."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Next-Day Conversation Is When The Card-Player Really Shines

More good plays are made in conversation than at the bridge table.

When you're talking about the right play the next day remember the first rule: Don't say directly whether or not you personally made the brilliant play.

Opening lead — ♡ Q

West opened the queen of hearts, declarer put up the king, and East covered with the ace.

South ruffed and led the queen of spades to force out the king.

LOOK WHO'S TALKING

"With the king of hearts out of the dummy," East commented at lunch the next day, "it was very tempting to lead a heart back. That would give South the contract. South knocks out the ace of spades, sets up the diamonds and gets rid of two clubs on dummy's diamonds."

"Then how do you beat the hand?" one of the lunch experts asked.

The second rule of bridge conversation is to invite one straight man to lunch to make sure that the right questions are asked.

ONE WAY

"When I took the first trump trick there was only one way to defeat the contract," East pointed out. "I had to return a club, right up to dummy's ace-queen."

Notice that East didn't say he returned a club. If you have good judgment you'll know what East did; and if you have good taste you won't ask any embarrassing questions.

East's statement is quite true.

He is sure to win two trumps and a diamond, so must make sure of a club trick to defeat the contract. East leads a club on taking the king of trumps and another club on taking the ace of trumps.

When East gets in with the king of diamonds he cashes a club.

What did East actually return when he took the king of spades?

I'm no squealer, but I'm glad I played the king of hearts from dummy at the first trick.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:

♠ A K 2
♡ A 8 7 5 3
◆ K 2
♣ K J 5

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart.

The hand is too strong for an opening bid of one notrump since it not only has a count of 18 points but also a five-card suit. If partner responds one notrump to one heart you can raise to three notrump.

Manzanita Lake in Lassen Volcanic National Park came from "little apple," diminutive of manzana (apple). This characteristic shrub of California mountain areas has little red berries, resembling apples, hence the Spanish name.

LEGAL NOTICE
NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Planning Commission has announced its intention to hold a public hearing to consider an amendment to Title 22 (Zoning) of the Marin County Code, which amendment would classify those properties in the unincorporated areas of the County of Marin which are currently subject to Ordinance #217 and #235 as amended. The amendment would place all lands in unincorporated areas under one zoning law (instead of two as now exists) in the following manner:

1. All "Zone A" lands to be classified as M-1-H (Light Industrial District with Highway Frontage Regulations) and/or an A-2:B-? (Limited Agricultural District in combination with appropriate "B" regulations controlling principally lot sizes).

2. All "Zone B" lands to be classified as H-1 (Limited Roadside Business District) and/or C-1-H (Retail Business District with Highway Frontage Regulations).

3. All "Zone D" lands to be classified as A-2 (Limited Agricultural District) and/or A-2:B-? (Limited Agricultural District in combination with appropriate "B" regulations controlling principally lot sizes).

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that the Planning Commission intends that the proposed classifications will not deter or prevent specific studies from proceeding at a later time, which may indicate different or more precise reclassification in the areas affected, and states such action is occasioned by the necessity to simplify administrative procedures and eliminate the archaic and unrealistic zoning controls contained in Ordinance #217 and #235 as amended.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that said public hearing will be held at the hour of 2:00 p.m., Monday, October 18, 1965, in the Planning Commission Hearing Room, Room 311, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, at which time and place any and all persons interested therein may appear and be heard thereon.

Three Death Row Inmate Win Retrials

Three inmates on San Quentin's Death Row will have new trials as a result of decisions handed down Friday by the State Supreme Court.

Two of the trials will be to determine guilt and the other to set the penalty for a condemned man who, the court said, had been denied a fair penalty hearing.

In identical 4-3 votes, the court ordered new trials for Richard Price, 21, of Sacramento and Robert A. Anderson, 36, of San Jose, on the grounds they had not been advised of their constitutional rights to remain silent and have counsel during police questioning.

A new penalty trial will be held for Harold A. Spencer, 36, of Los Angeles because, the court stated, both the prosecutor and the judge told the jury he could be paroled in seven years if sentenced to life imprisonment.

Spencer still stands convicted of murder. He has been in Death Row since August 1962.

New trials were denied for two other prisoners, Dovie Carl Mathis, 28, of Palo Alto and William E. Cotter Jr., 25, of Bellflower, Los Angeles County.

They had appealed on the grounds of denial of constitutional rights. The court said that a statement made by Mathis without counsel was not a confession and that Cotter had made three voluntary confessions before entering police premises.

Sewage In Home When Pipe Blocked

San Rafael firemen had to be called at 9:31 a.m. yesterday to help mop out the home of William J. Silva, 8 Lenglen Avenue, after a plugged sewer line caused raw sewage to back up and flood the house.

Workers at Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District office said that flooding is not uncommon in hillside homes in the district. The sewer in the street was stopped and sewage from homes above the flooded one rose in the pipes inside the house.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Aorta, Body's Largest Vessel, Is Blood Carrier From Heart

VAN DELLEN

The aorta is the largest blood vessel in the body. It commences at the upper part of the left ventricle and after ascending for a short distance, arches backward and slightly to the left. It then descends through the chest and abdomen until it reaches the pelvis, where it branches into the two leg arteries.

It is more than an inch in diameter and is the main trunk from which all the vessels convey oxygenated blood to tissues of the body. The first two branches are the coronary arteries that supply the heart muscle with blood. The next few branches stem from the arch of the aorta and go to the arms, neck, and brain. From here on, many branches transport the blood from the main trunk to the various organs. These are named after the organs they service.

RECENTLY we received a letter in which a reader wanted to know the symptoms and treatment of a hardened aorta. This common affliction of the vessel and the hardening process is comparable to the accumulation of rust on the lining of a pipe. It may take years before enough rust accumulates to interfere with the flow of water. During this time there is no indication of trouble. The situation is the same in the aorta. Many people live to a ripe old age and never realize they have arteriosclerosis of the aorta.

On the other hand, when the hardening process obstructs the opening of a branch, the ensuing symptoms come from the organ that is deprived of blood. Chest pain occurs when the coronary arteries are affected.

SYMPTOMS of a minor or a major stroke take place when the vessels leading to the brain and arms are involved (aortic arch syndrome). The manifestations include dizziness, fainting, headache, convulsions, paralysis, transient episodes of blindness, and blood pressure changes in one arm.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HANDIWORK

S. T. writes: A relative of mine has a mild heart condition. Her hobby is knitting and crocheting, but her husband won't let her do these things. This upsets her. He claims that moving the hands and arms affects the muscles and valves leading to the heart and her handiwork will make it worse. Is this true?

REPLY

No. Knitting and crocheting are perfect pastimes for heart disease victims.

AGGRAVATES

R. B. writes: Does the overuse of tobacco, alcohol, or food bring on enlarged prostate in men over 50?

REPLY

No, but when enlargement is due to infection, alcohol and certain foods may aggravate the condition.

NOT A CLUE

Mrs. L. G. writes: Do narrow hips in a woman indicate she will have trouble during childbirth?

REPLY

Not necessarily, because the inner measurements are more important than outside measurements.

EYE REMODELING

J. P. writes: How does one get the eyes de-slanted?

REPLY

This is done via plastic surgery involving the skin of the eyelid.

REJUVENATION

V. D. writes: How can I bring back the sparkle to my eyes?

REPLY

Be born again and look on the brighter side of life.

Why a prominent banker urges you to buy Savings Bonds

"My service as Chairman of the ABA Savings Bonds committee provided a unique vantage point from which to observe how Savings Bonds, as a non-inflationary method of financing the public debt, benefit every American by helping to maintain the value of the dollar.

"And in almost 25 years as a Savings Bonds volunteer I have seen again and again how Savings Bonds help individual families by providing a steady, dependable, guaranteed way to save.

"Recognizing these contributions to our national and individual economic strength, bankers have been among the most enthusiastic supporters of the Savings Bonds program since its inception in 1941."

Marina Lease Removed From Council Agenda

A proposal for an option to lease Mill Valley's yacht harbor for a proposed three-million-dollar private development will not be heard by city councilmen tonight.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said Saturday he will ask the council to set a "workshop session" at another date, to explore the request. He had reported Wednesday the option request would be before the council Monday at its 8 p.m. meeting. Option is sought by Paul B. Fischer of Corona De Mar, Orange County.

The Council will hold a hearing on a request for tentative subdivision map approval from William S. Allen of Sausalito for a proposed 15-unit "cluster type" development to be built in Blithedale Canyon near Manzanita Place.

Fairfax Trustees

The Fairfax School District will meet at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow at Manor School. The board will hear a continuing report on the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 and act on several requests for transfer of funds from one account to another.

TELEVISION REVIEW

World Series Time With Vin Scully

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The weekend clinching of the National League pennant by the Los Angeles Dodgers saved ABC-TV from having to choose today between covering a baseball playoff or Pope Paul's New York visit.

The next national television baseball broadcast will be the World Series, which, barring rain, will be seen Wednesday when NBC-TV presents the first game with the Dodgers at Minnesota.

Regardless of one's team attachments, one of the more pleasant attractions of the World Series is the fact that broadcasting's finest baseball announcer, Vin Scully of the Dodgers — who turned down the New York Yankee job when Mel Allen left — will be calling the plays on NBC-TV.

Scully, who is regarded with such esteem in Los Angeles that it matches the hero worship accorded pitcher Sandy Koufax, is so highly thought of that Dodger Manager Walter Alston amusingly let him call several plays from the radio booth in Sunday's final game. The game, of course, was meaningless, coming the day after the pennant was wrapped up.

The unflappable Scully — as unflappable as NBC's Frank McGee — came through with a minor classic of sports broadcasting as he regaled not only the city of Los Angeles, but the fans in the stands who listened on transistor radios and knew in advance what the plays would be.

With a youngster named Willie Crawford on first base, Scully called for a hit-and-run play. Crawford stole second, and Scully announced:

'Well, now that we have stolen a base, I think we'll retire. Okay, Skip (Alston), we've gotten you this far — now you're on your own . . . funny thing, he didn't ask us anything about yesterday's game."

Another interesting aspect of the televised World Series is that Juan Marichal, the pitcher who was fined and suspended after slugging Dodger John Roseboro with a baseball bat — and who would have been the star hurler if his team, San Francisco, hadn't been edged out — will now be just a spectator.

THE CHANNEL SWIM—ABC-TV apparently has had some thoughts about Sal Mineo as host of another possible network rock 'n' roll show for next fall . . . CBS-TV, meanwhile, was reported to have made some overtures to Melina Mercouri — who had a special about Greece not long ago — to do another, this one about courtship around the world.

Natural Science Forum Planned

"Teaching the Natural Sciences" will be the theme of a Fall science conference Saturday at Vallecito School, Terra Linda, co-sponsored by Marin County Superintendent of Schools Office and the Louise A. Boyd Museum.

Dr. Robert Stebbins, professor of zoology at the University of California, Berkeley will speak at the general session on "Natural Sciences in the Classroom" which opens the conference at 9 a.m.

Among others conducting section meetings are Gordon Chan, instructor of marine biology and Kenneth Miller, geology instructor, both of College of Marin.

Malaysian Citizen To Discuss Events

T. Thangathurai of the Asian Foundation will speak on "The Malaysian Situation Today" Oct. 21 at 8 p.m. at St. Stephen's Church, Belvedere.

A native of Kuala Lampur, Malaysia, Thangathurai for the past five years has worked as broadcaster and producer for Radio and TV Malaysia. He is now assistant editor of "The Asian Student" for the foundation. The program is sponsored by the St. Stephen's Guild.

Students' Radio Club Plans Net

Plans to establish an amateur radio net were laid at the school year's first meeting of the Redwood High School Amateur Radio Club, announced Fred Broemmer, mathematics teacher and club adviser.

The net will be made up of amateur stations operated by the club members. No station will be established at the school for lack of funds, Broemmer said.

Greg Brahms of Corte Madera was elected club president: Art Dinsmore of Larkspur, vice president, and Dan Marshall of Tiburon, secretary-treasurer.

The Mount Tamalpais - Muir Woods Railroad (originally the Mill Valley - Mount Tamalpais Scenic Railway) ceased operations in 1929.

Redwood High Drama Tryouts Slated Soon

Production dates will be Nov. 19 and 20. Try-outs will be held as soon as scripts arrive, said Wadlington.

Marin Students Like Visiting In Europe

By NANCY DICKSON
Redwood High School

Bread and potatoes at almost every meal was one change five Redwood High School students adjusted to while spending their summers in European homes under the Youth for Understanding program.

Senior Kate Rothrock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rothrock of 10 Garden Road, San Anselmo, spent her summer with a family in northern Germany.

Because the family lived on a farm, she found herself doing such chores as picking vegetables in the family garden and riding five or six miles by bicycle to get to town. By the end of the summer Kate was considered not an American tourist, but a German.

Senior Ed Osborn, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Osborn of 38 Peninsula Road, Belvedere was in southern Holland for his 10 weeks under the YFU program.

For a month he got a chance to experience outdoor life in Holland while traveling to different parts of the country on bikes with his Dutch "brothers." "We often ran into big bicycle jams because of so many little old ladies cruising around," he said.

"Have you had enough to eat" was the usual question Junior Sue Girtler was asked while staying in southern Finland. Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Girtler of 158 Trinidad Drive, Tiburon, emphasized how worthwhile the program was for her—and "it was fun!" she added.

Five German "sisters" were part of senior Ann Bastians German family with whom she stayed for the summer.

Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bastian of 4 Hilarita Circle, Belvedere, found the family quite wealthy.

She said that in Germany it seemed that the prosperity of a family was judged by the number of bathrooms in the home.

Jacki Crisp experienced eating six times a day while she was in Rotterdam, Holland for the summer.

Jacki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crisp of 15 Semircle Ave., Corte Madera, spent two weeks of her Holland visit in a castle with her two "sisters," 200 other teen-agers, and one chaperon.

While in Holland, Jacki said, the most wonderful moment for her was when someone asked her, "Do you speak English?"

Chess Club Forms

The Redwood Chess Club, open to all students, has been organized at Redwood High School and meets twice a week. James Dinsmore of Larkspur is club president.

Teacher At Parley

Redwood High School counselor Richard Frakes has been selected as one of the five West Coast delegates to a "get acquainted" conference at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Exchange Leader To Visit Marin

Walter Kaiser of Preetz, Germany, who was instrumental in establishing the Redwood High School-Preetz student exchange, will visit the Redwood campus Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

In a letter to Redwood Principal Donald Kreps, Kaiser expressed his desire to see the campus, meet and talk with students, and become acquainted with the operation of the school. Redwood senior Duncan Williams, who studied in Preetz last year as part of the School Affiliation Service exchange, will guide Kaiser on a tour of the school and attend several classes with him.

In Preetz, Kaiser is president of the Preetz-Blandford Friendship Club, which sponsors a direct exchange between Preetz and an English school. The possibility of this exchange being enlarged to include Redwood in a three-way program is being studied.

Redwood Parents Due In Annual Open House

Redwood High School's "Back to School Night" will be held on Wednesday evening.

An abbreviated school "day" has been planned for the parents, who will be equipped with their child's personal program card and a map of the school buildings. Registration will be at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Worms are annelids.

Drake Summer School Program Is Revised

A major revision of Sir Francis Drake High School's summer school program may mean that students can complete a regular two-semester, 10-unit, course during the summer.

Until now, the summer school has offered largely remedial and supplementary courses. Only one-semester required courses could be taken in summer school.

Principal Harold Allison explained that decision to alter the summer school program is Tamalpais High School District-wide, but application will vary in the three schools.

A 10-unit, year's course, such as United States history, would require attendance four hours daily for four weeks or two hours daily for the full session.

A course such as driver education, which requires only 30 class hours, might be offered for one hour a day throughout the session or during a four-hour period for just 7½ days.

Variety of courses to be offered and exact scheduling will depend upon several factors, Allison said.

Make-up courses and electives formerly offered in summer school will still be included, he added.

Chilly Science Aids In Television Tubes

CHICAGO (UPI) — Cryogenics, the science of ultralow temperatures, has emerged from the laboratory and become worldwide business. Liquid nitrogen (-320 degrees F.) for example, is used in vacuum-pumping products ranging from TV picture tubes to space-simulation chambers.

The nitrogen fills a metal container called a "cold trap" placed in the line between the vacuum pump and the system being evacuated. Moisture and condensible gases which could break into the vacuum or reduce the efficiency of the pump are frozen on the cold trap and easily removed. The process is called "cryopumping."

Educator Turns Table On School

BAGGS, Wyo. (UPI) — A proposal to increase the property tax levy in the Little Snake River school district around Baggs was defeated by one vote. That one vote was cast by the district's superintendent of schools, Wesley Morrow.

The vote to incerase the levy was approved by property owners, 18-10. But among non-property owners it failed, 1-0. Morrow was the only non-property owner woting in the election. Wyoming law requires a bond issue or tax increase to be approved by both classes of property owners.

Morrow explained his vote to the school board: "I felt in a long range plan, it wasn't what the people wanted . . . for our small enrollment and small school we can manage on the funds we have."
